PREFACE

The sixth edition of Chinese Universities and Colleges is intended for foreign readers interested in basic information on contemporary Chinese higher education institutions. It is particularly compiled for those overseas higher education institutions that have international students, scholars and cooperative projects or programs from and with the People's Republic of China, and need to check their previous higher education backgrounds in China. It is also a very useful directory for those foreign individuals who desire to find teaching opportunities, and academic programs for international students in Chinese colleges and universities.

This edition contains listings of 841 regular higher education institutions (four-year and up) officially recognized by the Ministry of Education of the People's Republic of China. It does not include those junior colleges of the higher vocational-technical education, adult higher education institutions and military academies. Nor does it include higher education institutions in Taiwan, Hong Kong and Macao. It is based on the information provided in questionnaires collected, and the information updated till December 2012.

It is our hope that foreign readers will find this directory a comprehensive and indispensable resource in learning contemporary Chinese colleges and universities.

How to use the directory

The 31 Provinces, municipalities and autonomous regions listed are arranged in the alphabetical order. In the sections of the each province, municipality or autonomous region, the individual colleges and universities are arranged in the same order. For readers unfamiliar with locations of the interested colleges and universities, we attach an Index of Chinese Universities & Colleges in which all the institutions located in different places are also arranged alphabetically. There are some useful appendices at the back of the directory. The institutions that had been merged or name-changed from 2007 to December 2012 are listed in Appendix I. To search institution by specialties, for readers' convenience, we purposely add the searching functions based on the disciplines and specialties in Appendix II. This index is made in accordance with the catalog of disciplines and specialties published by the Academic Degree Committee of the State Council of China. In the Appendices III and IV, we list the key universities involved in the China 985 Project and 211 Project, in which the former is a constructive project for founding world-class universities in the 21st century conducted by the government of the People's Republic of China and launched in 1998, and the latter was launched in 1995 with US $ 2.3 billion provided for infrastructure and curriculum development of universities by the Ministry of Education of People's Republic of China. At the end of the appendices, we provide a List of Model Senior High Schools in China in Appendix V that will be a reference for the overseas higher education institutions to admit students from China.

The universities and colleges in the edition mainly offer bachelor and higher degrees. In the item of Degree Program for the higher education institutions, the specialties are marked in the brackets with symbols representing Bachelor(B), Master(M), Doctor(D) and Key specialty(K).

There is an attached CD that stores the whole information in the directory.

Acknowledgements

This book was compiled through enormous efforts of many departments, institutions and individuals. First of all, we owe our sincere thanks to all the universities and colleges listed in the directory for their time and effort, without which this directory could not be possible. We also gratefully acknowledge many provincial education commissions for their prompt assistance in providing the materials we find indispensable for the directory.

Brief Introduction to China Education Association for International Exchange

Founded in 1981, China Education Association for International Exchange (CEAIE) is China's nationwide not-for-profit organization conducting international educational exchanges and cooperation. Its headquarters is located in Beijing.

CEAIE has a full commitment to meeting the needs of China's modernization construction, developing exchanges and cooperation between the Chinese educational community and other parts of the world, promoting the advancement of education, culture, science and technology, and strengthening understanding and friendship among the peoples of all countries and regions of the world.

The activities CEAIE currently carries out are to support major People-to-People dialogue and exchange mechanisms between China and US, China and Russia, China and UK and China EU respectively, provides quality assurance service on China-Foreign cooperative programs to CEAIE members and holds the China Annual Conference for International Education and the International Education Expo.

CEAIE has provincial associations for international exchanges in 31 provinces, autonomous regions and municipalities as well as local chapters in 16 major cities. Its members include institutions from entire education sector in China.

CEAIE has established a wide network with partner associations and institutions at home and long-term working relationship with over 170 educational organizations in more than 50 countries and regions.

CEAIE has been granted the Special Consultative Status with the Economic and Social Council of the United Nations and established the official relations with UNESCO.

The current CEAIE President is Mr. Zhang Xincheng. The Secretariat of CEAIE, the executive body, undertakes its day-to-day operations. The current office is located in Beijing, China.
