Population Growth in America and Wildlife Protection

美国人口增长及野生动植物保护

书面表达

Directions:

- A. Study the following graphs carefully and write an essay in at least 150 words.
- B. Your essay should cover these three points:
1. effect of the country's growing human population on its wildlife
 2. possible reasons for the effect
 3. your suggestion for wildlife protection

参考范文

As is clearly shown by the two graphs since 1800, with the rapid growth of the U. S. population, the number of species of wildlife no longer existing shot up, adding up to 70 in 1990. Obviously, the population explosion resulted in the sharp decline of wildlife in this country.

There are two main reasons for this effect. One is that, with the rapid growth of population, people need more and more land to grow crops, to build houses to live in. As a result, there is less and less land and space for the wildlife. Another important reason lies in the fact that a host of newly built factories constantly discharge harmful gases and liquids, which heavily pollute the environment. This pollution, together with other factors, has resulted in a serious ecological problem. All these have made it more and more difficult for the wildlife to survive. Therefore, the population increases while more and more species of wildlife become extinct.

To solve the problem mentioned above, I suggest that the government should take some strong and effective measures such as heightening people's awareness of wildlife protection, keeping population growth under reasonable control, and making as much effort as it can to restore and create more suitable reserves for the survival and development of wildlife. In a word, if the government and the whole society really realize the problem, pay attention to it, and work together on it, there is certain to be an encouraging prospect in wildlife protection.

Saving Wildlife Animals 拯救野生动物

书面表达

Directions:

For this part, you are allowed 30 minutes to write a composition on the topic "Saving Animals". You should write at least 150 words following the outline given below:

1. 资源的开发影响了自然界中的野生动物;
2. 很多动物登上了濒临灭绝物种的名单;
3. 保护野生动物应该采取的行动。

参考范文

Resource development impacts on native wildlife, especially in forest areas which are logged and then cleared for agriculture. The increasing human population creates demands for resources leading to the continual encroachment of wildlife habitat areas.

Many animal species are on the endangered list and the number is growing every year. Human activity is the major cause of this and one factor is the pollution of river systems which affects the survival of all the animal life dependent on that water. The use of chemicals in the agriculture industry is also affecting the survival of many other species including domestic animals.

Action that helps save wildlife animals is the establishment of projects designed to protect the habitat of particular species. Providing research stations, as is the case with the panda population in China and gorillas in Africa, helps in gaining a better understanding of wildlife. Many organisations are very proactive in encouraging governments to implement legislation to protect animals. The campaign to save the whales has had a lot of publicity resulting in much wider public and government awareness.

Dear Sir or Madam,

Yesterday, I took train K121 from Shanghai to Wuhan. When the train arrived at Wuhan station, I left my suitcase in the 3rd compartment of train K121. I was so tired that I slept in the train. When the train arrived at the terminal station, I was so anxious that I forgot my personal belongings in my seat.

The suitcase is square, black, and made of leather. Or there is a metal handle to which a label is tied. And my name is written on the label. Inside the suitcase, there is a digital camera made in Japan, several dozens of crackers, and two blue jeans. Besides those, there is an English Chinese dictionary and two Japanese books at the bottom of the suitcase. In the back packet is a purse with several bank cards and an identification card.

This suitcase is very important to me, so I am writing to you for help anxiously. And I hope you and your staff can help me to find this suitcase. Your kindness will be greatly appreciated. If you have any information about this, please contact me as soon as possible. And my mobile phone number is 13554678998.

Yours sincerely,
Emily
