

A cartoon illustration of a brown monkey with a large, expressive face, jumping joyfully in a zoo enclosure. The monkey is positioned in the lower center, with its arms and legs spread wide. A yellow speech bubble above its head contains the text "The door is open." The enclosure is bounded by a tall metal fence with vertical bars. In the background, there is a large tree with a plaid trunk and a green canopy, and a body of water. The ground is green with some small plants and a path. The sky is a mix of purple and blue, suggesting dusk or dawn.

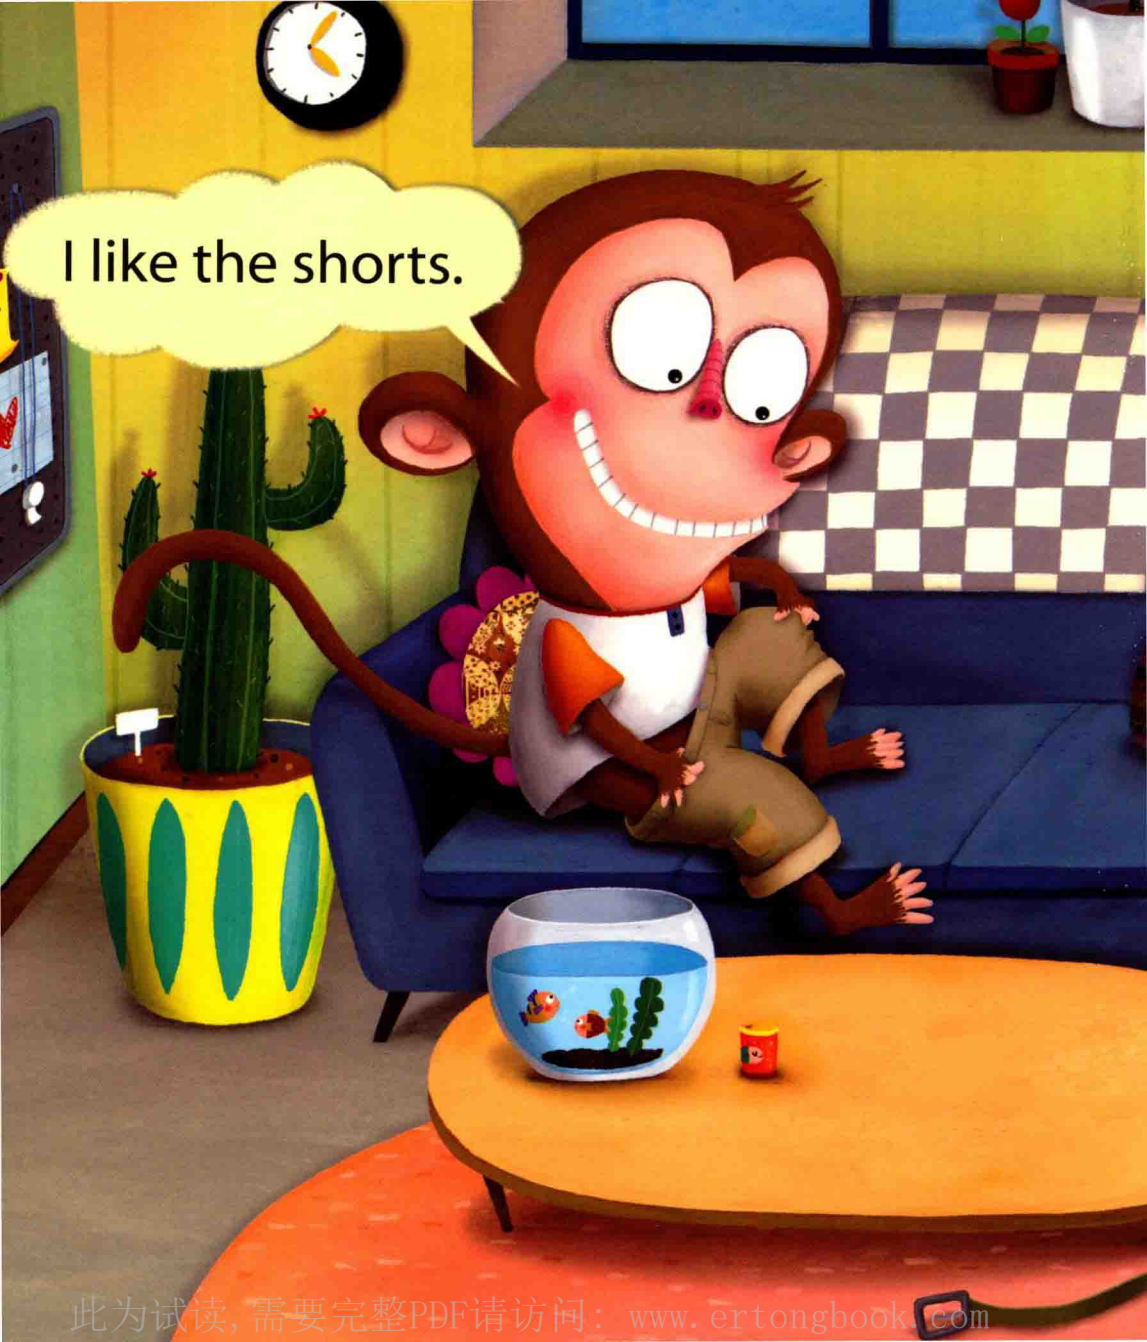

The door is open.
