傅雷致傅聪函——长卷前半部分（一九六一年六月二十六日）

親愛的傅雷先生：六月二十一日收到你的信，我非常感谢。你所提出的修改意见，我已照办了。但你所讲的“修改”的方法，我并不完全同意。因为我认为，修改应该是一种艺术创作，而不是一种技术性的处理。在修改过程中，应该考虑到文章的风格、语气、语调等各方面因素，而不仅仅是字句的改动。所以，我建议你以后在修改时，能够更注意这些方面的问题。

你提到的“修改”的方法，我理解为是“润色”，即通过润色使文章更加流畅、自然、生动。这当然也是很重要的，但我个人觉得，润色应该是在文章已经写好之后进行的，而不是在写作过程中就进行修改。

一个节目，你该用功的。但你不能不自己选择，自己决定，自己负责。我不能干涉你，但你不能不自己负责。我不能干涉你，但你不能不自己负责。我不能干涉你，但你不能不自己负责。我不能干涉你，但你不能不自己负责。我不能干涉你，但你不能不自己负责。

Dearest Mira,

I will feel guilty if sending Taim a long letter in Chinese without giving you a few lines in English. It's not only a duty for me to write to both my children, but also an important impulse to express my kind feelings & deep love to you, my daughter! How could we give 10 months think of "my most beautiful darling" of you at the same time? In our heart, you have become already one, and it's quite understandable. Yet to help Taim not to forget his Chinese, I must write him more in Chinese. So you see, I am obliged to write two letters, excepting I would like to send you very much.

Suppose you have four 10 days in Both the and have had a delightful holiday as described by Taim, we enjoyed so much our ourselves have had an exhilarating vacation too, where are you going to "have the greatest vacation" in August?

Mother & I are both very glad to see that Taim keeps interested in practical life, which is certainly a good effect of your lesson. Since your marriage, I feel Taim is more confident of himself, getting more power of mind, body and soul the whole. However, his will power is still weak except in his art, and it shows that you are not very strong on this side either. Better keep always this point in your mind. Try to fortify each other, a self discipline, reasonable reservation, maintain the house, any systematic routine in your house, keeping everything in order. You are so young, all this is not so easy to carry out & it is carry on continuously; yet cultivating the good habits & strengthening the will power are always doable, you will profit by it in the long run.

When one (especially in the West) has no religious faith, the moral principle becomes automatically the sole code of life. Most European are annoyed by the fact that we Chinese without a religion (in the sense of Christianity) could in fact maintain an orderly, peaceful & civilized society throughout so many centuries. The secret is that no people in the world has been brought up with more healthy ideals than the Chinese does since his childhood. You may have perceived that for the person of Taim. Our moral principles doesn't consist to a narrow view which boycotts others the "proudly" - in the West, but rather in broadmindedness of view, i.e. conviction of leading an honorable life without expecting any reward, material or spiritual, as the Chinese always hoping for a paradise; we are convinced that man ought to be good for goodness' sake, for human's sake, for justice's sake, neither fearing any eternal punishment nor for benefiting any eternal bliss. In this sense, the Chinese is the genuinely optimistic people in the civilized world. A really well-bred person in China, imbued with our best tradition & culture, becomes naturally, almost unconsciously disinterested in material success, more or less detached of the worldly vanities, easily contented with a sober, neither poor (materially), but however life. Do you think this kind of attitude beautiful and ideal?

Dear child, have you ever thought over the question I wrote from Montevideo in my letter E-15.17: "les hommes sont comme les plantes que ne croissent jamais haies et que ne sont pas cueillies"? — If you like to be a "fine, well-grown" & take Montevideo's advice, it's high time to start your self-cultivation. To begin with, maybe you can profit the time when Taim is far away for example to read some serious things. I suggest two books for your summer reading: Taine's Philosophie de l'Histoire and Etienne's Le Monde sous Ptolémée (as I have double copy of the latter given by the author, I'll send you one); the former for instruction on art & on general history of the culture, the latter for your acquaintance with ancient Chinese

If you can get from a second-hand book shop a copy of "Conquest of Happiness" by Bertrand Russell, do read it carefully. Though written some thirty years ago, the book is still salutary for modern readers as being full of wisdom & philosophical remarks which will never be out of date. Hope you will finish the reading of Jean-Christophe too. A young housewife like you has much trouble to keep on and for a life-long period the task of self-education. I easily imagine how busy you are, yet the task is worthwhile to fight for. When returning next April, I am still "struggling" to learn something daily (studying the English). And as I told you before, Mrs. Bernstein is so busy as every housewife in middle class, yet she succeeds in continuing her piano practice (only 1 to 1½ hours per day, it's little, but it counts after so long a time) in being able to give concerts & recordings. This kind of courage & will power is really admirable, nearly heroic!

We would like to talk with you about your own Mother long ago, but we do not approach the subject without some preliminary knowledge. Now that Ting told us that you are in regular career guidance with your Jean-Mother, we are eager to pay her respects through you. No body is so near to us, whose mind we never get into contact with each other, than the dear Mumma of our dear Mira; instinctively we feel affectionately inclined to her, caring to know everything about her, her health, life, feelings, happiness, etc. So do please transmit her at the earliest opportunity our best & sincerest wishes. Maybe you hadn't realized how highly we Chinese estimate & cherish the relatives in general & such relatives as your Mumma & us in particular. The Chinese folks do not express their sentiments externally & manifestly as do the Europeans, yet the sentiments as shown are no less warm neither less deep. If possible, we like have a photo of your mother. It will give us greatest pleasure.

On receiving this letter, please tell immediately the HARRODS to send us in the next parcel (you July) the less costly ~~the~~ ^{200 tablets of ULTRACARBON} to send us in the next parcel (you July) the less costly ~~the~~ ^{200 tablets of ULTRACARBON} - If you want despatched separately "MERCK" as I required in E-mail (May 18), will you include the medicines in the next post parcel? As for the other details - something to omit, something to add, please re-read my last letter - E-mail June 14.

Be kind enough, Dear Daughter, to give us a temporary list of Ting's engagements for next season (with dates!). Has he no concert at all in June-July after Book Festival? Tell me whether his recording entitled for July 14-23 will take place in London? Since for solo only, there will be greater place for Vienna, isn't it? Do remind Ting to send a copy of his new "Ballads on Westminister" to Mrs. Bernstein!

Mother has something to tell you too. Ting has to translate her letters for you. She especially likes it to know if the size of shirts you buy lastly is suitable. We have no nice things to give you, but as regards the Chinese proverbs the presents are very slight, only the affection is very deep!

Hope to have your letter very soon. Much love to you,
Dear Daughter!

Fafaf.

P.S. Make Ting tell you the general idea of my letter in Chinese, & let him send this one too.

傅雷致儿媳[ZAMIRA]英文函——长卷后半部分(一九六一年六月二十七日)

Before you have any means to collect a whole series of press opinions in the States on Ts'ong, is it possible to get me a few samples of more or less authoritative critics? You understand well how eager we are to know the first reactions Ts'ong aroused in America by his playing.

We are planning to send to London (in care of your Daddy, 2, the Grove) two to four parcels of music scores belonging to Ts'ong every month since now, so that you can all of them in returning. A parcel of New year gifts was (have) already despatched to your father; as to those for you, they will be sent in January. In next month, there will be a few Chinese paintings by modern artists specially commissioned by me for your Daddy to send out.

Nice idea to take a rest at the end of the year in Honouloulou. I'm certain the Pacific sun is more reliable than that on the Atlantic or Mediteranean Sea. By the time you get the present letter, probably you are somewhere in Colorado or California.

All our best wishes for your success and good health! and much love to you both! Try your best to take care of yourself!

《傅雷家书》傅雷百年诞辰纪念版序言

二〇〇七年十二月二日，傅聪在香港大会堂举行独奏会。一如既往，会场上坐满了心仪演奏家超卓琴艺的听众，屏息静气中，期待着钢琴诗人的演出。

傅聪出场了，颀长的身影，在如雷掌声中，缓缓地，凝重地，一步又一步走向钢琴；然后，又缓慢地，庄重地，扶着琴边，坐了下来；接着，他聚精会神，舒展双手，开始弹奏，一片洋溢诗情的乐韵琴声，迅即流泻出来，如清泉，如甘露，滋润了每一位听众的心田。

那天，傅聪弹奏的是德彪西的《英雄摇篮曲》、海顿的《c 小调第三十三奏鸣曲》（作品 Hob XVI: 20）、萧邦的《三首玛祖卡》（作品五十九号）与《升 F 大调船歌》（作品六十号），以及舒伯特的《降 B 大调奏鸣曲》（作品 D960）。这些精致优美而又成熟复杂的乐曲，在演奏家倾注了生命力的演绎下，显得如梦如幻，如诗如歌，既活泼又典雅，既抒情又激昂。

演奏完毕，钢琴家再次扶着琴边，慢慢起身致意，徐徐步入后台。听众再次以如雷掌声，要求“再奏一曲”，傅聪亦不负众望，加奏一阙。令全场听众如痴如醉，尽兴而归。

这是一场扣人心弦的超水平演出，一切都完美无疵，唯独演奏家的行动似乎显得特别迟缓，“毕竟是岁月留痕了”，有的评论家事后说。

那天，众人只看到台前的精彩演出，而不知后台的动人故事。原来，傅聪在来港演奏前不足一周，不慎在成都机场摔了一跤，导致右边两根肋骨断裂，其痛楚可想而知。但是为了承诺，为了信誉，为了对艺术的追求与执着，他仍然坚决扶伤来港，忍痛演出。十二月二日在场聆听的观众，可有人知道钢琴家在琴键上十指如飞地演出时，每一个音符的弹奏，每一个指键的接触，是付出了多大的努力，忍受了多大的痛苦，才换取得来？

演奏完毕的台后，演奏家热汗淋漓，渗透了捆绑身上的医疗背心，这是国内医院为傅聪伤后特制的护甲。就是带着这样的护甲，他坚持来港，坚持练琴，坚持演出，且不让人知道实况。“人不知而不愠，不亦君子乎”，这是钢琴家身体力行的人生价值，早在当年父亲傅雷给他上第一课《论语》时，已深植心中。的确，对傅聪来说，艺术的大任既然放在眼前，个人的伤痛早已置诸脑后了。

曾经有人说，翻译是“戴着镣铐起舞”，那么，那天亲眼目睹的却是演奏家“戴着镣铐奏乐”，于是不由得不想起，傅雷与傅聪，这身为翻译家与演奏家的一父一子，在心灵上、精神上、思想行为上，真如一双互相映照的镜子，他们之间的交流与共鸣，早在《傅雷家书》的字里行间已展露无遗了。
