录音原文:

1. M: Can I see the doctor soon?
W: Of course. How about next Monday? There's a slot available at 10 in the morning.
M: I'm afraid I'm working at 10. Is there anything available after 3?
W: Let me see. Not on Monday, but we have a 3 o'clock opening next Wednesday.
Would you like to come in then?
M: No problem. Thank you.
Q: When is the man scheduled to see the doctor?
2. W: What kind of pain is it? Can you describe the pain?
M: It's terrible, like a knife stabbing me.
Q: What kind of pain is the man suffering from?
3. W: We'll throw Tom a bachelor party.
M: Then count me in.
W: Great. Be at our house at 8 pm, and bring your own booze.

- Q: What is true about Tom?
4. M: I've got an idea. Let's order a pizza.
W: Great. I second that notion.
Q: What does the woman mean?
5. M: Jack got himself in a bind with his girlfriend.
W: He shouldn't have told her that Debra was pretty.
Q: What can be inferred from this conversation?
6. M: I don't think you need to take an umbrella.
W: It might rain, better safe than sorry.
Q: What does the woman mean?
7. W: Joe is always trying to make waves.
M: Right. He is really a jerk.
Q: What do the speakers think of Joe?
8. M: OK. So that would be 800 dollars plus 60 dollars in overtime, right?
W: Right, so my paycheck should be 860 dollars, but only 830 dollars were put into my account.
M: Sorry about that. I'll record the mistake today and wire the money into your account first thing tomorrow morning.
Q: How much will the man wire into the woman's account?
9. W: Why don't you try smoking one cigarette less each day, as well as going jogging every morning?
M: Good idea, but I don't want to go jogging in the street and a treadmill may be a better choice. I'm sure the trainers at the gym would be able to give me more professional advice.
W: That sounds good. There is one near my company. I am its regular member.
M: Really? I will go in to have a look.
Q: What is the man most likely to do?
10. M: There're only 100 passengers on this airplane.
W: That leaves 132 empty seats.
Q: How many seats are there on this airplane?
11. W: How was your date with Mary?
M: She was very nice and pretty, but I just don't have chemistry with her.
Q: What does the man mean?
12. W: How about the game of tennis?
M: OK, loser'll take out the trash for a month.
W: It's a deal.
M: See you in the court.
Q: What are the speakers going to do next?

13. M: It seems to be your source of comfort to pray when you are on your own at night.
 W: Yes, it is. I don't know what I will do if I didn't have faith.
 M: I know it's important for you to be able to pray. That is why I need to find a way for you to say your prayers and yet be sure the other patients are not awakened.
 Q: Where does the conversation most probably take place?
14. W: Oh, I couldn't possibly do that. I couldn't tell my husband and anyway, who'd look after him?
 M: I can understand your concerns. If you knew that he would have come here today, what do you think he would say?
 M: He'd be so worried. He doesn't like it when anyone is sick and he hates hospitals.
 M: Well, you might also think about what you would say to your sister and daughter?
 Q: What can be inferred about the woman?
15. M: Do you work?
 W: I'm a dressmaker, but I haven't worked for a year.
 M: Then how can you manage to live without working?
 W: I have a tenant.
 M: Do you often worry about things?
 W: I used to worry but not now. I know it's not worth it.
 Q: What is true about the woman?

Section B 由一篇长对话和两篇短文组成，目的在于测试考生对英语篇章的听力理解能力。要求考生能理解所听材料的中心思想和主要内容，并能根据所听到的内容进行逻辑推理、分析概括和归纳总结。考试过程中，考生听完每个长对话或短文后会听到 5 个问题，且篇章及问题只读一遍。对每道题考生有 12 秒的作答时间，要根据所听题目和篇章从四个选项中选出一个最佳答案。此部分共 15 道题，每题 1 分，共计 15 分。

Section B

- W: How are you now?
M: Not too good.
W: Are you still getting the pain?
M: Yes.
W: Well. The X-ray doctor found irritability and distortion of the duodenum although there was no actual ulcer visible on the X-ray. This does not necessarily mean that you have no duodenal ulcer. We have to decide the best way of treating it. There are two ways: medical and surgical. In young people, we try to avoid operations and we hope that medical means will help. Now, you did have a spell in hospital and it disappeared but now it started again. Has anyone in your family had an ulcer?
M: Yes, my father had one but it cleared up.
W: Well, this could be relevant as ulcers may run in the family. The other factors of course are smoking, worry and anxiety, irregular meals or overtiredness, overwork and stress. These all will effect an ulcer. Unfortunately, you have a lot of stress and worry at home, so I feel despite your being so young, putting you to bed for a few weeks isn't enough. I'd like you to see Mr. Okes. He has a great deal of experience with ulcers. And if he feels an operation is the answer, I think we should take his advice. Now, have you managed to do anything about your smoking?
M: I smoke about 50 a day.
W: How often do you get the pain now?
M: Every day.
W: Have you lost time from work because of it?
M: Yes. Nowadays here and there.
W: Well, make an appointment to see Mr. Okes, and I'll write to him and to your doctor.
M: Thank you, doctor.
16. What is the man suffering from?
17. To treat the disease mentioned in the talk, what would the doctor usually suggest a young patient do?
18. Which of the following is not mentioned as a contributing factor of the man's disease?
19. What can we say about the man considering the number of cigarettes he smokes?
20. What is the man going to do after the consultation?

Passage One

Across the industrialized world, women still live 5 to 10 years longer than men. Among people over 100 years old, 85% are women, according to Tom Perls, founder of the New England Centenarian Study at Boston University and creator of the website LivingTo100.com. Time.com asks him why.

Why do women live longer than men?

One important reason is the big delay — and advantage — women have over men in terms of cardiovascular disease, like heart attack and stroke. Women develop these problems usually in their 70s and 80s, about 10 years later than men. For a long time, doctors thought the difference was due to estrogen. But studies have shown that this may not be the case, and now we know that giving estrogen to women post-menopause can actually be bad for them.

One reason for that delay in onset of cardiovascular disease could be that women are relatively iron-deficient compared to men — especially younger women, those in their late teens and early 20s — because of menstruation. Iron plays a very important part in the reactions in our cells that produce damaging free radicals, which glom onto cell membranes and DNA, and may translate into aging the cell. In fact, in our diets, red meat is the main source of iron, and lack of iron is probably one major reason that being vegetarian is healthy for you. There was a very good study looking at the intake of red meat and heart disease in Leiden in the Netherlands: in regions where people didn't eat red meat, those populations had half the rate of heart attack and stroke compared to the populations that did eat red meat.

21. According to the passage, what is true about Tom Perls, founder of the New England Centenarian Study?
22. According to Tom Perls, which of the following might be an important reason that women live longer than men?
23. According to the passage, when do men usually develop cardiovascular disease?
24. Compared to men, which of the following is women relatively deficient in?
25. What might the next paragraph discuss?

Passage Two

Twenty years ago, Jeff Harris hardly seemed on the road to wealth. He was a college dropout who struggled to support his wife, DeAnn, and three kids, working as a grocery store clerk and at a junkyard where he melted scrap metal alongside convicts. "At times we were so broke that we washed our clothes in the bathtub because we couldn't afford the laundromat." Now he's a 49-year-old investment advisor and multimillionaire in York, South Carolina.

There was one big reason Jeff pulled ahead of the pack: He always knew he'd be rich. The reality is that 80 percent of Americans worth at least $5 million grew up in middle-class or lesser households, just like Jeff.

"Wanting to be wealthy is a crucial first step," says Harv Eker, author of Secrets of the Millionaire Mind. "The biggest obstacle to wealth is fear. People are afraid to think big, but if you think small, you'll only achieve small things."

It all started for Jeff when he met a stockbroker at a Christmas party. "Talking to him, it felt like discovering fire," he says. "I started reading books about investing during my breaks at the grocery store, and I began putting $25 a month in a mutual fund." Next he taught a class at a local community college on investing. His students became his first clients, which led to his investment practice. "There were lots of struggles," says Jeff, "but what got me through was believing with all my heart that I would succeed."

(二) 听力理解考试特点

通过对历年考题的分析, 可以看出听力理解考试有以下特点:

1. 听力材料内容兼顾日常交际与医学背景

在 Section A 里, 多数题目围绕日常对话展开, 大约 5~6 个题目涉及医学领域, 如去医院看病; 有时对话材料里也会提到医学常用词汇, 如常见病或症状。因而, 考生应该储备一定量的医学常用词汇, 但医学词汇不作为听力测试第一部分的主要考点。在 Section B 中, 医学为听力材料的主要背景, 涉及常见病症、医学常识等。

2. 题型较为常见且为客观选择题

无论是第一部分还是第二部分, 所有题目均为选择题, 这样的题型是考生较为熟悉的形式。而且考试测试点与其他重大英语考试类似: Section A 的题目以测试习惯用语、特殊句式、词组含义、细节与推断题为主, 详细的分析将在本章后面阐述; Section B 主要以测试细节为主。因而, 从题型上看, 考生不会有完全不适应的地方。

3. 口音较为固定、语速较快

对于考生来说,听力测试部分较为不适应的地方应该是听力材料的口音以及语速。每个考生可能对某一种英语口音较为熟悉,如英音或美音。医学博士英语统考听力测试中的发音常为标准的英音,因而,考生在平时应该多接触英音,这样才不至于在考试时觉得很陌生。另外,医学博士英语统考听力测试的语速也较快,连读处更是难点。因而,考生在平时听力训练时,应加强发音规则和规律训练,以适应考试的语速和口音,这样在正式考试时,心理上就会占一定优势。

二、考查内容及相应的应试技巧

综观听力部分各类考题,考生要重视以下方面的问题:

1. 知识储备很必要

听力中经常会出现句式、词组、习语等,而这些表达往往是解题的关键,因而,考生应在考前注重积累与听力考试相关的语言知识点。

2. 语境信息是关键

无论是 Section A 还是 Section B,听力题目均在一定的语言环境下提出,无论听力材料的长或短,都会给考生以足够的语言信息,因而抓住了关键信息或信号词(Cue Words)就等于找到了解题的密钥。

3. 预读选项有帮助

当听力录音中在播放 Directions 或者例子的时候,考生可利用这段时间预读选项。有些题目选项很有特点,考生通过预读选项可以提前知道考点,或者可以通过突出某个选项关键词对选项进行分类,或者还能够提前知道听力对话或短文的话语情景。所以,考生要养成提前看选项的习惯,做到料敌在先。

4. 简单笔记是依靠

在听力考试过程中,由于极度紧张,人的记忆力在那时是有限的。考生经常会有这样的尴尬:在听对话或短文时,信息在脑海里清晰呈现,但是当问题提出后,即将解题时,却怎么也想不起来自己刚才所听到的信息了,结果无法正确解题,同时,紧张情绪增加,十分不利于考试。所以,考生在平时听力训练的时候,就应养成记笔记的习惯,边听边记是训练听力的好办法。

下面将针对听力理解考试的不同部分,结合部分真题,对考点和应试技巧进行有针对性的讲解。
