前言

为了帮助参加全国高等学校英语应用能力考试的学生系统掌握所学知识,全面提高英语实际应用能力,熟悉《全国高等学校英语应用能力考试大纲》(以下简称《考试大纲》)中所规定的各种题型,提高应试能力,我们组织了高等学校一线英语教师和专家按照《高职高专英语教学基本要求》,认真地分析了历年全国高等学校英语应用能力考试实考试题,在积累多年教学经验的基础上,精心设计编写了这套《全国高等学校英语应用能力统一考试真题与模拟》丛书。包括:

《A级历年真题详解》、《A级全真模拟试题与详解》
《B级历年真题详解》、《B级全真模拟试题与详解》

在丛书后面都附有参考答案和听力部分文字材料,供任课教师和应考学生参考,所有听力部分都配有MP3光盘。

本书的主要特点是:紧扣考纲,针对性强;由浅入深,循序渐进;难点解释详尽,模拟试题实用性强,包括了常用的应用文的形式;试题难度适当,涵盖考纲所有的题型。本书信息量大,形式广泛,且命题之新颖为目前已出版的同类书中所少有,因此本书具有较强的考前辅导针对性,可供全国高职高专和成人高等教育的学生进行考前复习和强化训练。

本书尚有不足之处,敬请广大师生提出宝贵意见。

Part III Reading Comprehension (40 minutes)

Directions: This part is to test your reading ability. There are 5 tasks for you to fulfill. You should read the reading materials carefully and do the tasks as you are required.

Task 1

Directions: After reading the following passage, you will find 5 questions or unfinished statements, number 36 through 40. For each question or statement there are 4 choices marked A), B), C), and D). You should make the correct choice and mark the corresponding letter on the Answer Sheet with a single line through the center.

The world is known to us through many senses, not just hearing, smell, sight, and at close range, taste and touch.

Our skins let us know whether the air is wet or dry, whether the ground surfaces are wet without being sticky or slippery (滑). From the light pressure, we can know how deep a finger is pushed into water at body temperature, even if the finger is in a rubber glove that keeps the wrapped skin completely dry. Many other animals, with highly sensitive skins, appear to be able to learn still more about their environment. Often they do so without employing any of the five senses.

By examining the abilities of other members of the animal kingdom, we come to realize that a human being has far more possibilities than those are made use of. We give not enough care to ever so many of our senses in paying particular attention to the five major ones. At the same time, a comparison between animals and man draws attention to the limitations of each sense. The part of the spectrum (光谱) seen by color-conscious (意识的) man as red is non-existent for honey-bees. But a bee can see far more in flowers than we, because the ultra-violet (紫外

线) to which our eyes are blind is a stimulating(刺激的) part of the insects spectrum, and, for honey-bees at least, makes up a separate color.

36. From the passage we realize that _____.

- A) man has far more senses than the five major ones
- B) man has a few more senses than animals
- C) man has as many senses as animals
- D) man has fully made use of his senses

37. Which of the following is TRUE?

- A) Man is more color-conscious than the honey-bee.
- B) The honey-bee is blind to red.
- C) The honey-bee can see far more colors.
- D) Man is sensitive to the ultra-violet.

38. We can realize how deep a finger is put into water at body temperature _____.

- A) from the sense of direct touch
- B) through the difference in temperature
- C) through skin touch
- D) from the difference of the pressure

39. The underlined phrase "sensitive skins" most probably means _____.

- A) skins that are quick to feel and react
- B) skins that are very soft
- C) skins that are completely dry
- D) skins that are sticky and slippery

40. Which is the main idea of the passage?

- A) All senses have their limitation.
- B) Insects are more sensitive to colors than man.
- C) Man has not made full use of all his senses.
- D) Man is not as good as animals in learning about the environment.

Task 2

Directions: This task is the same as Task 1. The 5 questions or unfinished statements are numbered 41 through 45.

Do you have a Phobia? No, it is not an infectious (传染病的) disease, but it can make you quite as bad. A Phobia is an unreasonable fear of some particular thing or situation. Did you know that some people fear heights? That is called acrophobia. Many people experience claustrophobia when they are in a closed space such as a small room or a lift. Zoophobia is a fear of animals. A fear of dirt is called mysophobia. There are names for fear of thunder, lightning, wide open spaces, people, crowds, darkness, water, and many other things.

A Phobia expert tells us that in the coming of a Phobic situation a person has what is called an "anxiety attack". Blood rushes to his larger muscles in preparation for flight or fight.

One expert on phobias suggests we race our fears gradually. A person who is afraid of people could over come this fear by getting accustomed to them one at a time. Someone who is afraid of water could take swimming lessons in the relative safety of a pool with a lifeguard at hand. A person afraid of heights could practise looking down from middle heights first until he could handle the greater ones.

41. A person who is afraid of cats is most likely to have _____.

- A) mysophobia
- B) acrophobia
- C) zoophobia
- D) claustrophobia

42. A good way to overcome one's unreasonable fear of something would be _____.

- A) trying to avoid it
- B) preparing for flight or fight
- C) getting rid of the anxiety attack
- D) trying to get used to it

43. If you have a Phobia, _____.

- A) you must take swimming lessons in a safe pool
- B) you'd better practise looking down from middle heights first
- C) you may attend some parties
- D) it will be as troublesome as an infectious disease

44. A man in the appearance of Phobic situation _____.

- A) is called an anxiety attack
- B) has blood rush to his legs
- C) has the feeling of flight
- D) fears some particular thing

45. The writer of the text tells us that _____.

- A) when some phobia breaks out in someone, he will feel too anxious about something
- B) a person who fears people can run a race with others
- C) a man afraid of heights can climb to a great building easily
- D) everyone dares to take a lift where there is not a lifeguard

Task 3

Directions: The following is a passage. After reading it, you are required to complete the outline below it (No. 46 through No. 50). You should write your answers briefly (in no more than 3 words) on the Answer Sheet.

European universities and universities in the United States are different in many ways. First, European students take fewer courses each term than United States students do. Second, European students seldom live at a university. Instead, they live at home and travel to classes. Third, most European classes are lectured by professors. In contrast, United States professors often ask their students questions or allow their students to form discussion groups. Fourth, European professors ask students to write fewer papers than United States professors do. Consequently, European students' final examinations are usually oral (口头的), while American students take written final examinations. Finally, a European university is mainly a place to study. But at most United States universities, social activities take up a large part of the students' time.

Differences between European Universities and American Universities
Students of European universities	Students of American universities
46	Take more courses each term	47
Have more lectures
48	Take written final examinations
Write fewer papers		49
50	Have more social activities

B) Taxi-driver.
D) Doctor.

10. A) In the bus station.

C) At the airport.
B) In the railway station.
D) In the theater.

Section C

Directions: In this section you will hear a recorded short passage. The passage is printed on the test paper, but with some words or phrases missing. The passage will be read three times. During the second reading, you are required to put the missing words or phrases on the Answer Sheet in order of the numbered blanks according to what you hear. The third reading is for you to check your writing. Now the passage will begin.

In 1962, John Glenn, at the age of forty, 11 a history-making ride aboard Friendship 7 to become the first man to orbit (绕轨道运行) the earth and to walk in space. He did it for science and for his country. Then in 1999, 12 the age of seventy-seven, Glenn made history again to take the flight back into space.

When 13 for comments on his trip, Glenn said, "Old folks have ambitions (志向) and dreams, too, like everybody else and why don't they work for them? Why don't they 14 it? Don't sit on a couch (长沙发) someplace, that's my 15."

Part III Reading Comprehension(40 minutes)

Directions: This part is to test your reading ability. There are 5 tasks for you to fulfill. You should read the reading materials carefully and do the tasks as you are required.

Task 1

Directions: After reading the following passage, you will find 5 questions or unfinished statements, number 36 through 40. For each question or statement there are 4 choices marked A), B), C), and D). You should make the correct choice and mark the corresponding letter on the Answer Sheet with a single line through the center.

Animation means making things which are lifeless come alive and move. Since earliest times, people have always been astonished by movement. But not until this century have we managed to take control of movement, to record it, and in the case of animation, to retranslate it and recreate it. To do all this, we use a movie camera and a projector (放映机).

In the world of cartoon animation, nothing is impossible. You can make the characters do exactly what you want them to do.

A famous early cartoon character was Felix the Cat, created by Pat Sullivan in America in the early nineteen twenties. Felix was a wonderful cat. He could do all sorts of things no natural cat could do like taking off his tail, using it as a handle and then putting it back.

Most of the great early animators lived and worked in America, the home of the moving picture industry. The famous Walt Disney cartoon characters came to life after 1928. Popeye the Sailor and his girl friend Olive Oyo were born at Max Ficscher in 1933.

But to be an animator, you don't have to be a professional (专业人士). It is possible for anyone to make a simple animated film without using a camera at all. All you have to do is to draw directly on to an empty film and then run the film through a projector.

36. What does the passage mainly discuss?

- A) Animal world.
- B) Movie camera.
- C) Cartoon making.
- D) Movement.

37. Which of the following statements is TRUE?

- A) People were unable to cause the movement to last or record it in the last century.
- B) Pat Sullivan was a famous early cartoon character.
- C) It is impossible to make cartoon characters do what they are designed to do.
- D) In ancient times people were surprised by movement.

38. According to the passage, Felix the Cat _____.

- A) was created by the American cartoonist Felix
- B) was designed by Pat Sullivan in the early twentieth century
- C) was unable to do what natural cats could not do
- D) was created in the United States in the nineteenth century

39. It can be inferred from the passage that _____.

- A) Walt Disney's cartoon characters were born earlier than Pat Sullivan's
- B) only professionals can create cartoon characters
- C) Popeye the Sailor and Olive Oyo were famous cartoonists
- D) the cartoon industry started in the United States

40. Which of the following statements best describes the author's attitude towards cartoon making?

- A) Cartoon making is an easy job. Anyone can do it.
- B) Only trained people can be employed in cartoon making industry.
- C) Anyone can make cartoons under the instructions of professionals.
- D) Cartoon making is no easy job. You have to spend much time drawing onto the empty film.

Task 2

Directions: This task is the same as Task 1. The 5 questions or unfinished statements are numbered 41 through 45.

Bambi is a tasty book. Tasty not only for children but for those who are no longer so fortunate. For delicacy of perception (感觉细腻) and truth I hardly know any story of animals that can stand beside this life study of a forest deer. Felix Salten is a poet. He feels nature deeply, and he loves animals. I do not, as a rule, like the method? which places human words in the mouths of dumb (哑的) creatures, and it is the victory of this book that, behind the conversation, one feels the real feelings of the creatures who speak. Clear and inspiring, and in places very moving, it is a little masterpiece (杰作).

I read it in galley proof (校样) on the way from Paris to Calais. As I finished each sheet I handed it to my wife, who read, and handed it to my nephews. For three hours the four of us read in this way in silent absorption (专注). Those who know what it is to read books in galley proof, and have experienced channel (隧道) crossings, will realize that few books will stand such a test. Bambi is one of them.

41. Bambi is a book written about _____.

- A) children
- B) a forest deer
- C) Felix Salten
- D) those who are unfortunate

42. Which of the following do you think is true?

- A) The book is interesting not only to children but also to others.
- B) The author of book read the proof on his way from Paris to Calais.
- C) The book gives greater pleasure to children than to others.
- D) The writer of the passage didn't want to read the book in galley proof, so he handed it to his wife.

43. The author of the book used the method which _____.

- A) he didn't like as a rule
- B) made animals talk like human beings
- C) others did not like
- D) other stories of animals could stand beside

44. The writer and the other three _____.

- A) were fond of reading proof
- B) were absorbed in the book
- C) felt that the animals could talk
- D) thought the book was better than any other research of its kind

45. According to the passage, we can conclude that _____.

- A) proof reading and channel crossings are very pleasant
- B) a poet can write books about animals better
- C) proof reading and channel crossings are very tiring
- D) it's easy to write a book about animals

B) You can do whatever you like.
4. A) What can I do for you?
C) Oh, yes, please.
D) I see. What kind of account, please?
5. A) Good idea.
C) That is too bad.
B) I have no time.
D) Thank you.

Section B

Directions: This section is to test your ability to understand short dialogues. There are 5 recorded dialogues in it. After each dialogue, there is a recorded question. Both the dialogues and questions will be spoken two times. When you hear a question, you should decide on the correct answer from the 4 choices marked A), B), C) and D) given in your test paper. Then you should mark the corresponding letter on the Answer Sheet with a single line through the center.

D) 6:30.
10. A) Poor.
C) She failed the exam.
B) Not bad.
D) She can't finish the paper.

Section C

Directions: In this section you will hear a recorded short passage. The passage is printed on the test paper, but with some words or phrases missing. The passage will be read three times. During the second reading, you are required to put the missing words or phrases on the Answer Sheet in order of the numbered blanks according to what you hear. The third reading is for you to check your writing. Now the passage will begin.

Most Europeans want small cars. Many Americans prefer large cars. As a 11, European auto-makers produce a wide variety of economical, lightweight cars while American auto-makers 12 to build bigger, heavier cars.

The price of gasoline(汽油) has much to do with this. Gasoline is expensive in Europe, so Europeans naturally 13 cars that will go a long way on a small amount of fuel. Other reasons also enter into the big or little car decision. Many Old World cities have very narrow, 14 streets. In these cities a small car is more practical and easier to handle than a large one.

Some Americans like powerful engines in their cars. Other Americans, however, have learned to like the small, nimble(敏捷的) cars. Today, American car buyers have a wide 15. Part III Reading Comprehension (40 minutes)

Directions: This part is to test your reading ability. There are 5 tasks for you to fulfill. You should read the reading materials carefully and do the tasks as you are required.

Directions: After reading the following passage, you will find 5 questions or unfinished statements, number 36 through 40. For each question or statement there are 4 choices marked A), B), C) and D). You should make the correct choice and mark the corresponding letter on the Answer Sheet with a single line through the center.

Peter Fern was mad on mountain. Climbing was the love of his life. Church towers, sea-side cliffs, rock faces, ice mountains; anything—"If it's there" he used to say, "then I want to climb it." So the news of his marriage gave me a surprise. I'd never known him to take much interest in girls. Well, well, Peter Fern a married man! I couldn't get over it. I wondered whether his wife would try to stop some of his risky adventures. She was French perhaps—from that place where he usually spent his holidays. Chamonix, wasn't it?

From Chamonix he's climbed Mont Blanc on his seventeenth birthday, and one of the Aiguilles the day after! That was it, then: she was French, from a family, most of whom like climbing. No doubt. No other explanation.

A month later I met them both in town. Anna surprised me because she was English. She
