June 5 is World Environment Day. This makes us pay more attention to (更注意) our environment and the need to protect it.

When Wang Boxuan, a Beijing high schoolboy, uses up (用尽) his exercise books, he does not throw them away. Each one is stored at his school with hundreds of exercise books given by other students. Then they are sold to a Beijing paper making factory.

The paper is recycled and used again by students and teachers in the school. At the same time, the money made from the sales goes towards schools in Inner Mongolia for planting trees and grass. This place is one of the sources (源头) of the sandstorms that often attack Beijing during springtime.

Wang's school is one of the schools in the capital that take part in the "green promise (承诺)" environmental protection (保护) activity. So far, nearly 210,000 students have taken part in the activity, collecting more than 87 tons (吨) of waste paper.

With the Olympic Games coming to Beijing in 2008, students are eager (渴望) to help make the capital a more pleasant place.

"There are some environment problems in the city such as sandstorms," said Wang. "We should do our duty and encourage others to do so as well."

The United States, Great Britain took the war on Iraq(伊拉克) in late March 2003. Thousands of people died in the war. And many...

A four-year-old girl is lying in the arms of a doctor. She has just lost her mother. Her pink clothes are full of blood (血).

Every day we see pictures like this on our televisions. We see Iraqi (伊拉克的) children begging for food and water from American and British soldiers as they move through towns and cities towards the capital, Baghdad (巴格达). We see these children following their parents, carrying bags as they escape from their homes in Baghdad.

“Dad, why are the Americans fighting (战斗) against us? Are we going to be killed?” asks the son of Abu Singar. Abu finds it hard to explain (解释) this war to his eight-year-old son.

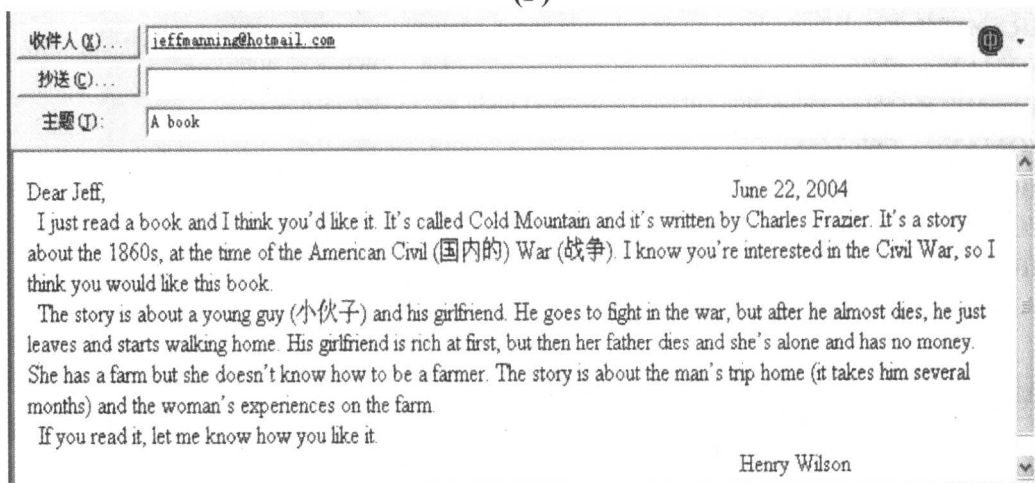

He tries to make him feel safe by saying, “The bombs (炸弹) are far away from us. We’re going to be all right.” In Baghdad, parents give their children sleeping pills to try and let them escape from the sound of bombs. And all the schools are closed.

Now things are worse, and the war makes it impossible to count the number who are hungry, sick, hurt or even dead.

JOLIN Tsai (蔡依林), a famous singer, has become an English teacher! But she is not staying in a classroom to give you talks in English. Instead, she has published (出版) a new book, "Jolin's English Diary Book". It came out in Taiwan in March. Jolin is helping you learn English in a light-hearted way and give you useful words for life outside your textbooks.

"I hope it's a happy English book," she said, "When you learn English in a fun way, you will keep on doing it." This certainly doesn't mean just reciting (背诵) words. Jolin has a lot of clever ways of learning. She likes to listen to English songs or find friends to talk to in English. She has been good at English since Grade 3 in primary school (小学). Because of this, she hosted (主持) an English news programme on the radio herself.

Jolin knows it's important to put English to good use. So, in her English diaries, she wrote something about her everyday life, like study, fashion (时尚), travel and family. After each diary, she gives you lots of notes. You can use them often, too! Jolin also asks you to keep diaries like hers.
