

普通高等教育 英语 “十二五” 规划教材

NEW VIEW

College Oral English

新视界

大学英语口语 (4)

● 何 敏 习强毅 主编

New View
College Oral English
(Flying)

华中科技大学出版社

<http://www.hustp.com>

014059076

H319.9
2237
V4

普通高等教育英语“十二五”规划教材

新视界大学英语口语(4)

New View College Oral English

(Flying)

主 编 何 敏 习强毅

华中科技大学出版社
中国·武汉

北航

C1746464

H319.9
2237
V4

014022076

图书在版编目(CIP)数据

新视界大学英语口语(4)/何敏,习强毅主编. —武汉:华中科技大学出版社,2014.7
ISBN 978-7-5680-0290-5

I. ①新… II. ①何… ②习… III. ①英语-口语-高等学校-教材 IV. ①H319.9

中国版本图书馆 CIP 数据核字(2014)第 171014 号

新视界大学英语口语(4)

何 敏 习强毅 主编

策划编辑:刘 平

责任编辑:刘 平

封面设计:刘 卉

责任校对:周 娟

责任监印:周治超

出版发行:华中科技大学出版社(中国·武汉)

武昌喻家山 邮编:430074 电话:(027)81321915

录 排:华中科技大学惠友文印中心

印 刷:湖北新华印务有限公司

开 本:710mm×1000mm 1/16

印 张:8.25

字 数:167 千字

版 次:2014 年 9 月第 1 版第 1 次印刷

定 价:18.00 元

华中出版

本书若有印装质量问题,请向出版社营销中心调换
全国免费服务热线:400-6679-118 竭诚为您服务
版权所有 侵权必究

前言

为适应大学英语教学的新形势,深化教学改革,提高教学质量,满足社会对人才培养的需要,教育部在2007年颁发了《大学英语课程教学要求》,作为高等学校非英语专业本科英语教学的主要依据。《大学英语课程教学要求》在论及教学模式改革时指出“新教学模式应能使学生选择适合自己需要的材料和方法进行学习,获得学习策略的指导,逐步提高其自主学习的能力”。针对这一大学英语教学改革要求,各高校积极探索培养学生自主学习能力的有效途径。语言自主学习中心的创建为学生训练听说能力提供了硬件上的保障。《新视界大学英语口语》作为大学英语自主学习中心的系列辅助教材,其编写旨在配合大学英语教学改革,努力丰富完善自主学习中心在听说能力培养上的软件建设,为学生在自主环境下培养听说能力给予切实指导。

在呼声越来越高的个性化大学英语教学要求下,《新视界大学英语口语》的编写贯彻了“教师为主导,学生为主体”的教学思想,体现出导学式大学英语口语教学模式。其鲜明特色如下。

一、注重以学生为主体,话题多彩,活动多样

话题结合学生生活实际,激发学生强烈的课堂参与欲。本教材话题丰富广泛,反映了大学生多姿多彩的课内外生活,引入诸多大学生感兴趣的讨论主题。结合大学生活不同发展阶段,本教程全四册分为拥抱校园(Embracing Campus Life)、畅游校园(Enjoying Campus Life)、超越校园(Beyond Campus Life)、走出校园(Farewell to Campus Life)四个分册,贯穿了初识大学校园、爱上大学生生活、成长年轻心智、告别大学走向社会等全程大学生生活。

口语输出任务设计多元立体化,拓展学生课堂发挥空间。全四册汇集十余种多元化口语活动形式。活动设置有梯度,难度逐步推进。结合不同年级特点,在一、二分册设计情景剧、角色扮演、影片配音、模拟访谈、对话讨论、英语游戏、看图说话等活动;在三、四分册倾向于演讲训练、戏剧表演、歌曲配景、诗歌品鉴、辩论实战、创编故事、专题报告等形式。多元立体化的活动体现了学生在语言和思维发展上的逐步契合,并提供学生展现自己语言交际的能力。

二、强调以教师为主导,拓展人文,训练思维

加大语言文化信息输入量,明确语言发展的目的。本教程输入环节全面涵盖了语言知识、语言技能和文化拓展三个方面。全四册每单元遵循统一模式,在 Word Bank & Useful Expressions 中提供讨论该单元话题所需的词汇及多种口语表达方式;在 Demonstration 中展示实例对话,演练口语交流技巧;在 Background 和 Cultural Notes 中介绍与话题相关的文化知识,在 Watch & Discuss 环节推荐资料库中与话题相关的英文影片供学生欣赏观摩,为学生创设听说学习的文化环境。统一分明的单元模式设计使学生通过发展语言,培养人文思想,最终完成跨文化口语交际活动。

口语任务的设计渗透思维训练。通过指导学生完成要求较高的故事创编、演讲、辩论、专题报告等口语任务,引导学生从学会组织语言到学会组织思维,从而最终培养学生分析问题、解决问题的能力以及语言沟通能力。

本教材由多年从事大学英语口语教学的资深教师编写:李鹏(第1册UNIT 1—UNIT 5)、徐坤银(第1册UNIT 6—UNIT 10)、陈国良(第2册UNIT 1—UNIT 5)、刘玲玉(第2册UNIT 6—UNIT 10)、罗敏(第3册UNIT 1—UNIT 5)、田颖(第3册UNIT 6—UNIT 10)、何敏(第4册UNIT 1—UNIT 5)、习强毅(第4册UNIT 6—UNIT 10)。

本教材的顺利出版要特别感谢武汉轻工大学外国语学院领导和全体同仁,特别是第一、二教研室全体老师的大力支持;感谢华中科技大学出版社对口语教学改革和教材编写工作自始至终的关心和大力支持。

由于时间仓促,编者水平有限,书中不免有各种不足之处,恳请广大读者及同行不吝赐教。

编者

2014年5月28日

Unit 1 I Need a Job

目 录

I. Background

Unit 1 I Need a Job	(1)
Unit 2 Body Talks	(11)
Unit 3 Behave Yourself	(20)
Unit 4 Why Should We Hire You?	(34)
Unit 5 Study Abroad	(52)
Unit 6 I'm the Boss!	(63)
Unit 7 Be Honest	(75)
Unit 8 When Adam Meets Eve	(87)
Unit 9 House, Dream House!	(102)
Unit 10 Are You Ready?	(113)
Keys	(122)
References	(124)

After selecting a career one has to be prepared to train hard to hone their skills over time and through hours of work. It's also very useful for these to attend seminars and courses that further hone on their talents and expertise. Some professions even require one to graduate to learn new procedures to keep up to date. All this training and hard work is well worthy well though and while a job provides few opportunities for a deeper reach and education, a well-trained career professional can fast-track up the company's power ladder.

It's not the hardest thing to be rich or famous, but by having a career one can earn more and do what they're best at. Another benefit is that when you're good at something, you tend to enjoy doing it a lot more, and job satisfaction is definitely higher for a career professional. They are proud of what they do and identify themselves with their professions. People with simple jobs tend to

Unit 1 I Need a Job

I. Background

Many would consider a job and a career as synonyms; two words that essentially describe the exact same thing. After all, they both describe the means through which a person earns his living. There are though some key differences between the two. Primarily, a job is just a form of income, and it rarely involves any planning. You could get a job at a fast food restaurant, but that wouldn't really count as a career. A career involves a lot more hard work and planning; it takes a lot longer to get and requires a strong foundation and usually involves an educational background. Careers are usually something people are trained and specialized to do; a job is something anyone can pick up in a matter of days.

To build the appropriate foundation for a career one usually looks to obtain a degree, diploma or certification of sorts. These are usually obtained through a college or a vocational school. Different career choices require different number of years of training, some take just a year, while others might require over seven years of extensive study. Those who are ready to choose a career often have a focus and ambition clear in their heads. It might be a dream career for which they have a strong passion, or it could be a normal job that just doesn't pay enough to satisfy all their wants. Some individuals are even gifted in certain areas and hence naturally drift into that profession.

After selecting a career one has to be prepared to train hard to hone their skills over time and through hours of work. It's also very useful for them to attend seminars and courses that further build on their talents and expertise. Some professions even require one to constantly learn new procedures to keep up to date. All this training and hard work pay off pretty well though and while a job provides few opportunities for advancement and promotion, a well-trained career professional can find himself moving quickly up the company's power ladder.

It's not the hardest thing to earn an income, but by having a career one can earn more and do what they're best at. Another benefit is that when you're good at something, you tend to enjoy doing it a lot more, and job satisfaction is definitely higher for a career professional. They are proud of what they do and identify themselves with their professions. People with simple jobs tend to become dissatisfied over time as their true gifts go wasted, and often many of them end up leaving their jobs in search for a more prestigious and satisfying career.

II. Warm-Up

Activity 1

Work with your partners and try to tell the differences between a career and a job.

The following sentences are for your reference.

- A career needs formal education while a job may not.
- A career needs an ambition and hard work while a job may not.
- You may get a job and make money, but you don't think it is a career.

Activity 2

Suppose you are planning to find a part-time job. In what way will you find it? What kind of job will you do? What is your purpose of doing that?

III. Demonstration

Conversation 1

M: Good afternoon. My name is Ma Ping, the director of the job center of this university. We all know that senior students are very concerned about their future jobs. They ask: "What's an ideal career? Is this a good job for me? What am I supposed to do before I apply for a job?" Now, let's talk about these questions: ideal careers, favorite jobs and so on.

S1: First of all, let me introduce myself. My name is Wang Tao. I'm busy looking for a job. I have been to several job markets already. But up to now I haven't found a job I'm interested in. It's tough to find a good job with high pay. I hear landing a job in a foreign enterprise will enable you to make money fast. But for me, I've already made up my mind to quit job-hunting. I want to start my own business after graduation. I have a great idea I want to work on.

M: Really? That means, instead of working for someone, you would be your own boss.

S1: Yes, you are right about that. To tell the truth, I want to start up a small computer company. I want to hire some young people to work with my company who want to carve out a career. I believe I can establish my company here. I know to be the boss of a small company is no picnic. You have all the responsibilities and obligations as well as running a risk of incurring losses.

But I like the challenges and working under pressure.

S2: I'm Wang Fang, a senior student from the English Department. As far as I'm concerned, teaching is an ideal job. If I have a choice, I'd prefer to be a high school teacher after I put myself through college. It's true you will be much better than the average if you take a job in some foreign firms, but it's also true you will be obliged to work like a dog. Usually large corporations require long hours and hard work in return for their benefits. If you are not willing to put in the time, that job's not for you and I've decided it's the last job I want to take.

M: Well, many graduates are reluctant to make teaching their career because even though people regard it as an important job, the salary remains quite low. What do you think?

S2: That doesn't surprise me. Service careers are usually the lowest paid. Here, like other places in the world, teaching is a very honorable job. In fact, it is one of the most important occupations in our society, though not the highest paid. We need education. No education, no high-tech, no development. It's as simple as that.

S3: Well, I'm only at the beginning of my career. After I get a job, I would say what I need most is training and experience. If I want to be a candidate for an MBA, two years' working experience is necessary. I'm aware that getting a job in a famous company is very competitive because there are many other people trying to get the same job. To become a successful administrator is not a piece of cake. But I think I stand a really good chance with my strong educational background.

S2: While we are on the topic of ideal careers and jobs, how do graduates from your department usually find jobs?

S1: The most common way to find a job is to look at job advertisements and apply for the specific jobs that are available. By the way, my roommate found a job in the newspaper ads. Now he has got a job interview and since he has passed the test for the government officials, he is now trying to find a position there. It's a more secure job though he'll make less money.

S3: To my knowledge, there are three ways to contact the companies.

S2: What are they? Would you think that applying for a job is complicated?

S1: No, not really. I would say that contrary to what some job applicants believe, it's quite simple. The first way is to contact a company on the phone. Another way is to write a cover letter and send it to the company with a resume. And still another way is to go directly to the company without writing or calling.

S3: But the problem with that is, many companies don't want applicants to come to the office without an appointment. Anyway, no matter what method is used to contact the company, the goal is the same — to get a job interview.

M: Well, we have discussed a lot about careers and jobs. It looks as if that's all we have time for. I hope you can find good jobs you are interested in. I'll keep my fingers crossed for you!

S3: Thank you!

Conversation 2

A: You haven't started looking for a part-time job yet, have you?

B: Well, I've already got a job.

A: Did you start your new part-time job this week?

B: Yes, I did.

A: What's it like working with your company and how do you like it so far?

B: I'm happy in my job. It's demanding, but it's very interesting. And I'm really good at this part-time job.

A: Why do you have to work so hard?

B: Because I want to keep this job. It pays well and offers me a good chance to put what I've learned into practice. Plus it helps to foster a sense of competition, which is important for me in the future.

A: I could imagine that you have got sufficient satisfaction from your part-time job.

B: You bet. Otherwise, it's not worth the effort. But next to that I suppose you need nice people to work with. I can't stand working with people I don't like.

A: That's just what I think, of course. How is your boss?

B: He seems to be very kind and patient.

A: Is your company a big one or a small one?

B: It's neither a big nor a small company. It's something in between and seems to be competitive.

A: So are they going to let some people go if the company is not satisfied with their work?

B: That's how it looks. I hear that even the supervisor might get his walking papers. That's why everyone is doing his best to put on a good show.

A: I understand. Take care and good luck keeping your job.

B: Thank you. I'll need it.

IV. Word Bank & Useful Expressions

to land a job 找到一份工作	foreign enterprise 外资企业
to carve out a career 创立一番事业	to incur losses 遭受损失
to work like a dog 拼命干, 苦干	a piece of cake 容易做的事
to keep one's fingers crossed for sb. 祝某人交好运	to keep this job 保住这份工作
sense of competition 竞争意识	to let sb. go 解聘某人
walking papers 解聘书	to put on a good show 留下好印象 to take care 注意, 小心, 关照	full-time job 全职工作
permanent job 固定工作	temporary job 临时工作
nine-to-five routine 朝九晚五的工作	to get a job 得到工作
to find a job 找到工作	to take a job 接受工作
to hunt a job/ look for a job 寻找工作	to quit a job 辞职
to leave a job 离职	to change a job/ job-hopping 跳槽
to trade a job 转换职业

V. Activities

Task 1

Direction: Answer the following questions.

- 1) Have you ever had a job? What was it? Did you enjoy it? Why or why not?
- 2) Have you ever quitted a job? Why did you quit it?
- 3) Do you want to start your own business? Why or why not?
- 4) Where do you prefer to work, in a corporation or a small firm? Why?
- 5) What kind of boss do you expect to have?

Task 2

Direction: Complete the following conversations according to the cued situations.

Situation 1

A: Good morning. Take a seat please.

B: _____.

A: I believe you realize that we're looking for a sales manager for our export division.

B: _____.

A: Good. I'd like to know if you're interested in our products.

B: _____.

A: Would you say that you're a self-starter?

B: _____.

A: Yes, I can say that from your resume.

B: Well, I have only one more question, and then I'd like to answer any questions you might have. What salary do I expect?

A: That's reasonable. Let me show you around the office and then we'll talk about it.

Situation 2

A: I haven't seen you on the weekend for a long time. Where have you been keeping yourself?

B: I've been busy working...

A: Why are you getting home so late these days?

B: I've got a lot of...

A: How many hours a day are you working?

B: About...

A: Are you getting overtime?

B: No. But the boss says...

A: Well, if it's important he can very well pay you for it, too.

B: Actually, I figure if I work now...

Task 3

Direction: Talk about the following topics with your partners.

- 1) part-time jobs for students
- 2) the feeling of having part-time jobs
- 3) your expectation from a part-time job
- 4) money and part-time jobs
- 5) an ideal career

Task 4

Directions: The following questions are for you to discuss. First state your points and clarify them, then try to convince your partners to agree with you.

You may argue with them but then try to reach an agreement.

- 1) What do you think is an ideal career in our society?
- 2) What do you think are decent jobs?
- 3) As a graduate, what will you do if you can't find an ideal job?

VI. Reproduction

- 1) Read the following prose The Road to Success by Andrew Carnegie, and conclude the main idea.

2) Students form groups and discuss its significance to everyday life.

The Road to Success

Andrew Carnegie

It is well that young men should begin at the beginning and occupy the most subordinate positions. Many of the leading businessmen of Pittsburgh had a serious responsibility thrust upon them at the very threshold of their career. They were introduced to the broom, and spent the first hours of their business lives sweeping out the office. I notice we have janitors and janitresses now in offices, and our young men unfortunately miss that salutary branch of a business education. But if by chance the professional sweeper is absent any morning, the boy who has the genius of the future partner in him will not hesitate to try his hand at the broom. The other day a fond fashionable mother in Michigan asked a young man whether he had even seen a young lady sweep in a room so grandly as her Priscilla. He said no, he never had, and the mother was gratified beyond measure, but then said he, after a pause, "What I should like to see her do is sweep out a room." It does not hurt the newest comer to sweep out the office if necessary. I was one of those sweepers myself.

Assuming that you have all obtained employment and are fairly started, my advice to you is "aim high". I would not give a fig for the young man who has not already seen himself the partner or the head of an important firm. Do not rest content for a moment in your thoughts as head clerk, or foreman, or general manager in any concern, no matter how extensive. Say to yourself, "My place is at the top." Be king in your dreams.

And here is the prime condition of success, the secret: concentrate your energy, thought, and capital exclusively upon the business in which you are engaged. Having begun in one line, resolve to fight it out on that line, to lead in it, adopt every improvement, have the best machinery, and know the most about it.

The concerns which fail are those which have scattered their capital, which means that they have scattered their brains also. They have investments in this, or that, or the other, here, there, and everywhere. "Don't put all your eggs in one basket" is all wrong. I tell you "put all your eggs in one basket, and then watch that basket". Look round you and take notice; men who do that do not often fail. It is easy to watch and carry the one basket. It is trying to carry too many baskets that break most eggs in this country. He who carries three baskets must put one on his head, which is apt to tumble and trip him up. One fault of the American businessman is lack of concentration.

To summarize what I have said: Aim for the highest, never enter a bar room; do not touch liquor, or if at all only at meals; never speculate; never indorse beyond your surplus cash fund; make the firm's interest yours; break orders always to save owners; concentrate; put all your eggs in one basket, and watch that basket; expenditure always within revenue; lastly be not impatient, for, as Emerson says, "no one can cheat you out of ultimate success but yourselves."

VII. Cultural Notes

Career Assessment Do's and Don'ts

Here are the keys to successful career assessment. Follow these simple rules and you should achieve success in this self-discovery process.

- Do be aware that assessments are available to help guide you toward the right career for you. A qualified career counselor can administer, score and interpret these assessments. A number of free career assessments also are available on the Internet, though many experts question their reliability.
- Do compare online career assessments to see which ones might meet your needs.
- Do keep your expectations in check when you take free online assessments. You may attain some direction and guidance from these tests, but don't be overly reliant on them for magic answers.
- Don't discount the possibility that these free online assessments might suggest to you some career ideas and directions you had never thought of and that are worth further exploration.
- Do take several different assessments to help you learn more about yourself and to help you determine which tests provide the most reliable results for you.
- Do print out and retain the results of the assessments you take online. Compare results and see if you can see patterns — a "career snapshot" — beginning to emerge.
- Do trust your gut. If a free online assessment tells you something about yourself that doesn't ring true, disregard that information.
- Don't rely on free online assessments alone for self-discovery and career guidance. Meet with a career counselor; college students and alumni usually have free or inexpensive access to counselors. Supplement the results you've obtained from free online assessments with other assessments the counselor might administer. Ask the counselor to help you interpret and integrate the results of various assessments.

- Do use career assessments with a variety of other self-discovery activities, such as examining your strengths and weaknesses and the activities you most enjoy and least enjoy.
- Do have fun taking career assessments. Self-discovery is almost always an enlightening and often entertaining process.

VIII. Watch & Discuss

Directions: Watch the movie Erin Brockovich, then discuss the following questions with your partners.

Erin Brockovich is an unemployed single mother, desperate to find a job, but is having no luck. This losing streak even extends to a failed lawsuit against a doctor in a car accident she was in. With no alternative, she successfully browbeats her lawyer to give her a job in compensation for the loss. While no one takes her seriously, with her trashy clothes and earthy manners, that soon changes when she begins to investigate a suspicious real estate case involving the Pacific Gas & Electric Company. What she discovers is that the company is trying quietly to buy land that was contaminated by hexavalent chromium, a deadly toxic waste that the company is improperly and illegally dumping and, in turn, poisoning the residents in the area. As she digs deeper, Erin finds herself leading point in a series of events that would involve her law firm in one of the biggest class action lawsuits in American history against a multi-billion dollar corporation.

Questions:

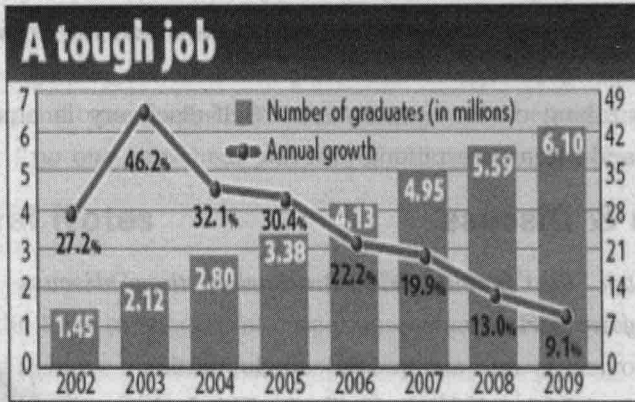

- Q1. What does Erin Brockovich go to the law firm for? Why does she do so?
- Q2. For what reason does Erin Brockovich's boyfriend George leave her temporarily? Why does he come back at last?
- Q3. What can we learn from Erin Brockovich?

IX. Assignment

Directions: Examine the following table and then

1. describe the table.

2. interpret the social phenomenon reflected by it, and
3. give your own point of view.

Unit 2 Body Talks

I. Background

Most people believe we talk in language. Can we “talk” without language? The answer is positive. People convey their thoughts, feelings not only in words, but also in many other ways, such as body movements, facial expressions, gestures, etc.

Scientific research shows that there are basically three elements in any face-to-face communication: words, tone of voice and body language. These three elements account differently for the meaning of the message:

Words account for 7% ;

tone of voice accounts for 38% and body language accounts for 55% of the message.

Whether you believe it or not, it is definitely true. People tend to overlook the more important part of our daily talk—nonverbal communication. Nonverbal communication is a way of communicating without words, that's, spoken or written language. Consciously or unconsciously, we convey our thoughts and feelings through our eyes, hands, legs, almost every part of our body, even the distance can convey our feelings.

The following is the classification of communication:

In order to make things clear, in the following parts, we explain the nonverbal communication in detail.

Body language is to express how one feels in the way one sits, stands, moves, etc. For example, a palm supporting one side of the face shows the one is thinking about something or is listening attentively. A person walking up and down may convey a deep thought or hesitation. If a person shrugs his shoulders, it means he has no idea or he is of no help.

As part of the human body, our face is the most sensitive and expressive organ which almost shows everything in our minds, especially our eyes. Usually,