

The background of the cover is a textured illustration of a forest scene in autumn. A large tree trunk is on the left, with a single yellow maple leaf falling from it. A bear, the character Little Bear, stands in the center-left, wearing a red jacket and blue overalls. The ground is covered in grass and fallen leaves. In the upper right, there are branches with small red leaves. A light-colored rectangular box with a thin border is positioned in the upper right, containing the title and author information.

A painting of a forest scene. The background is a warm, golden-yellow color, suggesting a sunset or sunrise. There are several trees, some with dark, dense foliage and others with bare branches. The ground is covered in grass and fallen leaves. In the center, there is a small figure of a child, possibly crying, surrounded by a misty or hazy atmosphere. The overall mood is melancholic and somber.
