内容提要

本书共分"单项技巧训练"和"综合技巧训练"两大部分。"单项技巧训练"部分按照《大学英语教学大纲》(修订本,1999.9)规定的 10 大项阅读技巧,用英文分单项讲解。每项技巧设有 5 篇短文,围绕所谈技巧各设 1 道单选题,供同学们即学即练、学以致用,掌握该技巧。"综合技巧训练"部分共分 4 级,每级由 10 个单元组成,每个单元有 4 篇短文和 20 道习题。全书所选题材广泛,内容丰富;习题对大学英语教学大纲所要求的阅读技能作了全面和精细的安排。尤其第一部分——"单项技巧训练"对广大英语学习者掌握阅读方法,增强阅读理解能力,提高阅读速度具有指导作用。本书由易到难、由浅入深、循序渐进,是大学英语阅读技巧训练的理想读本,也可作为同等水平的英语爱好者学会阅读、提高技能的最佳教材和自我检测的标尺。

现行《大学英语教学大纲》(以下简称大纲)将原来的外语教学目标听、说、读、写、译等各项技能重新作了编排,将"读"提到了首位,明确规定:培养学生具有较强的阅读能力,一定的听、说、写、译能力,使他们能以英语为工具交流信息。有些语言学家甚至指出,这是继视听法、情景法、功能法教学之后的又一种新的教学手段。阅读是掌握语言知识、获取信息、提高语言应用能力的基础。因此,在大学英语教学中始终都应注重阅读能力的培养。《大纲》对阅读能力的要求是,能顺利阅读并正确理解语言难度中等的一般性题材的文章,掌握中心大意,了解说明中心大意的事实和细节,能根据听读材料进行判断,了解作者的观点和态度。

由此可见,阅读理解在英语学习中占有极其重要的位置,它是衡量人们掌握英语词汇,了解西方文化以及各方面专业知识的一个标准。然而,阅读是一个复杂的认知过程,它的复杂不仅在于涉及一系列对字母的认知、词的知觉与判断、句法分析、语义分析等语言加工与信息处理过程,还在于它涉及诸多其它因素,如语言因素和超语言因素。语言因素包括读者对单词、习惯表达法、句子长度、语法规则与知识的识别与表征;阅读材料中生词的比例等。超语言因素包括阅读习惯与阅读心理、背景知识与语篇知识、阅读技能与阅读策略等。外语阅读效率,即理解准确率与阅读速度之和,可以说,是语言因素与超语言因素综合制约的结果。要提高阅读效率,除了需要大量背诵单词,了解西方的风俗、文化、历史、地理等以及有关方面的专业知识外,还要掌握一定的阅读技巧,才能提高阅读速度、加快理解。

本书由"单项技巧训练"和"综合技巧训练"两大部分组成。"单项技巧训练"按照《大学英语教学大纲》(修订本,1999.9)规定的 10 大项阅读技巧,用英文分单项讲解,每项技巧给出例证分析,并围绕所讲技巧各选配了 5 篇短文,各设 1 道习题。"综合技巧训练"分为 4 级(Band 1~4),由易到难,由浅入深,重点放在提高阅读速度上,同时兼顾扩大词汇量。本书的阅读材料是按大学生的需求来选取的。

为适应快速阅读训练,我们对这些材料进行了少许的精简。各级分为 10 个单元,每个单元选 4 篇短文。每级习题都涉及到了 10 大技巧,循环重现。通过大量实践掌握阅读技巧,这正是我们编写此书的目的。本书的绝大部分练习曾在编者所在的几所大学试用过,效果很好。

全书承蒙美籍专家 Dr. Milo Hadwin 和 Karen Hadwin 女士审定。特此致谢。

Part One What is the main idea of this paragraph

1. Understanding the Topic and Main Idea with seasing of least you bit I. I.

What is the most important element in any paragraph or passage? Without a doubt, it is the main idea or the central idea, which gives the paragraph or passage a purpose and direction.

C. His plays were the greatest examples at English literature

D. Without the animals, men could not have gone into

When reading paragraphs for the main idea, try to read a bit faster than usual. By doing so, it will be easier to concentrate on ideas and the relationships between ideas. The slow reader usually cares too much about individual words and thus may actually comprehend less than the quick reader.

The topic sentence usually states the main idea of the paragraph. The topic sentence generally (not always) is placed at the beginning of the paragraph and the other sentences in the same paragraph develop around it. Dr Coleman was determined to leave his university.

- 1. Normally when we read, we are concerned with comprehending both the central idea and the supporting detail. This time, however, your purpose is solely to find the writer's main thought. Therefore you should be able to read somewhat faster. On the other hand, do not attempt to skim so rapidly that you risk losing altogether the sense of what you are reading. Try for a reading speed that would have taken men much longer to go into space. Ham and other laur man materials all the sign of
- 2. Concentrate on finding, and following, the writer's central idea. Do not attempt to remember details such as exact dates, lists of names, large numbers, and the like.
- 3. If you find an occasional word, which you do not understand, or lose the sense of a word or phrase here and there, do not stop to reread the material. Continue reading at the slightly faster than normal speed that you have established.

Example

Surviving in the jungle is a science. The jungle people have become perfect in this science, and you can too. Learn as much as you can about what to expect in the jungle. Make sure you have the right equipment. Then no part of the jungle will seem completely unfriendly or frightening. In fact, you will be able to "live off" it for a long time. We will be able to "live off" it for a long time.

The underlined part is the topic sentence, which happens to be the first sentence of the paragraph. If you do not have time to read the whole paragraph, you may just read this topic sentence and know at least that living in a jungle requires knowledge and skillstill good at least that living in a jungle requires knowledge and skillstill good at least that living in a jungle requires knowledge and skillstill good at least that living in a jungle requires knowledge and skillstill good at least that living in a jungle requires knowledge and skillstill good at least that living in a jungle requires knowledge and skillstill good at least that living in a jungle requires knowledge and skillstill good at least that living in a jungle requires knowledge and skillstill good at least that living in a jungle requires knowledge and skillstill good at least that living in a jungle requires knowledge and skillstill good at least that living in a jungle requires knowledge and skillstill good at least that living in a jungle requires knowledge and skillstill good at least that living in a jungle requires knowledge and skillstill good at least that living in a jungle requires knowledge and skillstill good at least that living and the skillstill good at least that living a l

To understand the main idea thoroughly, however, we must recognize the important facts or details, which help develop or support it. These facts and details give us a deeper understanding of the main idea. They may prove a point, show a relationship between ideas, or serve as examples to help us understand the main idea more fully.

Here are some ways to help us recognize important facts or details:

Which sentence expresses the writer's opinion?

3. Distinguishing Between Facts and Opinions

Writers often write stories, essays, and articles to express opinions about people, places, events, or ideas. By understanding who the narrator is and what the stated facts are, we can sense plant diseases. (Blut at the same time we have retired by the writer).

Understanding the writer's point of view depends on our ability to tell the difference between fact and opinion. Statements that can be proved or disproved with evidence are facts. Opinions cannot be proved or disproved. A writer can, however, persuade the reader to accept an opinion by giving supporting facts.

The automobile has solved some problems. It gives people freedom. With a car a person can go where he pleases and when he pleases. But the automobile has also helped create some big problems. One obvious problem is traffic jams. In New York City a horse and carriage once could travel about ten miles an hour. Now in the central part of the city, cars often creep along at eight miles an hour. Another is the high rate of automobile accidents. More than a thousand Americans die in them the ground every month.

Here the author shows what he likes and what he does not by describing both the bright side and the dark side of using cars. His yiewpoints are clearly shown in "The automobile has solved some problems" (bright side) and in "But the automobile has also helped create some big problems" (dark side). Besides these commenting sentences, he also shows his dislike by using the verb. "creep" to describe the slow movement of cars in a crowded city. You should pay attention to the commenting sentences and the particular language the author uses to describe a fact while reading. ice that I have nothing in common with these newcomers. 4. Making Inferences

In reading, we must make an inference so that we can reach a decision based on evidence we think to be true because writers sometimes do not have their ideas clearly stated. They expect the readers to draw inferences in order to get a clearer understanding of the ideas implied. Suggested meaning sometimes is part of the total meaning of a passage. If we miss the suggested meaning, we may miss the main point of what the writer is saying.

We might get an inference through conversation — how someone said something or maybe what was left unsaid. Inference may be drawn by analyzing characters and their actions, and by determining the mood of the speaker. They may be based on facts and must be assembled by the reader. A fact can usually be found in the passage, but an inference is more of a feeling drawn from reasoning.

Tagging a Conclusion

Tagging a Conclusion

Drawing a conclusion means arriving at the only decision from the stated evidence. A reader can draw an accurate conclusion from a statement, a paragraph or a longer piece of writing only when he understands what the writer intends to say. So learning to draw an accurate conclusion from the stated facts can help the reader to sum up logically the ideas expressed in the writing. As you read, try to get a sense of the writer's organization. Look for the central ideas, but do not neglect the supporting detail, which the writer uses to reach his conclusions or support his argument.

A: The traffic seems awfully heavy. It's unusual.
B: No, ma'am. It's about the same this time every day.

Skimming to Get the Gist of a Reading Material

H. There is often a great deal of material that students would like to cover either because they are interested in a particular field or because they wish to do so to meet course requirements. Skimming is getting the essence of material without reading all of it. Using an average rate of speed to cover a large amount of reading matter would take much more time than is usually available. Good readers, however, can cope with a great deal of material by skimming. So when skimming, we go through the sading material quickly in order to get the gist of it, to know how it is organized, or to get an idea of the tone or the intention of the writer. Skimming is therefore a more thorough activity which repuires an overall view of the text and implies a definite reading competence. For instance, we may well skim through an article first just to know whether it is worth reading, then read it through more carefully because we have decided that it is of interest. It is also possible afterwards to scan the same article in order to note down a figure or a name, which we particularly want to remember.
