St. George and the Dragon

Barbara Chatwin

Two enjoyable stories for children who love reading about ogres and dragons!

In the first story, St George saves the people and children of a town by killing a terrible dragon.

The second story is about a very small boy who is captured by an enormous ogre. Using his intelligence, he can free himself and return home.

ST. GEORGE AND THE DRAGON

"Hello...Hello. Is there anyone there?", calls George.

"How strange! This town is deserted¹.
There are no people and the shops are closed²".

A door opens and a man comes out.

"Come in the house, quickly", he says.
George gets off his horse and follows
the man in the house.
