ABOUT THE AUTHORS

Eric Baatz has held a variety of managerial and programming jobs in the New England computer industry during the last 17 years. He has most recently been writing UNIX applications that deal with words. He was a contributing author to Que's Using WordPerfect for Windows, Special Edition, and Using MS-DOS 6, Special Edition.

Robert M. Beck, a former judge and attorney, is a computer consultant specializing in the electronic automation of law offices in Oklahoma City. He also is a consultant to several software companies and has written on-line help systems for DOS and Windows programs. Beck is the author or contributing author of several Que books, including Using LetterPerfect; Using WordPerfect 5.1, Special Edition; WordPerfect 5.1 Tips, Tricks, and Traps, 3rd Edition; Using WordPerfect 5.1 for Windows, Special Edition; and Using WordPerfect 5.2 for Windows, Special Edition.

Paul Friedman works for National Benefit Resources in Minneapolis. He is a long-time WordPerfect user, CompuServe WordPerfect forum regular, and a noted printer and fonts expert.

Read Gilgen, Ph.D., is Director of Learning Support Services at the University of Wisconsin, Madison. He started using computers in 1981 and WordPerfect shortly thereafter. He also is a WordPerfect Certified Resource and independent trainer/consultant. He is the author of Que's WordPerfect for Windows Hot Tips.

Susan Hafer has been working with computers in New England for more than a decade. She has been learning and teaching WordPerfect to college staff, faculty, and students for much of that time. She also occasionally does demonstrations for the Boston Computer Society WordPerfect User Group.

Rick Hellewell is a microcomputer specialist for the city of Sacramento. At home, he is the resident "computer guru," working as a part-time consultant. His wife Pam and three children (Christine, Jason, and Stacy) know that they can find him in the home office staring at his computer for hours at a time.

ABOUT THE AUTHORS

Marilyn Horn Claff is a Boston based computer consultant and trainer specializing in WordPerfect Corporation's products. Marilyn is also a Certified Resource for WordPerfect and the Director of the Boston Computer Society WordPerfect for DOS and WordPerfect for Windows special interest group. Since 1988, Marilyn has been the assistant sysop on the CompuServe's WordPerfect forum and a beta tester for WordPerfect for DOS and WordPerfect for Windows.

Steve Konicki is a Florida-based computer consultant who specializes in Microsoft Windows, Windows applications, and systems design for business. Konicki writes for computer magazines, particularly on Windows and Windows software. Using WordPerfect 6, Special Edition, is Konicki's seventh book for Que Corporation. He has also authored or coauthored other books for Que, including Killer Windows Utilities, Windows Hot Tips, Tuning Windows 3.1, Upgrading to Windows 3.1, and Using WordPerfect 5.2 for Windows.

Gordon McComb is a WordPerfect specialist and consultant and the author of WordPerfect 5.1 Macros and Templates, which won PC Magazine's Editors' Choice Award. He is also the author of Que's I Hate Windows.

Gordon Nelder-Adams is the WordPerfect expert for the Sacramento PC Users Group and a Computing Assistant at the University of California, Davis. He is the leader of the WordPerfect Special Interest Group for both organizations. He has used WordPerfect extensively since Version 4.0 and has been a beta tester for many WordPerfect products. He was a contributing author for Que's Using WordPerfect for Windows, Special Edition, and is author of Que's forthcoming Crystal Clear WordPerfect 6.0.

Professor William J. Palm, Department of Mechanical Engineering, the University of Rhode Island, is the author of two engineering textbooks. He has also contributed chapters on WordPerfect to two other books published by Que.

Judy Petersen provides software training and support through a retail facility and the local school board vocational education program. In her own business, Judy is a lawyer, computer software consultant, and trainer for businesses and individuals in the Tallahassee area. She is a coauthor of Que's Using WordPerfect for Windows, Special Edition; Using WordPerfect 5.2 for Windows, Special Edition; Upgrading to Windows 3.1; and Killer Windows Utilities. She was also one of the revision authors for Using PC Tools 8, Special Edition.

ABOUT THE AUTHORS

Gary J. Pickavet is the Assistant Superintendent of Schools responsible for Business and Data Processing Services for the Santa Barbara County Education Office, and he is a member of the California Department of Education Statewide Microcomputer Advisory Committee. He has used WordPerfect extensively since Version 3.0 and was a beta tester for WordPerfect 5, 5.1, and WordPerfect for Windows. As an author, Gary co-wrote Que's Using WordPerfect for Windows, Special Edition; Upgrading to Windows 3.1; and Killer Windows Utilities.

Sue Plumley owns and operates Humble Opinions, a consulting firm that offers training in most popular software programs. In addition, Sue is the author of Que's Look Your Best with Word for Windows, Look Your Best with Ami Pro, and Windows 3.1 SureSteps. She is also a contributing author to Using Ami Pro 3, Special Edition, and Using OS/2 2.1, Special Edition.

Anthony W. Rairden is the principal in Rairden Associates, a strategic marketing consulting firm based in Nashville, Tennessee. He has also provided computer systems consulting for many of his marketing consulting clients. A microcomputer user since 1980, he is a long-time WordPerfect user with extensive experience using and beta testing WordPerfect Corporation products.

Steven M. Schafer is a Product Development Specialist for Que Corporation. He has a wealth of WordPerfect knowledge and was formerly the editor of the international newsletter The WordPerfectionist.

C. Brian Scott is the managing shareholder of the Portland, Oregon law firm of Danner, Scott & Martin P.C. A user of WordPerfect since Version 4.0, he has used WordPerfect to create several law practice applications and innumerable forms. He was a contributing author for Que's WordPerfect Tips, Tricks, and Traps, 2nd Edition; Using WordPerfect 5.1, Special Edition; and WordPerfect 5.1 Tips, Tricks, and Traps, 3rd Edition.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

Using WordPerfect 6, Special Edition, is the result of the immense efforts of many dedicated and talented people. Que Corporation thanks the following people for their contributions to the development of this book:

The many WordPerfect experts who contributed to this book, for their expertise, enthusiasm, professionalism, and dogged determination to ensure a timely and authoritative book. Their excellent work reinforces our belief that collaborative computer book efforts represent a tremendous value for readers. Although group efforts are fraught with their own set of problems, this book is much stronger for having been a collaboration. Many of the contributors to this book participated in the Que WordPerfect Writers Conference held in Indianapolis in July 1992, to begin planning the challenging collaborative effort that eventually led to Using WordPerfect 6.

Special thanks go to Tony Rairden for critical assistance early on in determining the scope of the book, developing an outline, passing along important insights and information at critical junctures, and serving as an excellent sounding board (he now understands why there are sandbags around the office).

Steve Schafer of Que Corporation, "WordPerfect guy" extraordinaire, deserves high praise and thanks for being an immensely helpful, always informed, and tireless colleague on this project. In addition to developing text and troubleshooting many problems as they arose, Steve set up and maintained the bulletin board system at Que that enabled many of the authors to communicate with each other and the Que staff around the clock.

Editing Team Leader Tracy Barr, for her exceptional efforts in coordinating the editing of the book, keeping it on schedule and true to the original vision, and being remarkably patient with tardy authors. Many thanks to editors Joy Preacher, Lori Lyons, and Chris Nelson, for their outstanding work and the many hours they put in to help ensure the accuracy, quality, and readability of the text. Thanks also to Anne Owen and Jane Cramer, who stepped in to help when their schedules permitted. And to G.P., once again, for those "strange and beautiful fish."

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

Technical editors Bob Beck, Tom Simondi, and Gary Karasik for their attentive technical review of the manuscript. Publisher David Ewing and Associate Publisher Rick Ranucci for making this project possible and for providing direction, support, and guidance. Jill Stanley, Julia Blount, Debbie Abshier, and Betsy Brown, for their support to the product development and editing staff working on this book. Michael Nolan and Graphica Design and Communications Group, for the cover design, and Amy Peppler-Adams, for the internal design for the book. Thanks also to figure specialist Wil Thebodeau for his assistance with the book's illustrations.

WordPerfect Corporation, for the incredible effort that went into the development of WordPerfect 6. Thanks to publisher's liaison Lesa Carter, for keeping the authors supplied with software, and to beta coordinator Tracey Goden for managing the process so smoothly and professionally.
