THE LIBRARY ENCYCLOPÆDIA

(In Preparation).

By the
FOREMOST AUTHORITIES.

Edited by
ALEX. J. PHILIP,

Borough Librarian, Gravesend, Hon. Sec. of the Book Production Committee of the Library Association, Author of "The Dickens Dictionary," "The Production of the Printed Catalogue," "Gravesend: the Water Gate of London," "The Office Companion," etc. Editor of "Captain John Smith's Adventures," The Library Section of the "Literary Year Book," 1907-8-9; "The Libraries, Museums, and Art Galleries Year Book"; "London Boroughs Series of Historical Topographies"; Contributor on Library Topics to the "Times," "Local Government Review," "Daily Chronicle," etc., etc.

To be issued by Subscription. Price Thirty Shillings.

After publication the price will be raised.

THE LIBRARY ENCYCLOPÆDIA will be demy octavo, containing approximately 700 pages, and will be illustrated wherever it is considered necessary. It has been necessary to fix the price at 30s. This price will be increased to 40s., should the volume be offered for sale after publication to non-subscribers. Such an Encyclopædia as this will be invaluable to the small library as well as the large, and will become a vade mecum to the assistant. Even the highly trained and efficient librarian will find it incomparable as a refresher for the memory.

THE LIBRARY ENCYCLOPÆDIA will deal comprehensively with Library Administration, Book Purchasing, Library History, Library Plans and Buildings, Classification, Cataloguing, Office Work and Routine, Mechanical Aids, Advertising, Heating, Lighting, Ventilating, and the various contributory branches of knowledge, Binding, Paper, the Preservation of Records, Museum Work, Practical Printing, Bibliography, Estimating, Specification Work, and all the numerous subjects either directly or indirectly connected with work in public, proprietary, and private libraries and museums.

Amongst the many eminent authorities who will assist in the compilation of the work, the following have already kindly promised to write on special subjects:—Mr. Douglas Cockerell, Mr. C. T. Jacobi, Mr. R. A. Peadie, Mr. Alfred W. Pollard, Mr. R. W. Sindall, Mr. J. Herbert Slater, and Mr. H. B. Wheatley.
