序
Preface

Let's start with Mr. Kan's interests of collecting scales. As I know, Mr. Kan has collected many different kinds of scales. He even uses the scale as his design elements. In one of his posters there's a broken scale, which was meaningful and thought-provoking.

I wonder why Mr. Kan enjoys this that much. There may be some reasons, for he was an apprentice during his early years, yet there are still some others. As a tailors' posterity, I'm also deeply interested in scales. A tailor's chalk (with it we draw the contour lines to cut out the clothes) shifts with the scale when making clothes, of the moment the straight scale is more than a scale but design criteria and even designer's another pen. In the past, masters ceremoniously conferred the prentices with scale, thread and needle to express that prentices were graduated and could start their own tailors' lives. Now this special meaning of a scale disappears with the development of pipelinning slopwork.

Therefore I believe that Mr. Kan's belief of the scale: a scale makes us memorize the traditional culture and also becomes a symbol to initiate 'Yi' and 'Dao' (art and skills). Isn't that the purpose to set up the Kan Tai-keung Design Award for the youth?

Kan Tai-keung Design Award has been successfully held six times since 1999. During these six years many of the young students who participated in this competition or won the Award have become successful to the society. What a great award set up by Mr. Kan! He has done a lot to encourage the youth who aspire to devote themselves to design, and also he made great efforts to the design education of Mainland China!

I always focus on how participants elucidate each theme. Mr. Kan lives and works in Hong Kong, a place where the East meets with the West. He stands at the entrance where the Western culture moves into the Mainland. He is fully aware of the question of cultural identity within the design arena. Graphic design isn't a big deal, yet from its development we know the history of how the Chinese live, and how our society develops, how economic grows, how aesthetic interests and consumptive styles change. The theme was the "Traditional Chinese Iconography and Modern Visual Design" last year, and this year it is the "Chinese Character". Is there anything else could replace these two most representative elements (iconography and character) that stand for the Chinese spirit?

先从靳埭强先生喜欢收藏“尺”说起，我知道靳先生收藏有各式古尺无数，他甚至将它作为设计的表现元素，记得他有一幅以折断了的老尺作主题的招贴，意象独特，耐人寻味。

我常在想，靳先生为何有如此独特的收藏？是因为早年的裁缝学徒生涯吗？可能有关系，但不会是全部的理由。作为一个几代裁缝的后人，我也对尺有着特殊的感情，划粉（在布上画出设计好的衣服裁剪轮廓的一种三角形粉笔薄片）随着尺的位置变化沙沙游走，衣服的前襟后片逐渐显出形状，此时，那根直直的尺是灵巧和万能的，是一种设计标准，同时还是设计师的另一支笔。过去裁缝学成满师，师傅隆重授予他的就是：尺、线、针。从此，徒弟就可以走天涯了，但随着成衣业的兴起，对服装进行流水线般的切割，使“尺”的意义和趣味消失了。

因此，我有理由认为，在靳先生的心中，“尺”既是一种对传统的文化怀旧，同时还有将它作为“艺、道”衣钵传人的象征物的含义。我想，这不也正是靳先生设立“靳埭强设计奖”的本意吗？

从1999年起，“靳埭强设计奖”比赛已经举办了六届，参与和获奖的青年学子，有许多都已经“满师成才”。靳先生以一己之力设奖，对中国有志于献身设计的年轻人鼓励可谓大矣！对中国设计教育的贡献可谓巨矣！

我很注意每届设计奖主题的阐释。靳先生在香港这个中西交汇的地方生活创作，站在西风东渐的最前沿，对设计中的民族文化身份问题体会尤深，感情尤烈，平面设计虽“小事”，但累积一定时间，沿着历史的纵向脉络，就可看到一部形象的中国人生活艺术史，我们的社会变迁、经济发展、审美意趣、消费时尚就深藏在其中。去年的主题

是中国传统图形与现代视觉设计，今年的主题是中国文字，试问，还有什么元素比中国的图形和文字最能代表中国精神？

沿着传统向现代出发，向中国以外的世界出发，对青年设计师来说，其意味深长又极具挑战性，因为，我们身受西方文化的影响。在发达国家，已经有很多人在反对“全球化”，理由是全球化在损害地方经济的同时，也在侵蚀文化的多元化。且不论这些观点是否正确，但我们看看那些生长的西方国家的别族后裔，再看看拉美的许多曾经被殖民的国家的文化现状，作为中国传统文化的传承者，我们应该怎么办？

因此，我很高兴这届的“靳埭强设计奖”的参赛范围开始扩大到全球华人大学生。

在本届设计奖的颁奖礼上，我曾作为专家点评获奖作品。在汕头大学科学报告厅里，人头攒动，高朋满座，大屏幕上一张张获奖作品依次打出，真是佳作如云，我与大家一同分享着这些。长江后浪推前浪，短短几个小时成为我终生都难以忘怀的经历。

我甚至突发奇想，建议下届的“奖杯”就是一把经过设计的中国“尺”。

It is a great challenge for Chinese young designers; they should know how to inspire from the traditional culture to modern design and from China inside to the international. Everything around us has become westernized. In developed countries, many people fight against the globalization, because they think it destroys not only the local economy but also the variety of culture. Not to say whether these opinions are right or wrong, just look at other ethical descendants living in western countries as well as the cultural actuality of the colonized countries in Latin America. As inheritors of the Chinese traditional culture, what should we do then?

Thus, I am so glad that this Award in 2005 extends its young Chinese candidates from inner China to all over the world. I appreciated the prized works as a judge this time in the symposium. There are many friends around the world in the Shantou University Science Lecture Hall; and we shared all the excellent works! The few hours there were the most unforgettable time in my life.

Here I am thinking of Mr. Kan's scale at the time when the 2005 collective works is going to be published. After all these awarded works "measured" by the judges of prestige designers, the scale now gets its new measurement. The Master's scale is power, which encourages the youth to make still further progress. An idea suddenly occurred to me that let's prepare the awards with designed Chinese scales next year!

Welcome Address from Kan Tai-keung

I'm still nervous (laugh)... because this award is of great significance to my life. I dislike making formal speech, so I begin with an anecdote. The name of Kan Tai-keung Design Award was not initiated by me. Once, I was invited to be the guest professor of Wuxi Institute of Light Industry in Eastern China. One of the leaders suggested that I created some scholarships for their students. "No problem", I said. Later, he proposed to enlarge the scope from his institute to the whole country for university students who had love for design to compete for the scholarship. I replied: "I will pay whatever is required for it". He then named this award "Kan Tai-keung Design Award". This year, the seventh year, saw more and more entries, increasing from over three thousand works last year to over four thousand. Every year, I invite judges of international standard. Yet it is exhausting for them to evaluate all works at one time, so the competition is divided into semifinal and final rounds. For the semifinal, I invite leaders and experts from universities of standing to participate. This year, judges of the semifinal include representatives from Tsinghua University, The Central Academy of Fine Arts and our university. Besides, a design expert from Guangdong was also invited. They completed the semifinal judging in earnest. I am very grateful to them.

My friend told me that during the semifinal, the judges were touched and talked a lot. They quenched why this award was named Keung Tai-keung Award, as normally a person after whom an award was named had passed away. (The audience laughed). Yet I am still alive and pretty young! (Laugh) As to why it is called Keung Tai-keung Award, how come I have not asked such a question? Is the award wrongly named? Yet I know that many young people take part in this competition because of my name. They love me. In fact, the award name is of no significance. I think I am happier than Nobel, since I know that my awards are successful, that every year winning entries are all excellent, that awardees are moved and encouraged, and that they have very good prospects in the design profession. I still keep an eye on them. Although many successful people have been awarded Nobel Prizes. Nobel had no chance to know who were awarded and to see the joyful scene. For this reason, I feel I am happier than Nobel. (The audience laughed.) Thank you.

That ends the story. I sincerely thank all participants, who love my name and support the activity so much. I also congratulate awardees of this year and past years. Congratulations, young friends! I am grateful to all participating universities for supporting this activity by organizing and collecting so many entries, and to many teachers who provide precious

尊敬的谢部长，各位领导、各位设计界的专家、各位嘉宾、老师同学们晚上好！

我还是有点紧张（笑）……因为这个奖对于我来说是人生的一件大事。我不喜欢正正经经来做一个演讲，所以我想先说一点小故事：靳埭强设计奖这个名称其实不是我提出来的，当时是因为华东的无锡轻工大学邀请我去当客座教授，学校的一位领导提议我设置一些奖学金给他们的大学生，我说没问题。后来他又提议说不要只是给他们的大学生，不如让全国喜欢设计的大学生都来争取这个奖金。我说这个奖金需要多少钱，我就给多少钱，于是他就把这个奖叫做靳埭强设计奖。今年已经第七届了，有越来越多的参赛作品，去年三千多件，今年达到了四千多件。每届比赛我都是请具有国际水准的评委来评选，不过让他们一次看这么多作品太累，所以比赛评选的设置就分成了初评与终评。初评我都是邀请有代表性的院校领导专家过来参与，今年的初评评委包括有清华大学的代表、中央美院的代表以及我们本校代表，另外也邀请了一位广州广告设计界的专家，他们非常认真负责地完成了初评工作，感谢他们！

有朋友告诉我：评委们在初评过程中很为感动，也谈了很多话，其中谈到为什么这个奖叫靳埭强设计奖。他们说，通常用一个人的名字来命名奖项的时候，这个人已经是不在了（大家笑）。那么我还在啊，还是很年轻嘛（笑）。为什么会有个靳埭强设计奖？我怎么就从没有想过这个问题呢？是不是这个奖的名字起错了呢？但我知道，因为我的名字而有很多年轻人喜欢参加这个比赛，他们都还爱我。其实这个奖的名字是什么并不重要，而且我想我比诺贝尔幸福，因为我知道我的奖很成功，我知道每一年得奖的作品都很优秀，得奖人都很感动也很受鼓励，他们后来的设计发展前途也很好，我还在看着他们。诺贝尔奖虽然

颁给了很多成功的人士，但诺贝尔本人并不知道是谁拿的奖，他在世的时候也没有看到这种快乐的场面，所以我觉得我比诺贝尔幸福、快乐（大家笑），谢谢。

故事说完了，我衷心地感谢所有参加这个比赛的同学，你们对我的名字这么爱护，对这个活动这么支持。也恭喜这届还有以前很多届获奖的大学生、青年朋友，恭喜你们。我还要谢谢所有参与的院校，你们非常支持这个活动，组织很多作品来参赛。谢谢老师们花很多心思来为学生指导作品。当然还有很重要的一点就是评委们的努力，这才使得优秀的作品不断地被发掘出来。可能有些年轻人不知道这些作品为什么能获选，这不要紧，你们慢慢看，慢慢想，就会知道为什么这些作品能做得这么好。

今年我跟王粤飞、黄炳培在终评的过程中也十分感动，他们都说觉得不是在评学生的比赛，已经像是在做国际设计比赛的评审了，选出来的奖项实至名归，所以我衷心地感谢他们，也衷心地表扬这些得奖的同学。最后还要对支持这个奖的社会各界人士，包括市领导、各位专家，还有我们的学生、工作人员和所有对这个比赛付出过努力的人表示感谢！

guidance to their students. Last but no least, through the effort of the judges, excellent entries can be discovered without disruption. Perhaps some young people may not understand why these works were awarded. Never mind. If you watch and think slowly, you should be able to appreciate why they are excellent.

During the final, Wang Yue-fei, Stanley Wong and I were deeply touched. They said they felt not like judging students' works. Rather, they were judging for an international design competition and the selected entries deserved the awards. For this I am really grateful to them and sincerely give my applause to the awardees. Finally, I thank those who support this award, including the public, city leaders, experts, students, staff members and all people who have contributed to the competition.
