Foreword

Six editions later, the Pingyao International Photography Festival (PIP) has established itself as an important international stage for photography exchange and become the most identifiable brand of Shanxi for cross-cultural communications. In May this year, the PIP organizing committee held two exhibitions: "Close-up of India" in Taiyuan, capital of Shanxi Province and "PIP Best Works" In Tibet, both of which received rave reviews from people in all walks

The 2007 Pingyao International Photography Festival will, with the blessing of the Ministry of Culture, continue to be celebrated in the ancient city of Pingyao from 19 to 25 September. With the theme of "Win-win Cooperation," this edition sets its sights on encouraging the exchange of a wide spectrum of cultural elements and the showing of a multitude of creative styles, as well as promoting the communication, cooperation, development and synergy between different regions and ethnicities. India, Japan, Mexico, Egypt and Latvia will take part in all the programs as guests of honor. Meanwhile, 300 or so photographers and 20 curators from forty-seven countries and regions, including the USA, France, Germany, the UK. Spain, Belgium, Malaysia and Singapore, will grace the festival with their presence. PIP will as usual offer its full calendar of programs and events, like the Third China Mobile Cell Phone Photography Festival &, Cell Phone Photo Competition, slide screening evenings, DV shows, international photography forums, curator's workshops, portfolio reviews by internationally-renowned masters, stock photo trade. And there are several awards up for grabs. such as "Best Photo Alburn," "Top Photographers." "Best International School Exhibition."

To record these gargeous images, we have got some of the best photos culled from 10,000 or so shots compiled into this album.

The ancient city of Pingyao is a famous World Cultural Heritage site while PIP is a grand gathering of domestic and international photographers. Photographers and photo buffs from all over the world, a warm welcome to Shanxi and Pingyao.
