About the Author

Faith Wempen, M.A., is a Microsoft Office Master Instructor, an A+ Certified PC technician, and an adjunct instructor of Computer Information Technology at Indiana University/Purdue University at Indianapolis. She is the author of more than 140 books on computer hardware and software, and her online courses have educated more than a quarter of a million students for corporate clients, including Hewlett Packard and Sony.

About the Contributors

Rosemary Hattersley is a UK-based tech journalist with extensive experience writing for PC Advisor, Computeractive, and Macworld as well as a number of other technology and business websites and publications. She is the author of Hudl for Dummies and co-author of Wiley's iPad For the Older and Wiser, 3rd Edition, both from Wiley.

Richard Millet is a lead instructor working for Firebrand Training. He has over 30 years of experience in the computer industry and has worked with all versions of Windows since its inception. He is responsible for producing training material for companies, specialising in computer security. He also delivers technical training on a wide variety of subjects to all age groups from college students upwards. He currently lives in Berkshire, England with his wife Shelagh and Merlin the cat.

Kate Shoup has authored more than 30 books and has edited scores more. Kate has also co-written a feature-length screenplay (and starred in the ensuing film) and worked as the Sports Editor for NUVO Newsweekly. When not writing, Kate, an IndyCar fanatic, loves to ski, read, and ride her motorcycle. She lives in Indianapolis with her fiancé, her daughter, and their dog.

Acknowledgments

Thank you to my wonderful editing team at Wiley, including Chris Webb, Ellie Scott, Sara Shlaer, Richard Millett, Nick Vandome, and Debbye Butler for keeping me on track and making my writing as good as it can be. Your professionalism and good humor made this a pleasant project, and your editing skills made it a quality product.
