前 言

《实用英语》是一套供高等专科学校使用的英语教材。本教材的编写以国家教育委员会1993年颁发的《普通高等专科学校英语课程教学基本要求》为依据。《基本要求》规定：普通高等专科学校英语课程教学的目的是，培养学生掌握必需的，实用的英语语言知识和技能，具有阅读和翻译与本专业有关的英文资料的初步能力，并为进一步提高英语的应用能力打下一定的基础。

为了体现上述教学目的，在编写《实用英语》过程中我们既注意吸收现代外语教学理论中适合我国英语教学实际的某些观点，又采纳传统外语教学的某些合理部分，结合我国外语教学中行之有效的理论和方法及现状，力求正确处理好语言基础和语言应用的关系，突出加强语言能力的培养和实际运用，最终达到使学生通过两年的学习，具有阅读和翻译与本专业有关的英文资料的初步能力，并为今后进一步提高英语的应用能力打下一定的基础。

《基本要求》将专科英语课程教学分为两个阶段：第一阶段应重视语言共核教学，培养基本的语言技能；第二阶段应结合专业，强调基本的阅读和翻译技能在本专业的实际应用。为了体现这一教学安排，本套教材也分成两个阶段。第一阶段包括《综合教程》和《泛读教程》各3册，第二阶段包括《实用业务英语》1册。《综合教程》和《泛读教程》是《实用业务英语》的基础，并在教学内容、技能培养方面逐渐向《实用业务英语》过渡；《实用业务英语》是《综合教程》和《泛读教程》的总结和提高，并结合学生毕业后使用英语的需要，侧重于实用文体的阅读和翻译、实用英语口语的训练和实用文体模拟写作方面的训练。

本书为《泛读教程》第一册，供第一学期与《综合教程》配套使用。本册共有10个单元，每个单元由3篇文章组成。文章A (Passage A) 为重点泛读材料，供课堂上使用；文章B (Passage B) 为快速限时阅读材料，既可在课堂上使用，也可在课后由学生独立完成。每篇文章均标出词数和建议阅读时间，学生完成后，教师只需在课堂上核对一下答案，学生就可以知道自己的阅读成绩；文章C (Passage C) 为课外阅读材料。全书选文既注意了与《综合教程》的配合，又体现了多样化，内容包括外国风情、生活趣事、科普知识、金融贸易、学习策略等。我们认为有趣的文章才能激发学生的学习兴趣，注意趣味性 with 知识性的结合，兼顾文理工各专业是我们选材的标准。本书书末附有阅读文章中出现的所有生词，用中英文注释。为了培养学生查阅字典的能力，在词汇表的编排中，我们给予多种词义，供学生查阅、选择、判断词汇在文章中的具体含义。

我们相信,这样安排有利于扩大学生的阅读量,有利于学生实际阅读能力的提高,还有利于课堂组织教学。

高等专科英语教材编写组由参加本套教材的编写者组成。

《实用英语》总主编为吴银庚。

《泛读教程》第一册主编为长春建筑高等专科学校安晓灿,沈阳工业高等专科学校翟志明。

沈阳工业高等专科学校刘坤完成全书文字的输入工作,立信会计高等专科学校俞敏参加了本书的部分编排工作。

本书由专科英语教材编审组顾问大连理工大学孔庆炎教授和上海交通大学刘鸿章教授审阅。对于这两位专家的宝贵意见和贡献,编者在此表示衷心感谢。

本书在高等教育出版社出版前,曾在部分省市试用。为了使《实用英语》不断完善,编者希望使用本书的教师和学生在使用过程中继续提出宝贵的意见。

The Successful Language Learner

1

Some people seem to have the ability to learn languages. They can pick up new vocabulary, master rules and grammar, and learn to write in the new language more quickly than others. They do not seem to be any more intelligent than others, so what makes language learning so much easier for them? Perhaps if we take a close look at these successful language learners we may discover a few of the techniques which make language learning easier for them.

First of all, successful language learners are independent learners. They do not depend on the book or the teacher; they discover their own way to learn the language. Instead of waiting for the teacher to explain, they try to find the patterns and the rules for themselves. They are good guessers who look for clues and form their own conclusions. When they guess wrong, they guess again. They try to learn from their mistakes.

Successful language learning is active learning. Therefore, successful learners do not wait for a chance to use the language; they look for such a chance. They find people who speak the language and they ask these people to correct them when they make a mistake. They will try anything to communicate. They are not afraid to repeat what they hear or to say strange things; they are willing to make mistakes and try again. When communication is difficult, they can accept information that is inexact or incomplete. It is more important for them to learn to think in the language than to know the meaning of every word.

Finally, successful language learners are learners with a purpose. They want to learn the language because they are interested in the language and the people who speak it. It is necessary for them to learn the language in order to communicate with these people and to learn from them. They find it easy to practice using the language regularly because they want to learn with it.

What kind of language learner are you? If you are a successful language learner, you have probably been learning independently, actively, and purposefully. On the other hand, if your language learning has been less than successful, you might do well to¹ try some of the techniques outlined above.

For Your Information

NUMBER OF WORDS: 362

SUGGESTED READING TIME: 12 MINUTES

Are you looking for a good book to read? Do you need information about universities in the United States? Do you want to know the correct price of a used car? Would you like to read newspapers and magazines from different countries? Do you need a quiet place to study? Did you answer “yes” to any of these questions? Then you should visit “the information place”—your local library.

A library is more than just a place where books are stored. A library is a source of information. That information may come from books (fiction, non-fiction, or reference books), from periodicals (newspapers, magazines, and journals), from audio-visual material (records, cassettes, microfilm, video tapes, etc.), or even from a computer terminal.

Students go to libraries to study and to write research papers. The periodicals room of a university library is where foreign students often find newspapers and magazines from their countries. In the reference room, they can find catalogues from many universities in the U.S. and other countries. If you are buying a used car, the reference librarian can show you the Blue Book¹, which lists the prices of new and used cars. People who need information in a hurry can telephone the reference librarian at many libraries.

There are as many different library services as there are types of people who use them. Children's libraries provide materials for young readers. They sometimes have story-tellers who read stories to groups of children, and a few have computers for the children to play with. Music lovers can listen to recordings of their favorite musicians in music libraries. Some libraries have painting and sculpture exhibits, and most libraries offer special services for blind people, such as books in Braille, “talking books”, and Kurzweil Reading Machines².

Libraries provide entertainment as well as information. Novels and short stories from a library's fiction collection are a good source of enjoyable reading practice. Public libraries often sponsor lectures on topics of interest to members of the community, and a few even offer concerts and films. No matter what your interests are, you will find that a library can be a great place to enjoy yourself while you learn.

Color

What is your favorite color? Do you like yellow, orange, red? If you do, you must be an optimist, a leader, an active person who enjoys life, people, and excitement. Do you prefer grays and blues? Then you are probably quiet, shy and you'd rather follow than lead¹. You tend to be a pessimist. At least, this is what psychologists tell us, and they should know, because they have been studying seriously the meaning of color preference, as well as the effect that colors have on human beings. They tell us, among other facts, that we don't choose our favorite color as we grow up—we are born with our preference. If you happen to love brown, you did so as soon as you opened your eyes, or at least as soon as you could see clearly.

¹ you'd rather follow than lead: 你宁愿跟在别人后面, 也不愿去领导别人。

Colors do influence our moods, there is no doubt about it. A yellow room makes most people feel more cheerful and more relaxed than a dark green one; and a red dress brings warmth and cheer to the saddest winter day. On the other hand, black is depressing. A black bridge over the Thames River, near London, used to be the scene of more suicides than any other bridge in the area until it was repainted green. The number of suicide attempts immediately fell sharply; perhaps it would have fallen even more if the bridge had been done in pink or baby blue.¹

Light and bright colors make people not only happier but more active. It is an established fact that factory workers work better, harder, and have fewer accidents when their machines are painted orange rather than black or dark gray.

We often associate a particular color with a piece of music, a book, a play, a person, a number, or a letter. Doesn't 3 look red, and 4 yellow? At the beginning of this century a French poet wrote that for him the letter A was always black, E was white, I red, O blue, and U green. For someone else, U might be deep purple or lemon yellow. A tragic story makes you think of black, red, and gold, while love stories vary from red to pink—or maybe light blue? And why did the black American composers of sad jazz music call their songs "blues"?²

Remember, then, that if you feel low you can always brighten your day—or your life—with a new shirt or a few cans of paint. Remember also that you will know your friends and your enemies better when you find out what colors they like and dislike. And don't forget that anyone can guess a lot about your personality when you choose a pair of socks or a cushion.

PRACTICE C

Supply the missing information in the following table according to the passage.

1 baby blue: 淡蓝色

2 "blues": 一种伤感的美国黑人民歌;慢四步爵士舞曲。

UNIT 2

PASSAGES

A: Bring the Past to Life

B: Rent Control (Speed Reading)

C: The Population of the United States

Bring the Past to Life¹

1 Our earth is very old. It holds many secrets about life in the past. Archaeologists dig in the ground and bring out these secrets. They discover objects thousands of years old that inform us about how people lived long ago.

2 Archaeologists work in all parts of the world. Some work in their own countries and others are invited to dig in foreign lands. They set up field camps at sites in Mexico, Italy, China, and the United States. There are famous ruins in Greece, Egypt, and Turkey where archaeologists continue to make important discoveries. Archaeologists dig in the countryside or beneath city streets. Some Americans do underwater archaeology. Wherever they work, all these men and women use their skills to bring the past to life.

In order to get accurate information about the past, archaeologists must work very carefully. Before they begin to dig, archaeologists draw maps and plans of the ground. An archaeologist always digs slowly, using special tools such as picks and brushes. He or she makes notes about each discovery and marks the discovery on a map. Afterward the archaeologists wash all the objects or brush them clean. Then they examine them and take photographs of them.

Archaeologists discover different kinds of objects that tell us how the people in the past lived. In many places tools for hunting and farming are often uncovered. Pots, dishes, jars, and other items of daily use lie among the ruins. In addition to household objects, archaeologists find children's toys and games and jewelry made of stone beads or bone. In the palaces of kings and queens there are splendid objects of gold and silver, wall paintings, statues of important people, and other works of art. When archaeologists dig up the graves of soldiers, they usually find weapons near the bodies. From temples and shrines, they bring out objects of religious meaning.

Sometimes archaeologists find writing on stone, clay, or bone objects. There are many types of texts: business letters from merchants to customers; school exercises in language and mathematics; government regulations and codes of law; reports of armies in battle; poems and stories about heroes, gods, and goddesses. Writing of the past always helps the archaeologist understand the culture and customs of the people.

The earth produces information of other times¹, of life and death, war and peace, work and play, and of gods and human beings. Were these ancient people very different from us? What do you think?

PRACTICE A-1

The following sentences summarize the main idea of the passage. Put them in the right order after filling in the missing words.

- a. Archaeologists bring the past to ____.

1 information of other times: 此处times 用于复数,表示时代
