He was a child fond of freedom.
Every day he would fly here and there on the sky, traveling around.
