Reading is very useful for English learners. When you read, you can both learn some new words and learn how to use them. When you read, it gives you a good 1 for writing.

Read something that you can more or less understand. If you need to stop every three words to use a dictionary, it's not 2 for you.

Try to increase the number of your words. If there are 4 or 5 new words on a page, try to 3 their meanings. Then look them up in a dictionary after reading and write them down in your notebook. Try to 4 them.

Try to read regularly (定期地). Reading for 15 minutes every day is better than two hours every Sunday. Fix (固定) a time to read. For example, you could read for 15 minutes 5 you go to bed or at lunchtime.

Read what interests you. Choose a book or a magazine that you like. You can also read newspapers, for example, 21st Century. There is always something interesting in it.

第二部分*阅读理解

阅读下面的短文,根据要求答题。

一、阅读下面短文,根据短文内容判断句子的正误。正确的填“T”,错误的填“F”。

I often hear some students say English is difficult, and it gives them a headache. But English is very easy for me. I'm good at it. I'm very glad to tell you something about how I study English.

First, I think an interest in English is very important. When I first learned English, it was fresh for me. I was interested in it, so I worked hard at it. Soon we had an English exam and I got a very good mark. How happy I was! After that, I learned English harder and harder. Our English teacher often teaches us English songs, and the songs sound nice. I often think how interesting English is!

Second, I think of English as a foreign language. I should learn it well in the following ways: listen to the teacher carefully, speak bravely, read aloud and have a good vocabulary. Then practice again and again; never be tired. And I also have a good habit; asking whenever I have a question. I must make it clear by asking our English teacher. How happy I am when I understand!

Besides this, I often read English stories, jokes and easy novels. They help me understand a lot of things. So reading more is an important way to learn English well. And I also write English diaries. English has become a close friend of mine.

( )16. Some students often “have a headache” because they are easy to catch a cold.

( )17. The writer tells us that we should be interested in English if we want to learn it well.

( )18. The writer did well in the exam and got great grades.

( )19. According to the writer, English is interesting because his teacher often teaches them nice English songs.

( )20. The writer studies English by writing to foreign friends.

二、阅读下面两篇短文,根据短文内容选择正确答案。

The goal of students who come to school is to study. But if we don't have a right way to study, we will waste the time and the money. The following are the ways of studying.

The best time for reading is morning. Because in the morning, the air is usually fresh and our minds are clear. For that reason, we can get good results.

In studying we must be patient. If we don't know a text well, we must read it again. We shouldn't read the next one until we have learned the first one well.

When we are studying, we must put our hearts into the book, or we can't get anything from the book which we are reading.

We must always ask “whys”. If it is not well understood, write it down and ask our teachers or our parents, or friends, in any possible way. We must know it completely and our knowledge can be used well.

Though there are many ways of studying, the above mentioned (提到的) will be quite enough if we can keep them in heart and do so.

( )21. The passage tells us _____ ways of studying.

A. three

B. four

C. five

How can you remember a song from your childhood to this day? Why do your teachers use songs to teach you English? It seems that there is a scientific (科学的) reason for this.

Researchers are now studying the relationship between music and remembering a foreign language. They find that remembering words in a song is the best way to remember even the most difficult language.

"Singing could be a new way of learning a foreign language. The brain likes to remember things when they are used in a catchy (悦耳易记的) and meaningful way," said Dr. Karen Ludke. The findings may help those who have difficulties learning foreign languages. On his blog, Dr. Ludke writes, "A listen-and-repeat singing method can support foreign language learning and opens the door for future research in this area."

Many language teachers know the value of using music and singing. Hua Zhuying, a teacher at a Chinese language school in Washington D. C. depends heavily on songs in teaching Chinese. She says, "I use music all the time to teach children Chinese. For little kids usually we use music. Not only does it work, but it is fun for kids."

"Sometimes, I think if I were taught English that way, maybe I could speak English much better than now," Hua Zhuying adds.

Our brain likes music, especially for remembering. So, if you're still struggling (奋斗) in learning a language, why not try singing it out?

- ( ) 26. According to the passage, the best way to remember a foreign language is to _____.
A. read and write more

It's important to make a study plan for an exam. For most middle school students, it's a little difficult to go over all the things they have ever learned before the exams. The following are the steps in making a study plan.

The first step is to decide whether you want to study alone or in a group. If you want to study in a group, you need to consider the needs of the whole group when you make the plan.

The next thing is to plan the study time. To make an effective study plan, you need to consider two things: the whole time you have before the exam and the effective study time that you can use to study every day. Try to study for at least two hours every day. If you have little time before the exam, such as one week or less, you need to increase your daily study time.

At last, you should decide what you need to go over and how to do that. Both books and class notes are important study materials (材料). You can divide (分开) the materials into small parts, and then go over them one by one. Remember to spend more time reviewing the most important part.

_____ 46 _____ on how to make a study plan
The first step	◆ Decide whether you want to study in a group or _____ 47 _____.
The second step	◆ Plan the study time. You should consider both the whole time you have before the exam and _____ 48 _____. ◆ Try to study for at least _____ 49 _____ every day.
The last step	◆ Decide what to go over and how to do that. ◆ _____ 50 _____ the important study materials one by one and spend more time reviewing the most important part.

二、阅读下面短文,根据短文内容回答问题。

“I want to know how to speak English well. What can I do?” Bill asks this question like many students do. I ask him, “How do you learn English?” He answers, “Only in the English lessons.” The first thing I will say is, “That is not enough!”

If you want to speak English well, you have to practice. Speak to friends, classmates, people online or in stores. Speaking is the best way to learn a language.

In my lessons I usually ask my students how they feel about speaking English, and they often say “nervous” “scared” or some words like that. The second piece of advice I can give is to relax. Don't worry about making mistakes. If you can't think of the right word to use, don't worry about it; just say what you want to say.

Speaking English well isn't just about practicing your speaking. It is also important to listen to English. Listen to English movies and English TV programs as much as possible.

51. What's Bill's way of learning English?

52. What's the best way to learn English according to the passage?

Thailand's most celebrated festival is the Songkran Festival. It starts on April 13rd and lasts for three days. Songkran is a Thai word which means "move" or "change places" because it is the day when the sun changes its position. It is also known as the "Water Festival" because people believe that water will wash away the bad luck.

The Thai people celebrate this festival with water. Everyone gets wet and since it is the hottest season of the year, the custom is quite enjoyable. Songkran is a public spring-cleaning day, and popular with all the local people. Anything old or useless must be thrown away or it will bring bad luck to the owner.

During the festival, young people put scented (有香味的) water into the hands of elders and parents as a kind of respect. The elders in return wish the young people good luck. People also pour water over each other.

Thailand is almost completely an agricultural society (农业社会) and songkran Festival has also been a perfect time to take a break from hard work.

The Mid-Autumn Festival is an important festival in China. This festival is on the fifteenth day of the eighth month according to the Chinese lunar calendar. Many people like it because it’s a time for family to get together. It is traditional to spend the night with family and loved ones looking up at the moon. People also give and eat mooncakes around the time of the festival. This is the third time I have been in Asia for the festival. The first year I celebrated the festival in Guangzhou. Millions of people travelled through Guangzhou during the festival. Last year I spent the festival in Sanya. I found many people celebrating the festival on the beach. There is dancing, picnics, and a lot of fireworks. This year I spent the holiday in Hong Kong. Here, they celebrated the festival by watching dragon races and other activities. There were also lanterns, lights, mooncakes and bonfire parties(篝火晚 会). For me, the Mid-Autumn Festival has always been a time to get to know Chinese culture and the people around me. I also enjoy admiring the moon and thinking of my family and friends back in Britain and around the world.

- ( ) 26. Why do many Chinese people like the Mid-Autumn Festival?
