The Author*

Georg von Segesser, Doctor of law, FCIArb., is an of Counsel in Schellenberg Wittmer's arbitration group in Zurich.

He studied at the College of Lucerne and graduated from the School of Law of the University of Zurich in 1971. He was admitted to the bar in Switzerland in 1972.

He worked as a Secretary with the District Court of Meilen, canton of Zurich, in 1971/1972. He was then an associate and partner in the law firm Pestalozzi (formerly Pestalozzi & Gmür) between 1973 and 1982, with a two-year interruption during which he worked as a foreign associate in the New York firm Pillsbury Winthrop Shaw Pittman (formerly Winthrop, Stimson, Putnam & Roberts) in 1974/1975. In 1982, Mr von Segesser was a founding partner of Schellenberg, von Segesser and Ronca, which has now become Schellenberg Wittmer Ltd.

Georg von Segesser is mainly active in the field of arbitration, both domestic and international. He has acted as counsel, and as Chairman, party-appointed and sole arbitrator in over 200 ICC, Swiss Chambers, London Court of International Arbitration (LCIA) and other arbitration cases (including ad hoc, United Nations Commission on International Trade Law (UNCITRAL), etc.). The cases in which he was involved as arbitrator or counsel related to engineering and constructions, trade and sales contracts, mergers and acquisitions, financial transactions, shipbuilding contracts, exploration of natural resources, design and management contracts for the entertainment industry, joint ventures, telecommunication and media, patents and trademarks, license agreements, distributorships, manufacturing agreements, agencies, shareholder agreements, and so on. Mr von Segesser was also a director of the Claims Resolution Tribunal for Dormant Accounts, Switzerland in 1998/1999. He is now one of the permanent Chair persons for the arbitration panels for domestic arbitration of the Zurich Chamber of Commerce.

Mr von Segesser is a member of several professional associations, including notably the Swiss Arbitration Association, the International Bar Association, Sections on Arbitration and Art law, the American Arbitration Association, the
