About Wolters Kluwer Law & Business

Wolters Kluwer Law & Business is a leading global provider of intelligent information and digital solutions for legal and business professionals in key specialty areas, and respected educational resources for professors and law students. Wolters Kluwer Law & Business connects legal and business professionals as well as those in the education market with timely, specialized authoritative content and information-enabled solutions to support success through productivity, accuracy and mobility.

Serving customers worldwide, Wolters Kluwer Law & Business products include those under the Aspen Publishers, CCH, Kluwer Law International, Loislaw, ftwilliam.com and MediRegs family of products.

CCH products have been a trusted resource since 1913, and are highly regarded resources for legal, securities, antitrust and trade regulation, government contracting, banking, pension, payroll, employment and labor, and healthcare reimbursement and compliance professionals.

Aspen Publishers products provide essential information to attorneys, business professionals and law students. Written by preeminent authorities, the product line offers analytical and practical information in a range of specialty practice areas from securities law and intellectual property to mergers and acquisitions and pension/benefits. Aspen's trusted legal education resources provide professors and students with high-quality, up-to-date and effective resources for successful instruction and study in all areas of the law.

Kluwer Law International products provide the global business community with reliable international legal information in English. Legal practitioners, corporate counsel and business executives around the world rely on Kluwer Law journals, looseleaves, books, and electronic products for comprehensive information in many areas of international legal practice.

Loislaw is a comprehensive online legal research product providing legal content to law firm practitioners of various specializations. Loislaw provides attorneys with the ability to quickly and efficiently find the necessary legal information they need, when and where they need it, by facilitating access to primary law as well as state-specific law, records, forms and treatises.

ftwilliam.com offers employee benefits professionals the highest quality plan documents (retirement, welfare and non-qualified) and government forms (5500/PBGC, 1099 and IRS) software at highly competitive prices.

MediRegs products provide integrated health care compliance content and software solutions for professionals in healthcare, higher education and life sciences, including professionals in accounting, law and consulting.

Wolters Kluwer Law & Business, a division of Wolters Kluwer, is headquartered in New York. Wolters Kluwer is a market-leading global information services company focused on professionals.

Acknowledgments

From Richard K. Neumann, Jr:

Thank you to Lyn Entrikin and Sheila Simon for the special collaboration that has produced this book and its website. Thanks also to Anne Kringel, Coleen Barger, Mary Beth Beazley, Robin Boyle, Ralph Brill, Jen Gundlach, Derek Kiernan-Johnson, Amy Langenfeld, Jan Levine, Pam Lysaght, Terry Pollman, Ruth Anne Robbins, Amy Stein, Judy Stinson, and Ed Telfeyan for their advice. For research assistance and suggestions, thanks to Elizabeth Brehm, Raf Cheema, Jennifer Garber, Rachael Ringer, Michelle Gordon, Caitlin Locurto, Samuel Lui, Nina Ovrutsky, Laura Schaefer, Matt Weinick, and Frances Zemel. Thanks also to Barbara Dillon, Alex Fiore, Francis Forde, Angelina Ibragimov, Felicia Leo, Alex Leonard, Danielle Manor, Gariel Nahoum, Jody-Ann Tyrell, and Jason Weber for their many suggestions as well. And for sharing their thoughts about professional use of email, we are grateful to the following members of the bar: Elizabeth Brehm, Heather Canning, Mirel Fisch, Evgeny Krasnov, Adam Kahn, Melissa Manna, Ronald Meister, Madelyn Mostiller, and Jane Sovern.

Lill and Alex have taught me much about how to learn and about how textbooks can become both lighter and deeper. At the keyboard I have often wondered what kind of book they might want to learn from in future years, whatever they study.

From J. Lyn Entrikin:

Thank you to Coleen Barger for her wise counsel, and for offering helpful suggestions for the updated chapter on citing and quoting. Many thanks to Matthew Stromberg for allowing us to reprint a portion of his office memo for the exercise on citation placement. Thank you to Mary Algero, Mary Beth Beazley, Ralph Brill, Brad Clary, Sue Leimer, Jan Levine, Pam Lysaght, Anthony Niedwiecki, Craig Smith, Terry Pollman, Suzanne Rowe, and Judy Stinson for their friendship, leadership, and encouragement over the years.

Thanks also to the following former law students and colleagues for responding to our survey about how lawyers use email for day-to-day correspondence with clients and other lawyers: Adam Andersen, Shanelle Dupree, David Jack, Skye Johnson, David C. Jung, Victoria Malony, Matthew Stromberg, Kelly Trussell, Megan Walawender, Eric Weslander, and Craig West.

Thank you especially to Richard Neumann and Sheila Simon for inviting me to become a co-author of this project and for their continued patience and encouragement throughout my learning process. To Meg, Hobbes, and Ben, thank you for your ongoing love and inspiration, and for always believing in me.

From Sheila Simon:

Thank you to Susan Williams and Ramon Escapa, who contributed long and often tedious hours to this book. Jayne McCarroll and Linda Kalloran are the stars who turned scripts into moving images for the book's website. Thanks to many people who gave ideas and energy, including Peter Alexander, Levi Burkett, Delio Calzolari, Amy Campbell, Bruce Ching, Laura Cox, Brannon Denning, Andrea Jones, Elizabeth Kee, Hannah Kelley, Sue Liemer, Melissa Marlow, Matt Rokusek, Hollee Temple, Tim Ting, and Melissa Weresh. Thanks also to the many students who allowed me to consider using their writing, particularly Elizabeth Gastélum, Nate Bailey, Joanne Olson, and Caroline Borden. I am grateful to Richard Neumann for the opportunity to work with him. I have learned from Richard far more than I have contributed to this book.

Thanks to my husband, Perry Knop, for his constant encouragement. And our daughters, Reilly and Brennan Knop, are my best source of learning about teaching. We were on to something with Barbie Math Bath!

From Richard, Lyn, and Sheila:

At Wolters Kluwer, we are grateful to George Serafin for suggesting the concept of this book; to Carol McGeehan, Richard Mixter, and Mike Gregory for their help in brainstorming its possibilities; and to Dana Wilson for her skill, insight, and diplomacy while managing us through many editorial difficulties.

We are also grateful to the anonymous reviewers who read drafts of the manuscript and subsequent editions for Wolters Kluwer and made many valuable suggestions. (It really is anonymous; you know who you are, but we don't.)

We are especially grateful to the Writers' Colony at Dairy Hollow in Eureka Springs, Arkansas, for providing a place of solitude and support designed for writers of all kinds. It is especially meaningful that parts of a book about writing were written among writers in a colony set aside for writers.
