ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

It is a pleasure to acknowledge the advice and assistance I have received from individuals and institutions while preparing this book. The main sources were made available by the Bundesarchiv, Koblenz, the Berlin Document Center and the Institut für Zeitgeschichte in Munich; for access to their facilities I am most grateful. I would also like to thank the Hoover Institution, California, for sending me essential microfilm. My warmest thanks are due to the staff of the Wiener Library, London, for their unfailing hospitality as well as their invaluable help. Edinburgh University Library readily met many demands, particularly through its photographic and inter-library loan departments. For financial assistance to enable me to carry out research abroad and to utilise the documentary sources most efficiently, I am indebted to the Travel and Research Fund of Edinburgh University and also to the British Academy, which generously made me a grant. I received invaluable information and help from Dr Gisela Miller, Hamburg, and Dr Marta Baerlecken-Hechtle, Düsseldorf, and I am also grateful to Mrs Louise Willmot, Oxford, Conan Fischer, Heriot-Watt University, Dr Peter Stachura, Stirling University and Mrs Cecilia Smith, Edinburgh University, for their advice. Professor Dietrich Orlow and Professor W.S. Allen were kind enough to answer queries which I addressed to them. Once again I have trespassed on Professor V.G. Kiernan's time; he generously read part of the text in draft. And, also, I owe a special debt to Mrs Sheila Somerville, for her patience as well as her efficient typing of the text. My husband, too, has shown patience, tolerating the domestic regime which this book's completion has demanded. Its shortcomings are, of course, no one's responsibility but my own.
