About the Editor

Robert E. Emery, Ph.D., is professor of psychology and director of the Center for Children, Families, and the Law at the University of Virginia (UVA), where he has spent his entire academic career (beginning in 1981). He received his B.A. from Brown University in 1974 and his Ph.D. from the State University of New York at Stony Brook in 1982.

Emery's research focuses on family relationships and children's mental health, including parental conflict, divorce, child custody, family violence, and genetically informed studies of all these issues, as well as associated legal and policy issues. His 1982 Psychological Bulletin paper, "Interparental Conflict and the Children of Discord and Divorce," was designated a Citation Classic by the Institute for Scientific Information. His Child Development paper, "Family Members as Third Parties in Dyadic Family Conflict: Strategies, Alliances, and Outcomes" (with Samuel Vuchinich and Jude Cassidy), won the 1989 Outstanding Research Publication Award from the American Association of Marriage and Family Therapy.

In December 2000, he was asked to present his research findings to the National Academy of Sciences. The Association of Family and Conciliation Courts presented the Distinguished Researcher and Myer Elkin Address awards to Emery in 2002. His book, The Truth About Chil- dren and Divorce, was a finalist for the Books for a Better Life Award and Library of Virginia Literary Award in 2005. In 2012, Division 43 of the American Psychological Association honored him with their award for Distinguished Contributions to Family Psychology.

Emery is the author of over 125 scientific publications. He has also authored several books. Marriage, Divorce, and Children's Adjustment (1999) won the Outstanding Academic Book award from Choice magazine. Abnormal Psychology (2012), with Thomas Oltmanns, is in its seventh edition. Emery has also written Essentials of Abnormal Psychology (2000) with Thomas Oltmanns. His book, Renegotiating Family Relationships: Divorce, Child Custody, and Mediation (2011), was translated into Italian. His 2004 book, The Truth About Children and Divorce: Dealing With the Emotions So You and Your Children Can Thrive (2006), is written for a broad audience and was featured when Emery was featured on the Today Show, Good Morning America, The Jane Pauley Show, National Public Radio, in Newsweek and Time magazines, and in many other print and electronic media. The book has been translated into Italian and Korean.

In addition to his research, teaching, and administrative responsibilities, Emery maintains a practice as a clinical psychologist and divorce mediator. He is the father of five children.
