规划构思:

规划突出：

地域文化保护的整体性,保护规划与发展地方经济相结合,系统运用社会学方法,采用参与性的规划方法,规划与实施管理的紧密结合。

保护规划批准一年多来,按规划要求部分项目已开始实施,并取得明显成效:环境整治及基础设施改善,保护建筑得到修复与更新,传统文化得到全面复兴,利用古镇特色和文化传统开展文化旅游已初见成效。

核心区建筑整治规划总平面图

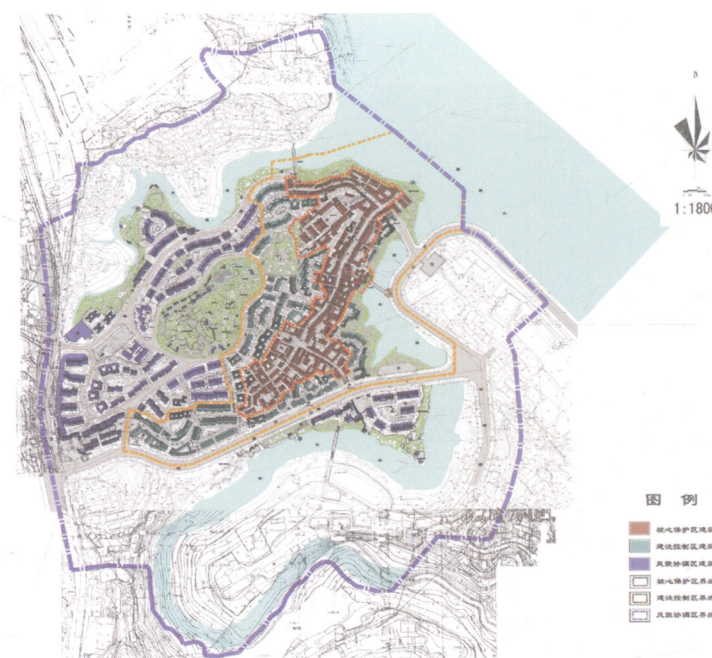

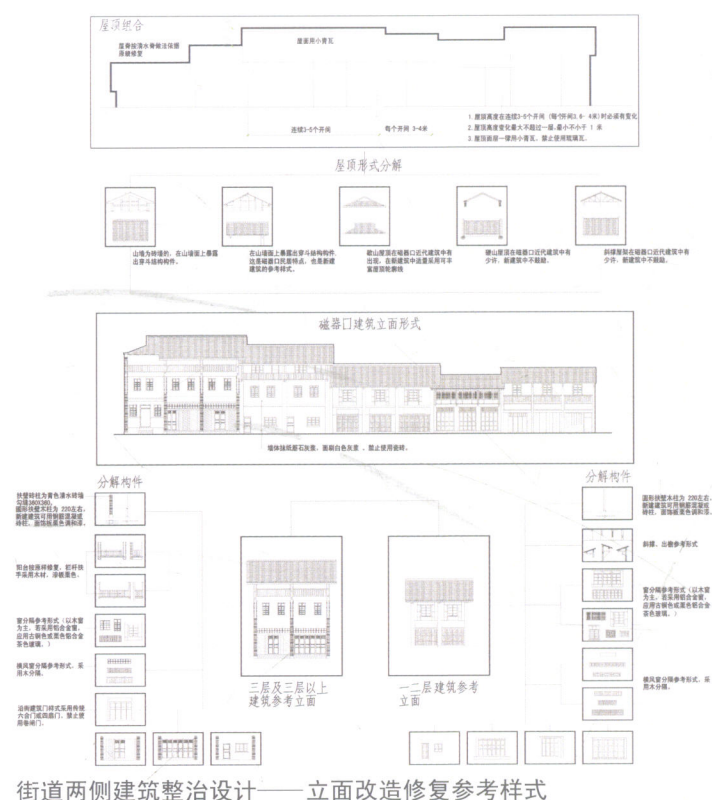

Ciqikou is the only well-reserved historical block in the main urban area of Chongqing and a typical representative of history and culture of the mountainous city. This project has conducted thorough and innovative research into the objectives, contents, targets, technological measures, policies and implementation management for conservation of the historical block.

There are several concepts in the plan. Comprehensive conservation concepts: Integrated conservation methods are adopted, which combine the conservation of natural environment with historical and cultural environment, and combine the conservation of space environment and historical buildings with local cultural traditions. In this way, the regional culture features of the block are completely reserved.

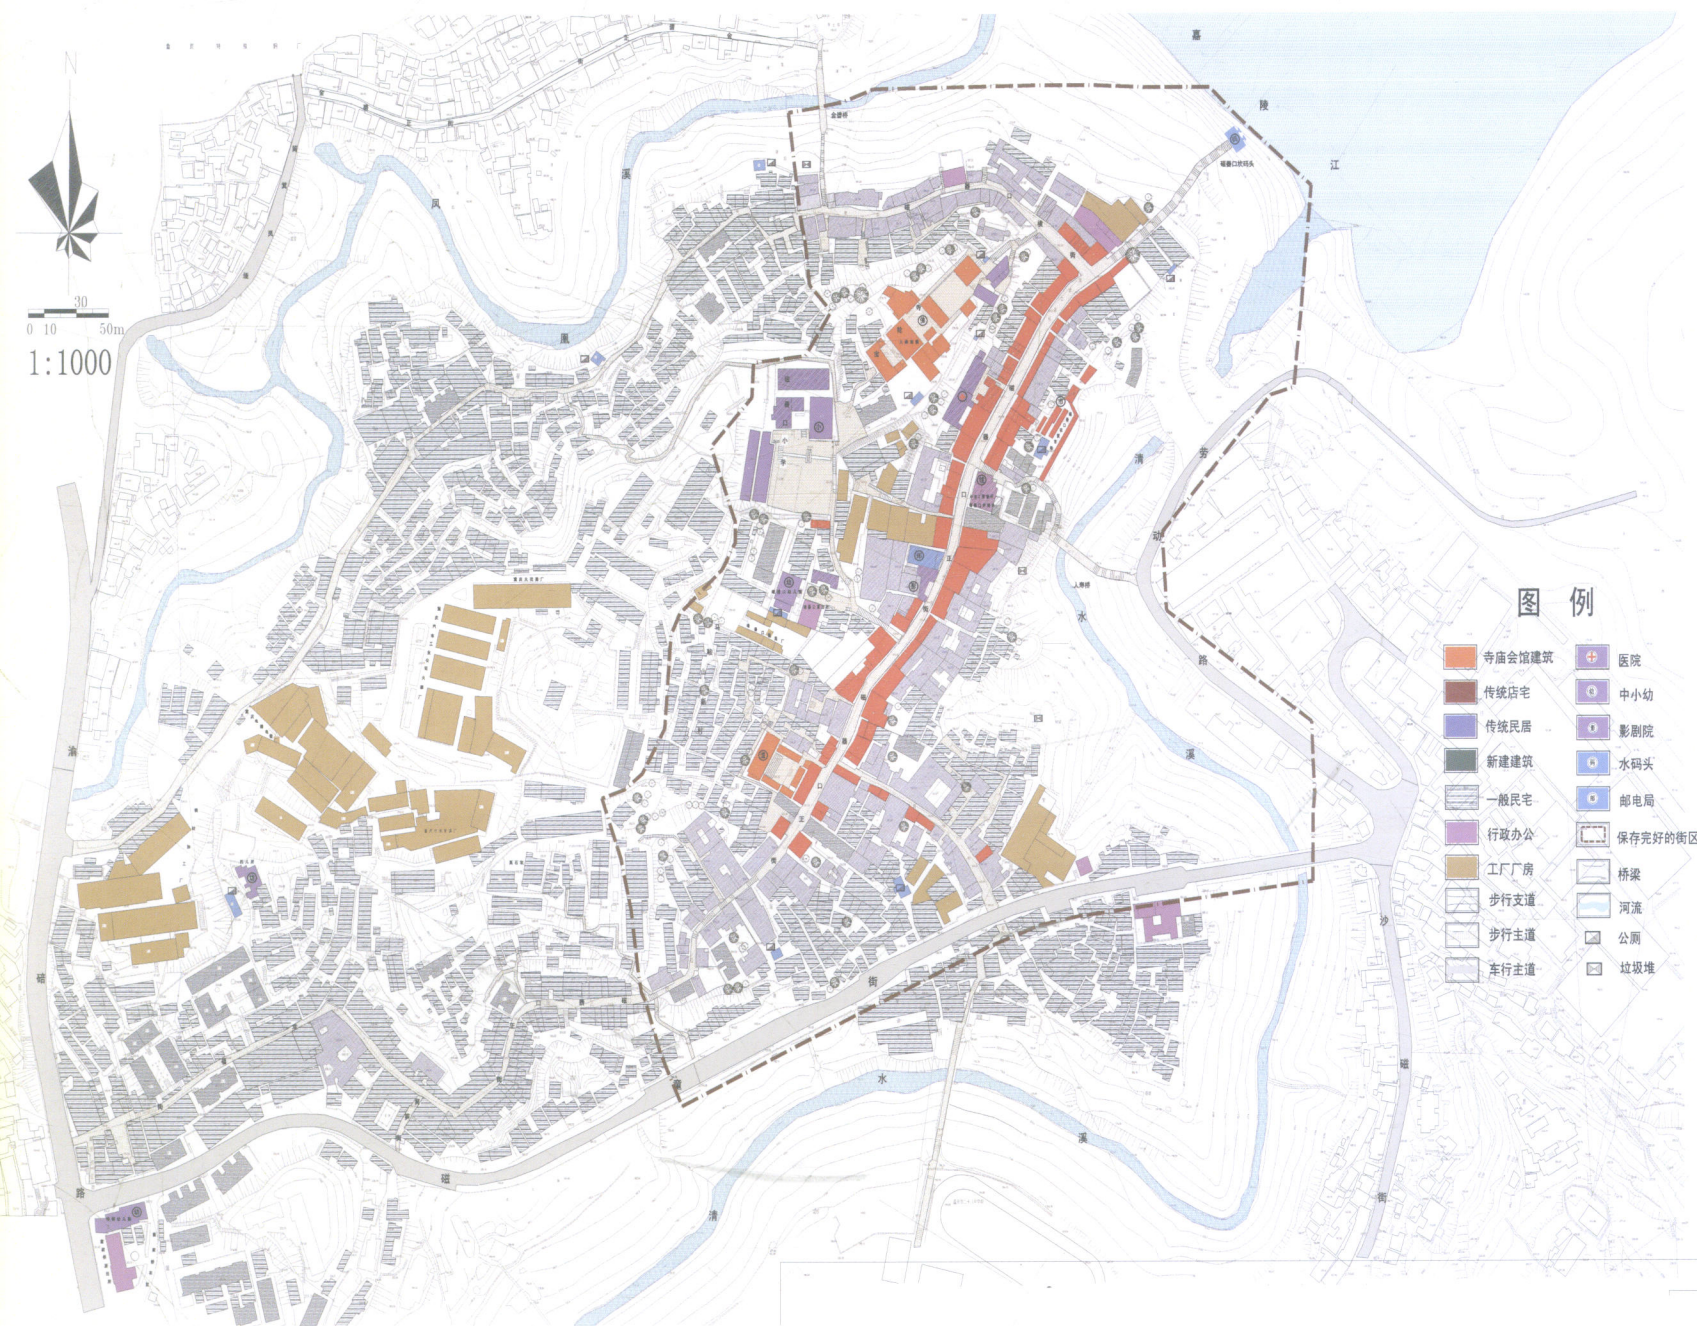

Sustainable development conservation ideas: The plan organically coordinates the contradictions between conservation and development, and at the same time of abiding the principle of authenticity, combine the historical conservation of the block with social and economic development and the infrastructure renovation with improvement of housing and sanitation conditions.

The plan stresses the integrity in regional culture conservation, combines conservation planning with local economic development, applies comprehensive sociological methods, adopts planning methods involving citizens participation and closely incorporates plan with implementation management.

After the approval of the conservation plan, part of the project is under construction in accordance with the plan. Great results have been achieved: the environment is renovated and infrastructure is improved, conserved buildings are restored, traditional cultures revive and cultural tourism based on features of the old town and its cultural traditions is developing gradually.
