"Golden Pond" is a large-scale residential project with an area of 300,000 square meters, located in the west suburb of Hefei (Anhui province). It starts alongside the No. 2 West Ring Road in the east, adjoining Fanwa Road in the south. The whole site is close to Qingxi Forest Park and Botanic Garden, it is also the nearest residential area to the downtown with beautiful scenic environment and a tinge of nature.

A successful landscape design should contain both the contents culture and the texture of natural terrain, and it can organicly develop in a natural and cultural environment. Therefore, it is significantly important on how to plan it as a whole and effectively control the traffic, drainage, resources and nature reservation, wild animal inhabit, social affairs space, as well as the layout of architectural buildings.

The community of "Golden Pond" origins the ramp wet-land with bulrush and water birds, and its landform presents lower in the south and higher in the north; owe to its closure to water sources of Dongpu Reservoir, many trees and shrubs are growing in the land, and the vegetation resource is very rich; several original ponds are lying there, one of which is some 10 000 square meters. The rich water source is a special feature of the land. The moving terrain, the peaceful water and wild plantings form the unique natural conditions to this land. By fully combining the original conditions of the project, the landscape designers cast away the current fashionable artificial landscape creations, pure Europeanstyle or designing approaches of traditional Chinese gardens, they re-explained the terrain environment and excavated its unique features. sufficiently exerted the wave features of its terrain and shape, created and reserved the original ponds, trees, slopes and valleys.

The landscape design of the whole site expanded with the theme of ponds, the designers re-designed the original ponds by using Chinese traditional method of water control "curved water due to the bank, separated water because of the dyke", they designed the stone bank, island and small timber deck between "Golden Pond" and "Ecological Lake", which separated the water surface and created a contrasted effectiveness of "open and close" and "control and expand". Meanwhile we used creak to connect the different elements, emphasizing the natural water features, tidy water features as assistance to form a unique, large-scale eco-ponds systems.

A curved skeleton road, as a spaces directions, the designers defined it as main road, secondary road, footpath and landscape trail. The main road crosses through the whole site and forms the framework, it also connects the main entrances and main features. It has multi-function for fire and embulance vehicles, as well as viewing and strolling even relaxing. The second road is the inside frameworks to each clusters, it connects the nearby features by footpaths and viewing trails.

By using it as the masterstroke, the designers grasp the whole space layout, base on the Chinese traditional gardening designs, and unit the western and Chinese gardening arts to create a landscape containing home and overseas culture, with humanistic ecological residential area to realize "gain fun from nature by suing the theory of nature".

Above: Scenery of the whole site: vast waster vividly reflects the lakeside public buildings. 上,整體環境實景,大面積的水面將水邊的公共建築映襯的通靈空透。

Left: Flat stepping stones on the waste create tranquil atmosphere to the environment. 左,平静的水面上平坦的汀步帶給人們事静的氛圍環境。
