Careful and careless are as different as fire and water. But it is strange that quite a few scientists have both these qualities(品质). They are both careful and careless. Newton, the famous English scientist, was such a person.

Once Newton invited a friend to dinner at home. When they were ready to eat, Newton left to get a bottle of wine. But after his friend had waited for a long time, Newton still didn't come back. At last his friend found Newton was in the lab. When Newton was going to get the bottle of wine, he suddenly had a new idea for his experiment(实验). So he forgot his friend and the dinner. Another time, Newton was leading a horse up a mountain, and held the rein(缰绳) in his hand.

While he was walking, he kept thinking about problems. When he got to the top of the mountain, he found the rein was not in his hand and that the horse was missing.

Einstein was another example. Once he was waiting for a friend at a bridge. While waiting, he became lost in thought. It started to rain. The rain kept on for some time. When he took out a piece of paper to write something down, the paper was wet and then he knew that it was raining. But after he put the paper into his pocket, he again forgot he was standing in the rain.

At noon on June 3 three men bought some ice cream from me. They sat in front of the bank(银行). This happened on June 4 and 5. They were trying to look and do like travelers, but I could see they were not. They never smiled. They were not enjoying themselves. The men carefully watched the movements of each one working in the bank, and even when and where I moved my ice cream cart(手推车).

On June 5 at 12:00, when the four gatekeepers were out for lunch, the three men moved towards the entrance of the bank. I wanted to be able to stop them from leaving the place.

One of the men stood at the door of the bank, the other two entered the bank and stood in line. When they went up to the working men in the bank, they took knives out of paper bags. Most of the people in the bank didn't know what was happening. I could see this through the window of the bank.

Then, the other non-uniformed(便衣) policemen arrived. We wanted to wait until they had the money in their hands. Then we got them. It was all over in twenty seconds.

I never stopped selling ice cream although I gave one man too much change(零钱).

46. The three men stayed in front of the bank for about _____.

A. half a day

B. one and a half days

C. two days

D. three and a half days

47. The three men went into the bank _____.

A. when there were no people in the bank

B. when the four gatekeepers were out

C. as soon as it was lunch time

D. as soon as it was quiet and dark

48. "It was all over in twenty seconds." means _____.

A. The gatekeepers got back very quickly.

B. The policemen went into the bank very quickly.

C. The ice cream seller sold out his ice cream in a short time.

D. The three men were caught very quickly.

49. We can know from the passage that the story teller was really _____.

A. an ice cream businessman

B. an office worker

C. a gatekeeper of the bank

D. a non-uniformed policeman

50. Which of the following is true?

A. The three men were not enjoying themselves because they were traveling.

B. The bank had only four gatekeepers.

C. The police knew nothing about what the three were going to do.

D. The three men were caught before they had time to run away.

B

We can not stop earthquakes(地震), but we can do things to make sure they do not destroy whole cities. First, it is not a good idea to build houses along the lines if we know two of the earth's plates join together there. Second, if you think there may be an earthquake, it is better to build houses on rock not on sand. Third, you must make the houses as strong as possible. Weak buildings will fall down in an earthquake, but strong ones may stay up.

Scientists are afraid that one day an even bigger earthquake will hit the area(地区) around San Francisco. They call it "The Big One". But people today are still building more houses. The population in and around San Francisco is now ten times more than it was in 1906. This means that if there is another big earthquake, a great many houses and buildings will be destroyed.

51. We can do things to make sure _____.

- A. earthquakes don't happen
C. buildings don't fall down in earthquakes
52. Houses can't be built along the line if _____.
A. a lot of cities join together
C. two of the earth's plates join together there
53. The expression "stay up" means _____.
A. stay outside B. play inside
54. Why are the people in San Francisco still building more houses?
A. Because there will be no more earthquakes there.
C. Because scientists have stopped earthquakes.
55. The main idea of the passage is _____.
A. how to build houses in earthquake areas
C. that we can stop earthquakes some day
- B. whole cities are not destroyed by earthquakes
D. buildings were not burnt in earthquakes
- B. some rivers join together
D. two planes can take off
- C. build again D. stand still
- B. Because the population is growing very fast.
D. Because earthquakes can't destroy the new houses.
- B. San Francisco earthquake
D. that earthquake destroyed whole cities

It was winter and Mrs Hermann wanted to do a lot of shopping. So she waited until it was Saturday when her husband was free, and she took him to the shops with her to pay for everything and carry parcels (包裹). They went to a lot of shops, and Mrs Hermann bought a lot of things. She often stopped and said, "Look, Joe! Isn't that beautiful?"

He then answered, "All right, dear. How much is it?" And then took his money out to pay for it.

It was dark when they came out of the last shop, and Mr Hermann was tired and thinking about other things, like a nice drink by the side of a warm fire at home. Suddenly his wife looked up at the sky and said, "Look at the beautiful moon, Joe!"

If you get into the forests with friends, stay with them always. If you don't, you may get lost. If you really get lost, this is what you should do. Sit down and stay where you are. Don't try to find your friends—let them find you by staying in one place.

There is another way to help your friends or other nearby people to find you. Give them a signal(信号) by shouting or whistling(吹口哨) three times. Any signal given three times is a call for help.

Keep up shouting or whistling always three times together. When people hear you, they will know that you are not just making noise for fun. They will let you know that they have heard your signal. They give you two shouts, two whistles, or two gun - shots(枪声). When someone gives you a signal, it is an answer to a call for help.

If you don't think that you will get help before night comes, try to make a little house—cover up to the holes with branches(树枝) with lots of leaves(树叶). Make yourself a soft bed with leaves and grass.

What should you do if you get hungry or need drinking water? You would have to leave your little branch house to look for a river. Don't just walk away. Pick off small branches and drop them as you walk so that you can find your way back. The most important thing to do when you are lost is—stay in one place.
