PREFACE

Mr. Chen, the oriental librarian at our university and a noted bibliographer has recently published several important research indexes in the field of Chinese Studies. They are: A Guide to the Kuo-hsüeh chi-pên ts'ung-shu ssü-pai chung 國學基本叢書四百種指南 (Taipei: Commercial Press, 1983), A Guide to the Ts'ung-shu chi-ch'eng chien-pien 叢書集成簡編指南 (Taipei: Commercial Press, 1983), A Guide to Tao-tsang ching hua 道藏精華指南 (Taipei: Chinese Materials Center, 1984), and A Guide to the Ts'ung-Shu chi-ch'eng ch'u pien 叢書集成初編指南 (Taipei: Commercial Press, 1985). All these indexes are extremely useful tools in looking up classical Chinese source materials in these collections. Beginning in August, 1983, the Commercial Press in Taiwan has been publishing a photolithographic facsimile edition of the Wên-yüan Pavilion Ssü-k'u ch'üan-shu 文淵閣四庫全書. The Ssü-k'u ch'üan-shu, compiled by imperial order of the Ch'ien-lung Emperor (1736-1795) of the Ch'ing Dynasty, is the largest existing collection of Chinese classical writings ever completed in China. It consists of 3,400 titles, totalling about 36,000 volumes. In conjunction with the publication of this collection, Mr. Chen has produced a new index to it. Like the format of his previous indexes, the present index includes transliterated title and author listings, clearly identified with Chinese characters. It also includes a subject index. Although there are several indexes to the Ssü-k'u ch'üan-shu in the Chinese language, Mr. Chen's index is the one which is the easiest to use in locating a particular work in this large collection. This index is meticulously done, and is therefore an indispensable tool for scholars in the field of Chinese Studies.

INTRODUCTION

The "Wên-Yüan Pavilion Ssŭ-k'u ch'üan-shu" comprises over 3,400 titles in more than 36,000 volumes, and is the largest single extant collection of classical works from all ages of Chinese history. The collection is thus of indisputable value to all scholars of Chinese thought and culture.

A serious flaw in the original collection is the lack of a mechanism providing access to its contents, which can create enormous difficulty for the reader who tries to find a particular text. In order to solve this problem, this guide is, therefore, intended to facilitate the use of this great collection.

It is divided into four parts: 1. Series index; 2. Author index; 3. Title index; 4. Subject index.

The series index is a listing of the publications in the collection. The listing is under author, compiler, editor, annotator and where there is no author, it is under title. The titles are transcribed directly from the collection following the Wade-Giles romanization system. Next section is the author index. All the works are arranged alphabetically under author, annotator, compiler or editor. The title index lists in alphabetical order all the titles in the collection. Under each title in romanization and Chinese, the name of the author is given in Chinese and the volume number is indicated. The last section contains the subject index which is translated according to the original Chinese Ssŭ-k'u system or four categories. Under each subject (Chinese in parenthesis), all the related titles on each page are listed in the collection.

For example:

1. Series index:

v. 100 Author's name in romanization	Dates of birth and death	Author's name and title in Chinese
Li, Chung-Lun,	1663-1706.	(清) 李鍾倫撰 周禮纂訓

2. Author index:

Author's name in romanization	Dates of birth and death	Author's name in v. 464 Chinese
Ch'en, P'eng-nien,	961-1017.	(宋) 陳彭年撰

3. Title index:

Title in romanization	Author's name in	v. 1488
-----------------------	------------------	---------

and Chinese	Chinese
Fang-wêng tz'ü. 放翁詞	(宋)陸游撰

4. Subject index:

Subject (Chinese in parenthesis)	Related titled
Shih ching of Book of Songs ( 詩經 )	v.69-v.89

Although the guide is intended to be an index to the collection, it can also be used as a bibliographical reference tool in locating each Chinese work of the great collection.

Finally, I wish to acknowledge my indebtedness to E. Wilkinson for use of the technical terms from his book entitled the history of imperial China: a research guide, Cambridge, Mass, 1975" in the section of the subject index.
