Warmly congratulate China's electric power industry on the national installed capacity topping 100 GW! This is a great success achieved by the mass of staffs and workers in the field of electric power through thrift and hard work under the all-out support of state council's various sectors.

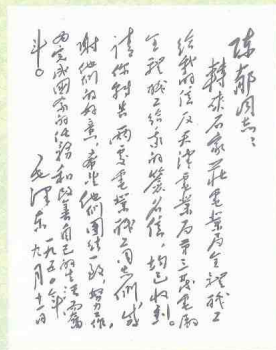

Looking into the future, the comrades' task on the front of energy is exacting and the road is long. We must redouble our efforts, to deepen reform and upgrade technology, in a bid to speed up the development of electric power to meet the demands of various sectors and people's livelihood for electricity.
