北京 BEIJING

I went to the art show and I looked at the paintings.

There were lots of colours in the paintings and I began to imagine ...

... what if the world was all yellow?
There are lots of different yellows ...

... or what if everything was red?
There are lots of different reds ...

... or what if everything was blue?
Can you imagine a world where everything is blue?

Then I had an idea.

The world isn't just red or yellow or blue.
It's a mixture of all these colours and
I wanted to try them out.

I went home and I did my own paintings.
Why don't you play with colours, too?
Try out just one, and then add lots more.
