沿革·概况

Development History and General Description

The university grew out of Fujian Provincial medical Training School, Which was established in 1937. Since its establishment, the school has cultivated about 20,000 undergraduates and vocational students, over 200 postgraduates and more than 10,000 adult and graduate students. Now the graduates can be found in medical and health circles both at home and abroad, many of whom have become the backbone of medical and health work. A number of well-known experts and scholars are constantly emerging.

Since the opening policy, the school has been developing rapidly and broadening in scale. The system with multicourses, multi-levels and multi-specifications is taking shape. There are 7 departments (preclinical medicine, marxist-Leninist philosophy, clinical medicine, preventive medicine, stomatology, medical laboratory and nursing) which offer a total of 6 undergraduate majors, 6 professional majors, 22 post-graduate majors and 1 ph, D major to more than 4 thousand on-campus students, among whom are over 3000 undergraduates including those from countries other than China and those from HongKong, macao and Taiwan, and to more than 100 post-graduates and 1000 adult students. The school is authorized to confer Ph, D degree.

The school is full of excellenwt faculty. On the post are over 800 teachers including 78 professors, 238 associate professors, 96 chief doctors and 260 vice-chief doctors. There are 92 teaching sections, whose members undertake the basic, pre-clinical, clinical and professional courses. They also do a lot of scientific research work and take up a great many of medical and health tasks. The school has key courses of molecular medicine and hematopathy, which belong to "211 project", three provincial key courses and three key medical laboratories. It has three general affiliated hospitals and one stomatic hospital with over 2,000 beds altogether. Among them, the First Affiliated Hospital and Union Hospital have been rated grade A hospitals of class-3 category. The Provincial Hospital, the sanitation and anti-epidemic station and other 25 hospitals serve as our teaching hospitals and bases.

The school pays great attention to scientific research. At present, hematopathy institute and other 31 medical science institutes have been established. They undertake, respectively, the research tasks assigned by the state, the Ministry of Health and the province, and have made remarkable achievements. In recent years, over 400 scientific research items have been appraised, and over 300 research achievements have won the awards. Among them, 12 items reach the advanced world levels and 135 the national levels. The school edits and publishes two nation-wide magazines "Journal of Fujian Medical University" and "Hypertension". The teachers and researchers in the school submit more than 1,000 research papers to different kinds of symposia each year. "The Research on medical Education" is a restricted school publication.

The school keeps in contact with the outside world to promote the international academic exchanges and cooperation. In the last few years, more than 200 teachers and doctors have been sent to 12 countries such as the United States, Britain, France, Japan, Austrailia, etc. to make on-the-spot investigations and give lectures. At the same time, over 280 experts, scholars and professors from more than ten countries have visited our university and given lectures. Some of whom were appointed guest professors of our school. 13 foreign experts and teachers once taught English in our university successively.

We are now sparing no efforts to implement "Fujian Medical University's Ninth Five-Year plan and long term goals of the years 2010" and striving hard to make our school one of the all-around advanced medical universities of our motherland by the beginning of next century.
