

SECOND EDITION

WORDFORMS

Context, Strategies, and Practice

SECOND EDITION

WORDFORMS

Context, Strategies, and Practice

The Five-at-a-Time Method and Other Vocabulary Exercises for College Students

Helen Heightsman Gordon

Bakersfield College

Wadsworth Publishing Company

Belmont, California
A Division of Wadsworth, Inc.

*Dedicated to my husband, Clifton B.
Gordon, whose contributions are incalculable.*

English Editor: Angela Gantner
Senior Editorial Assistant: Julie L. Johnson
Production: Stacey Sawyer, Sawyer & Williams
Designer: Louis Neiheisel
Copy Editor: Micky Lawler
Cover: Stuart Paterson

© 1991, 1985 by Wadsworth, Inc. All rights reserved. No part of this book may be reproduced, stored in a retrieval system, or transcribed, in any form or by any means, electronic, mechanical, photocopying, recording, or otherwise, without the prior written permission of the publisher, Wadsworth Publishing Company, Belmont, California 94002, a division of Wadsworth, Inc.

Printed in the United States of America

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10—95 94 93 92 91

ISBN 0-534-13056-9

Library of Congress Cataloging
in Publication Data

Gordon, Helen Heightsman.

Wordforms : the five-at-a-time method and other vocabulary exercises for college students / Helen Heightsman Gordon. — 2nd ed.

p. cm.

Includes index.

ISBN 0-534-13056-9

1. Vocabulary. I. Title.

PE1449.G63 1990

428.1—dc20

90-47024

CIP

To Teachers

HOW AND WHY TO USE THIS BOOK

Most vocabulary teachers want their students to learn a great deal more than they can learn from the memorization of word lists. We want our students to learn to become excited about words—to find words interesting and satisfying. We hope that when they leave our classes they will be better able to read textbooks and print media. But even more than that, we hope they will have mastered certain strategies that will enable them to continue learning new words and using them to express themselves throughout their lives.

In working toward these goals, we need the kinds of help this book provides: (1) materials that motivate students who may have done very little reading, (2) ample exercises presented in a variety of ways, (3) several strategies for unlocking the meanings of words, (4) ways of helping students remember what they have learned, and (5) carefully sequenced lessons that give students a sense of mastery and progress.

This book shares some of the methods and materials I have developed over many years of college teaching. It contains all my favorite strategies—context clues, word part analysis, dictionary and thesaurus use, mnemonic devices, tools for distinguishing between commonly confused words, and liberal dashes of word games and humor. In addition, it introduces the Five-at-a-Time method, a device for getting students to use words correctly in sentences. This technique, through repetition and variation, enables students to transfer words from their recognition vocabulary to their writing and speaking vocabularies. It is adaptable for use with or without microcomputers.

This book is organized into three basic parts. Part One deals with the basic strategies mentioned above. Part Two applies these strategies to the reading of practical materials—newspapers, magazines, fiction, and general education textbooks. The reading selections are interesting in themselves, but they also represent the kinds of tasks students do regularly. They provide a context and a motivation for learning the words used in them. Part Three, "Fun with Words," explores puns, malapropisms, spoonerisms, and words with interesting origins. This material may be used at any point in the course for motivational purposes.

The words selected for study include some common words with multiple meanings, designated (mm) in the word lists and in the index, but most of them occur fewer than 20 times per million words of print, according to the Thorndike-Lorge count. They should provide some challenges, but not insurmountable ones, for the academically underprepared student. If your students are ready for greater challenges, they might prefer Book II, which focuses primarily on words occurring fewer than 10 times per million words.

The sequencing of the lessons provides for student mastery. Exercises are ample, varied, and brief. Study of word parts is dispersed throughout the book to avoid tedium, but Appendixes A and B provide a substantial list of common roots and affixes for easy reference or further instruction. A comprehensive pretest is provided at the beginning of the book, and review tests are spaced at intervals throughout. A comprehensive posttest and other unit tests are provided in the Instructor's Manual, along with suggestions for making the best use of the textbook.

This new edition expands the number of exercises, requiring much more use of the dictionary and more writing of original sentences. Directions have been clarified, and students are given more suggestions for improvement. Usage notes have been added in many places. And more alternative tests are available in the Instructor's Manual.

Acknowledgments

Much credit is due to Wadsworth English Editor Angela Gantner, whose imaginative vision and careful shepherding resulted in a richer book. Helpful suggestions were made by the following reviewers, who greatly enlarged the original concept of the book: Mary Ann Alexander, Kean College; Barbara Beauchamp, County College of Morris; Wynell Biles, Texas A&M University; Linda Jones,

Memphis State University; Vickie Kelly, Louisiana State University; May Shih, San Francisco State University; and Westa Wood, Virginia State University.

I also wish to thank my colleagues at Bakersfield College, Don Stansbury, Richard Duax, Jerry Ludeke, Jane Johnson, and Howard Quilling, who graciously assisted in field-testing many of the lessons and refining them.

Brief Contents

PART ONE
ONE	Strategies for Building Vocabulary	7
LESSON 1	WHERE WORDS COME FROM: COINAGES AND CONTEXT CLUES	8
LESSON 2	USING WORD PARTS TO GUESS MEANINGS	19
LESSON 3	HOW DICTIONARIES ARE WRITTEN	28
LESSON 4	HOW THE DICTIONARY TEACHES YOU TO USE WORDS IN SENTENCES	39
LESSON 5	HOW THE DICTIONARY IDENTIFIES VERBS AND PARTICIPLES	52
LESSON 6	HOW THE DICTIONARY IDENTIFIES ADJECTIVES AND ADVERBS	66
LESSON 7	HOW THE DICTIONARY IDENTIFIES OTHER PARTS OF SPEECH	76
LESSON 8	MULTIPLE MEANINGS, ETYMOLOGY, AND SHADES OF MEANING IN DICTIONARY DEFINITIONS	86
LESSON 9	PRONUNCIATION KEYS AND OTHER AIDS	99
LESSON 10	WHAT THE DICTIONARY DOES AND DOESN'T TELL YOU ABOUT SPELLING	110
LESSON 11	USING MNEMONIC DEVICES	124
LESSON 12	IMPROVING YOUR MEMORY FOR WORDS	134
LESSON 13	USING A THESAURUS	146
LESSON 14	AVOIDING MISUSED WORDS	157
LESSON 15	DISTINGUISHING COMMONLY CONFUSED WORDS	171
PART TWO
TWO	Vocabulary Building from Readings	183
LESSON 16	VOCABULARY FROM NEWSPAPER COLUMNISTS	184
LESSON 17	VOCABULARY FROM FICTION	193
LESSON 18	VOCABULARY FROM TEXTBOOKS: LITERATURE	201
LESSON 19	VOCABULARY FROM TEXTBOOKS: PSYCHOLOGY	209
LESSON 20	VOCABULARY FROM TEXTBOOKS: BIOLOGY	217
PART THREE
THREE	Fun with Words	228
LESSON 21	HUMOR WITH WORDS: PUNS	229
LESSON 22	MORE HUMOR: MALAPROPISMS AND OTHER WORD PLAY	234
LESSON 23	WORDS WITH INTERESTING ORIGINS: NAMES	241
LESSON 24	MORE WORDS WITH INTERESTING ORIGINS	251

Contents

To Students: HOW TO USE THIS BOOK	1	LESSON 3 HOW DICTIONARIES ARE WRITTEN	28
Pretest: VOCABULARY AND STRATEGIES	3	Target Word Practice: refer, authority, accept, scholar, literary, dictate, standard, degenerate, abridge, determine
PART _____		3.1 Five-at-a-Time Method
ONE: Strategies for Building Vocabulary	7	Other Vocabulary Exercises
LESSON 1 WHERE WORDS COME FROM: COINAGES AND CONTEXT CLUES	8	3.2 Evaluating Johnson's Definitions
How to Learn New Words Most Effectively		3.3 Hinky Pinky: A Game of Lexicography
Target Word Practice: retain, generation, coin, compound, origin		3.4 Original Sentences Using Target Words
1.1 Five-at-a-Time Method		3.5 Acrostic Review
Other Vocabulary Exercises		3.6 Vocabulary Cards
1.2 Original Sentences		LESSON 4 HOW THE DICTIONARY TEACHES YOU TO USE WORDS IN SENTENCES	39
1.3 Matching for Context Clues		Target Word Practice: context, consult, edition, vary, formal, converse, category, convey, designate, attribute
1.4 Making Vocabulary Cards		4.1 Five-at-a-Time Method
1.5 Practice Using Context Clues		Other Vocabulary Exercises
1.6 Applying Strategies		4.2 Writing Usage Labels
LESSON 2 USING WORD PARTS TO GUESS MEANINGS	19	4.3 Using Dictionary Usage Labels
Target Word Practice: function, accurate, rapid, discern, recognize		4.4 Recognizing Nouns and Verbs by Their Endings
2.1 Five-at-a-Time Method		4.5 Recognizing Nouns and Verbs in Sentences
Other Vocabulary Exercises		4.6 Changing Verbs to Nouns by Adding Suffixes
2.2 Finding the Base Form		4.7 Using Synonymies
2.3 Recognizing Common Roots and Prefixes		4.8 Original Sentences Using Target Words
2.4 Matching Roots and Meaning		4.9 Vocabulary Cards
2.5 Matching Roots, Prefixes, and Suffixes to Meanings
2.6 Dictionary Practice
2.7 Vocabulary Cards
2.8 Original Sentences Using Target Words

LESSON 5
HOW THE DICTIONARY IDENTIFIES
VERBS AND PARTICIPLES 52

Target Word Practice: complicate, associate, transport, transplant, transact, transmit, transfer, transform, translate, transcend
5.1 Five-at-a-Time Method

- Other Vocabulary Exercises
5.2 Game: "Boggle"
5.3 Recognizing Participles in Sentences
5.4 Using Present Participles
5.5 Matching Roots and Prefixes to Meanings
5.6 Transitive and Intransitive Verbs

Review Test:
LESSONS 1-5 64

LESSON 6
HOW THE DICTIONARY IDENTIFIES
ADJECTIVES AND ADVERBS 66

Target Word Practice: fascinate, character, modify, limit, inflame, temporary, perform, minimum, negate, abbreviate
6.1 Five-at-a-Time Method

- Other Vocabulary Exercises
6.2 Changing Nouns and Verbs to Adjectives by Adding Suffixes
6.3 Original Sentences Using Target Words
6.4 Game: "Mad Libs"
6.5 Vocabulary Review: Lessons 1-5

LESSON 7
HOW THE DICTIONARY IDENTIFIES
OTHER PARTS OF SPEECH 76

Target Word Practice: primary, secondary, rank, interject, relationship, conjunction, coordinate, subordinate, dependent, multiple
7.1 Five-at-a-Time Method

Other Vocabulary Exercises

- 7.2 Writing Sentences Using Good and Round
7.3 Matching Roots and Prefixes to Meanings
7.4 Using Suffixes to Categorize Parts of Speech
7.5 Vocabulary Cards
7.6 Original Sentences Using Target Words

LESSON 8
MULTIPLE MEANINGS, ETYMOLOGY, AND SHADES OF MEANING IN
DICTIONARY DEFINITIONS 86

Target Word Practice: majestic, venerable, derive, interpret, omen, prophesy, evolve, plunder, armor, synonym, antonym
8.1 Five-at-a-Time Method

- Other Vocabulary Exercises
8.2 Multiple Choice: Antonyms
8.3 Sentences Using Words with Multiple Meanings
8.4 Roots with Multiple Meanings
8.5 Vocabulary Cards
8.6 Original Sentences Using Target Words

LESSON 9
PRONUNCIATION KEYS AND OTHER
AIDS 99

Target Word Practice: alter, omit, illustrate, diverse, obvious, transpose, corrupt, inevitable, invert, symbol
9.1 Five-at-a-Time Method

- Other Vocabulary Exercises
9.2 Changing Nouns and Adjectives into Adverbs by Adding -ly
9.3 More Words with Multiple Meanings
9.4 Sentences Using Multiple-Meaning Words
9.5 Matching Roots and Prefixes to Meanings
9.6 Analyzing Word Parts: Matching Words to Definitions
9.7 Original Sentences Using Target Words

LESSON 10
WHAT THE DICTIONARY DOES AND DOESN'T TELL YOU ABOUT SPELLING 110

Target Word Practice: provide, divide, syllable, material, consonant, precede, exception, infer, assume, automatic

10.1 Five-at-a-Time Method

Other Vocabulary and Spelling Exercises

10.2 Practicing the Y-to-I Rule

10.3 Practicing the Silent-E Rule

10.4 Practicing the Doubling Rule

10.5 Matching Roots and Prefixes to Meanings

10.6 Original Sentences Using Target Words

Review Test:
LESSONS 6–10 122

LESSON 11
USING MNEMONIC DEVICES 124

Target Word Practice: comprise, commercial, image, visualize, technique, instance, utility, intrinsic, demonstrate, unique

11.1 Five-at-a-Time Method

Other Vocabulary Exercises

11.2 Using Word Associations

11.3 More Words with Multiple Meanings

11.4 Sentences Using Multiple-Meaning Words

11.5 Original Sentences Using Target Words

LESSON 12
IMPROVING YOUR MEMORY FOR WORDS 134

Target Word Practice: efficient, survive, mechanism, acquaintance, accelerate, intensify, arouse, isolated, expose, frequent

12.1 Five-at-a-Time Method

Other Vocabulary Exercises

12.2 Using Words in Sentences

12.3 Vocabulary Cards

12.4 Original Sentences Using Target Words

LESSON 13
USING A THESAURUS 146

Target Word Practice: abstract, intellect, conventional, offend, portion

13.1 Five-at-a-Time Method

Other Vocabulary Exercises

13.2 Using Words in Sentences

13.3 Vocabulary Cards

13.4 Original Sentences Using Target Words

13.5 Using a Thesaurus

13.6 Writing a Story with a Thesaurus

13.7 Recognizing Connotations

13.8 Using the Dictionary with a Thesaurus

LESSON 14
AVOIDING MISUSED WORDS 157

Target Word Practice: loathe, loaf, conflagration, congregate, secrete, transient, dilate, promiscuity, virtue, virtuoso

14.1 Five-at-a-Time Method

Other Vocabulary Exercises

14.2 Recognizing Misspelled or Misused Words

14.3 More Hinky Pinkies

14.4 More Prefixes

14.5 Vocabulary Cards

14.6 Original Sentences Using Target Words

Review Test:
LESSONS 11–14 169

LESSON 15
DISTINGUISHING COMMONLY
CONFUSED WORDS 171

- Group 1—accept/except to confidant/confident
- 15.1 Review of Group 1 Words
- Group 2—conscience/conscious to flounder/founder
- 15.2 Review of Group 2 Words
- 15.3 Vocabulary Cards
- Group 3—formally/formerly to marital/martial
- 15.4 Review of Group 3 Words
- Group 4—moral/morale to unspeakable/unspoken
- 15.5 Review of Group 4 Words
- 15.6 Vocabulary Cards

Review Test:
LESSON 15 181

PART
TWO: Vocabulary
Building from Readings 183

LESSON 16
VOCABULARY FROM NEWSPAPER
COLUMNISTS 184

- Target Word Practice: collective,
 anoint, wrenching, inexplicable,
 encounter, depict
- 16.1 Five-at-a-Time Method

- Other Vocabulary Exercises
- 16.2 Using Words
- 16.3 Vocabulary Cards
- 16.4 Original Sentences Using Target
 Words
- 16.5 Writing an Original Paragraph
- 16.6 Finding New Words

LESSON 17
VOCABULARY FROM FICTION 193

- Target Word Practice: obliterate, justification, meager, severity,
 despondent
- 17.1 Five-at-a-Time Method

- Other Vocabulary Exercises
- 17.2 Using Context Clues
- 17.3 Word Parts
- 17.4 Using Words in Sentences
- 17.5 Vocabulary Cards
- 17.6 Original Sentences Using Target
 Words

LESSON 18
VOCABULARY FROM TEXTBOOKS:
LITERATURE 201

- Target Word Practice: correlative, contrive, revitalize, absurd,
 penetrating
- 18.1 Five-at-a-Time Method

- Other Vocabulary Exercises
- 18.2 Using Context Clues
- 18.3 Other Words
- 18.4 Word Parts
- 18.5 Vocabulary Cards
- 18.6 Original Sentences Using Target
 Words

LESSON 19
VOCABULARY FROM TEXTBOOKS:
PSYCHOLOGY 209

- Target Word Practice: psychology, neural, addict, hallucinate, tranquilizer
- 19.1 Five-at-a-Time Method

- Other Vocabulary Exercises
- 19.2 Word Histories
- 19.3 Using Context Clues
- 19.4 Word Parts
- 19.5 Vocabulary Parts
- 19.6 Original Sentences Using Target
 Words

LESSON 20
VOCABULARY FROM TEXTBOOKS:
BIOLOGY 217

- Target Word Practice: integrate, tamper, technology, deplete, pollute
- 20.1 Five-at-a-Time Method

- Other Vocabulary Exercises
- 20.2 Using Context Clues
- 20.3 Word Parts
- 20.4 Other Words from This Lesson
- 20.5 Vocabulary Cards
- 20.6 Original Sentences Using Target
 Words

Review Test: LESSONS 16–20	225
-------------------------------	-----

PART THREE: Fun with Words	227
-------------------------------	-----

LESSON 21 HUMOR WITH WORDS: PUNS	228
-------------------------------------	-----

Target Word Practice: grounds, grudge, astronaut, missile, miniature, root, lumber, genetic, clone, vampire, vain, vein, founding, foundling, parcel, partial, granted granite, ambiguity, diminish, wit
21.1 Five-at-a-Time Method

Other Vocabulary Exercises
21.2 Original Sentences Using Target Words
21.3 Collecting Examples of Puns

LESSON 22 MORE HUMOR: MALAPROPISMS AND OTHER WORD PLAY	234
---	-----

Target Word Practice: faddish, sophisticated, candid, gust, professional, satirize, inappropriate, pretentious, allegory, blunder, ridiculous, botcher, hilarious, spurious, tidings, chidings, occupy, pew, customary, leopard, shepherd
22.1 Five-at-a-Time Method

Other Vocabulary Exercises
22.2 Decoding Mrs. Malaprop
22.3 Humorous Ambiguity
22.4 Tom Swifties

LESSON 23 WORDS WITH INTERESTING ORIGINS: NAMES	241
--	-----

Target Word Practice: tantalize, jovial, influence, disaster, lunatic, vandal, chauvinism, boycott, gerrymander, maudlin
23.1 Five-at-a-Time Method

Other Vocabulary Exercises
23.2 Blending Existing Words
23.3 Original Sentences Using Target Words
23.4 Using Words
23.5 Other Words with Interesting Origins

LESSON 24 MORE WORDS WITH INTERESTING ORIGINS	251
--	-----

Target Word Practice: diplomat, hysteria, ostracize, prestige, bigot, ambition
24.1 Five-at-a-Time Method

Other Vocabulary Exercises
24.2 Other Words with Interesting Origins
24.3 Matching Words to Definitions
24.4 Review

Review Test: LESSONS 21–24	261
-------------------------------	-----

APPENDIX A: COMMON ROOTS AND PREFIXES	263
--	-----

APPENDIX B: COMMON SUFFIXES	268
--------------------------------	-----

Index to Words Taught in Lessons	271
----------------------------------	-----

To Students

HOW AND WHY TO USE THIS BOOK

This book is designed to help you learn not only many new words but also some effective strategies for vocabulary building throughout your life. Your personal vocabulary is different from everyone else's, because your life experiences are different, so you need different words to communicate with or understand the other people in your life. You build your own vocabulary by talking with other people, listening to broadcasts, reading about things that interest you, studying school textbooks, and learning the words used in your particular job or profession. To master new words, you can use context clues, recognize familiar parts within the new words, associate new words with known ones, or look them up in your dictionary.

You have not really made a word your own, however, until you can use it yourself in your own speech and writing. This book asks you to use the Five-at-a-Time method to increase your effectiveness in using words in your own sentences. Most words have at least five different forms. Some have more and some less, but on the average you should learn about five forms of each new word. For example, when you learn the word generate, you should also be able to use the words generates, generated, generating, and generation.

Pronunciation may vary among the different forms, so you should learn the pronunciation when you learn each form. This book uses a simplified pronunciation system that shows emphasized syllables in capital letters (for example, JEN-uh-rate, gen-uh-RAY-shun). But it also explains how to use the more precise pronunciation keys in a dictionary.

Certain target words have been selected from each lesson for thorough study by the Five-at-a-Time method. For each of these words you will be given pronunciation and definitions, a list of variations, and several example sentences showing how the variations may be correctly used in sentences. The examples are very important. Do not skip over them. They will serve as models for you, showing how a good writer would use these words. You can then imitate good writers by choosing the correct variations of the word in five different sentences. Using the word several times, in several forms, will help you master it permanently.

Other learning activities are also suggested for each lesson. The sections labeled "Other Vocabulary Exercises" may include practice in applying other strategies, matching exercises, word games, writing assignments, and other activities. You may do any or all of these, as your instructor directs. Making vocabulary cards (Lesson 1) is a particularly helpful activity, especially for college students.

You will learn more words, more easily, if you develop your natural curiosity about words and enjoy working with them. Therefore the lessons in Part One discuss some interesting facts about language and encourage you to play word games in addition to giving you helpful strategies for building vocabulary.

Part Two gives you practice in applying the strategies you learned in Part One to actual reading situations—from newspapers, stories, and textbooks. Read each lesson, noticing how the emphasized words are used. Then you'll be able to choose the best strategy for learning and remembering those words. This approach is used by good students all the time.

Part Three is devoted to fun with words—jokes, wordplay, and interesting word origins.

Review is important for remembering what you learn, so review tests are included after every few lessons. The pretest at the beginning of the book may be used as a posttest too. (You should score higher at the end than at the beginning.) Your instructor may also give you other tests. But the real test of what this book has taught you will be in what happens after you leave the classroom.

If you are more comfortable with your dictionary, can understand more of what you read, can express yourself more clearly, and can continue building vocabulary on your own, this book will have done its job.

Other learning activities are also suggested for each lesson. The sections labeled "Other Vocabulary Exercises" may include practice in applying other strategies, matching exercises, word games, writing assignments, and other activities you may do any or all of these as your instructor directs. Making vocabulary cards (Lesson 1) is a particularly helpful activity, especially for college students.

You will learn more words more easily if you develop your natural curiosity about words and enjoy working with them. Therefore the lessons in Part One discuss some interesting facts about language and encourage you to play word games in addition to giving you helpful strategies for building vocabulary.

Part Two gives you practice in applying the strategies you learned in Part One to actual reading situations—from newspapers, stories, and textbooks. Read each lesson, noticing how the emphasized words are used. Then you'll be able to choose the best strategy for learning and remembering those words. This approach is used by good students all the time.

Part Three is devoted to fun with words—jokes, wordplay, and interesting word origins.

Review is important for remembering what you learn, so review tests are included after every few lessons. The pronunciation and definition of each word selected from each lesson for thorough study by the five-at-a-time method. For each of these words you will be given pronunciation and definitions, a list of keys in a dictionary.

to use the more precise pronunciation gen-uh-RAY-shun. But it also explains how capital letters (for example, EM-ph-asis) system that shows emphasized syllables in this book uses a simplified pronunciation pronunciation when you learn each form different forms, so you should learn the pronunciation that vary among the pronunciation may vary among the gen-uh-rahng and gen-uh-rayng.

use the words gen-uh-rayng, gen-uh-rayng, you should also be able to. For example, when you learn the word learn about five forms of each new word. some less, but on the average you should different forms, some have more and sentences. Most words have at least five effectiveness in using words in your own five-at-a-time method to increase your writing. This book asks you to use the if yourself in your own speech and your own, however, until you can use. You have not really made a word dictionary.

known ones, or look them up in your new words, associate new words with clues, recognize familiar parts within the used in your particular job or profession to master new words, you can use context school textbooks, and learning the words about things that interest you, studying people, listening to broadcasts, reading own vocabulary by talking with other other people in your life. You build your different, so you need different words to communicate with or understand the vocabulary is different from everyone else's, because your life experiences are through your life.

Pretest

VOCABULARY AND STRATEGIES

- A. STRATEGIES—Choose the one best answer. Guess at items you are not sure of.
- In the following sentence, what does the word coin mean? “Advertisers often coin glamorous names for new products.”
a. invent b. quarter c. bet d. steal
 - In the following sentence, what does the word episode mean? “The writer arranges the episodes, or events, to lead to a climax.”
a. climax b. players c. events d. pages
 - In the following sentence, what does post-industrial mean? “We live in a post-industrial society; industry no longer creates most of the new jobs.”
a. goods-manufacturing b. industry-following c. fence-building
d. job-creating
 - In the following sentence, what does multiversity mean? “The modern university is no longer a single, unified organization; it is so complex that it might better be called a multiversity.”
a. college for the rich b. college for both sexes
c. college for historical studies d. college with many functions
 - Which dictionary aid would best help you to distinguish among words of similar meaning such as detached, aloof, and indifferent?
a. definition b. etymology c. synonymy d. pronunciation
 - What is meant by the dictionary abbreviation n?
a. normal b. noun c. nonstandard d. note
 - The symbol ə makes the sound of _____
a. the u in suppose b. the o in suppose c. the e in suppose
d. the first s in suppose
 - A word ending in -ing is what form of a word?
a. main entry b. root c. present participle d. past participle
 - What part of speech are words that have the endings -tion, -ence, -ity, -ness, -ism?
a. nouns b. verbs c. adjectives d. adverbs
 - What part of speech are words that have the endings -ous, -ful, -ic, -able, -al?
a. nouns b. verbs c. adjectives d. adverbs
 - You can improve your memory for words by _____ a. association b. repetition c. practice d. all of the above
 - A thesaurus contains _____
a. definitions of big words b. synonyms and antonyms c. connotations and denotations d. histories of words

B. USING WORDS—Choose the forms that would make each sentence correct if they were inserted in the blanks.

13. On my vacation I was _____ just to _____ around the house.
a. dilated, loathe b. dilated, loaf c. delighted, loathe d. delighted, loaf 14. I _____ the fact that a sunrise is an _____.
a. accept, allusion b. accept, illusion c. except, allusion d. except, illusion
15. It would trouble my _____ to _____ the law.
a. conscience, flaunt b. conscience, flout c. conscious, flaunt
d. conscious, flout
16. We were _____ at such _____ achievements.
a. incredible, impressionable b. incredible, impressive
c. incredulous, impressionable d. incredulous, impressive 17. Our company is _____ for the quality of its _____.
a. noted, personal b. noted, personnel c. notorious, personal
d. notorious, personnel
18. I am _____ that the couple can solve their _____ difficulties.
a. confidant, marital b. confidant, martial c. confident, marital
d. confident, martial

C. VOCABULARY—Choose the word closest in meaning to the word on the left.

- | | | | | |
|---------------|---------------------|----------------------|---------------------|---------------------|
| 19. generate | a. originate | b. kindly | c. ordinary | d. elongate |
| 20. compound | a. hammer | b. multiple | c. weight | d. package |
| 21. discern | a. care | b. resemble | c. escape | d. recognize |
| 22. accuracy | a. invention | b. completion | c. precision | d. lunacy |
| 23. authorize | a. write | b. allow | c. botch | d. publish |
| 24. abridge | a. shorten | b. overpass | c. link | d. dental |
| 25. formally | a. earlier | b. casually | c. dressed | d. seriously |

26. varied a. true b. deceased c. differing d. beneficial
27. transact a. ferry b. railroad c. enforce d. conduct
28. associated a. coordinated b. linked c. prestigious d. occupied
29. characteristic a. novel b. noble c. trait d. boldness
30. modify a. alter b. elevate c. denigrate d. pollute
31. negate a. limit b. deprive c. remit d. deny
32. subordinate a. inferior b. equal c. superior d. similar
33. primary a. proper b. apiary c. firm d. first
34. rank (adj.) a. sounded b. stung c. corrupt d. honest
35. antonym a. hero b. opposite c. apprentice d. insect
36. vociferous a. functional b. angry c. noisy d. lazy
37. venerable a. extreme b. honorable c. sexual d. nutritious
38. omit a. leave out b. send in c. bring up d. take over
39. transitory a. stationary b. integrated c. busing d. impermanent
40. obvious a. dislocated b. armored c. plain d. secondary
41. facility a. teachers b. ease c. front d. restriction
42. intimate (v.) a. imply b. correct c. reply d. reveal
43. consonance a. notion b. reflection c. harmony d. faith
44. inference a. blocking b. conclusion c. choice d. meeting
45. visualize a. analyze b. anoint c. inspect d. imagine
46. currency a. recency b. commodity c. radiation d. electricity
47. comprise a. include b. change c. puzzle d. deflect
48. mean (n.) a. average b. expectation c. exhibition d. archetype
49. intensify a. equate b. adopt c. deepen d. engender
50. expose a. photo b. reveal c. donate d. evade
51. minute (adj.) a. timely b. inflamed c. fascinated d. tiny
52. fatigued a. interested b. dislocated c. tired d. casual
53. conventional a. usual b. meeting c. dramatic d. nunnery
54. abstract (n.) a. concrete b. command c. block d. summary
55. adjacent a. curved b. nearby c. majestic d. dependent
56. vulgar a. vested b. grainy c. crude d. bumpy
57. promiscuous a. unselective b. dilated c. cruel d. hopeful
58. ambiguous a. enlarged b. unclear c. varied d. interesting
59. obstinate a. endless b. accurate c. conceited d. stubborn
60. virtuoso a. saint b. expert c. truth d. integrity
61. eminent a. slanted b. outstanding c. jeweled d. ambulatory
62. ingenuous a. smart b. elated c. mechanical d. naive

63. comprehensive a. fearful b. understandable c. complete d. obsolete
64. site a. spectacle b. location c. quotation d. ceremony
65. inexplicable a. mysterious b. tangled c. clear d. unexpected
66. rite a. correct b. ceremony c. privilege d. duty
67. encounter a. calculator b. luncheon c. inference d. meeting
68. impotent a. medicinal b. virtuous c. powerless d. significant
69. obliterate a. gather b. erase c. analyze d. complicate
70. arrayed a. dressed b. contradicted c. sunny d. confined
71. spectacle a. glass b. offense c. omen d. sight
72. superfluous a. intrinsic b. liquefied c. excessive d. wonderful
73. absurd a. transposed b. trite c. preposterous d. archaic
74. concentrated a. dense b. partial c. treacherous d. discernible
75. proliferate a. energize b. increase c. degenerate d. integrate
76. demise a. abridgment b. influence c. hatred d. death
77. psychological a. fanatical b. inhibited c. mental d. monumental
78. opiate a. anecdote b. pact c. hallucination d. drug
79. analgesic a. graduated b. pain-killing c. inner d. unformed
80. synthesize a. combine b. investigate c. veer d. revitalize
81. tamper a. anger b. dominate c. meddle d. deduct
82. diverse a. varied b. poetic c. neural d. contemporary
83. detrimental a. glib b. psychological c. euphoric d. harmful
84. jeopardize a. formulate b. risk c. intimidate d. dedicate
85. rooted a. addicted b. rendered c. proliferated d. dug
86. partial a. incomplete b. contrived c. penetrating d. package
87. founding a. orphan b. sinister c. establishing d. cloning
88. diminish a. sadden b. deplete c. digress d. tantalize
89. candid a. camera b. genetic c. honest d. pretentious
90. spurious a. false b. dynamic c. philosophical d. angry
91. comprehend a. warn b. botch c. exclude d. understand
92. satirize a. synthesize b. ridicule c. orbit d. predict
93. tantalize a. torment b. diminish c. induce d. defeat
94. maudlin a. jovial b. sentimental c. clumsy d. intolerant
95. ravage a. settle b. approve c. ruin d. primitive
96. bedlam a. confusion b. contempt c. candor d. decimation
97. hysteria a. ambition b. bigotry c. prestige d. panic
98. ostracize a. resemble b. stimulate c. blend d. exclude
99. trivial a. receding b. unimportant c. melancholy d. cardinal
100. diplomacy a. graduation b. sabotage c. tactfulness d. pedigree