Many others have helped. The work could not have been completed without the many contributions in time and labor of the faculty, staff, and students of the University of Hawaii Department of Drama & Theatre. It is not possible to name them all, but Nancy Takei, a secretary without peer, is high on our list. Students Yukihiro Goto, Therese Moore, Sheila Turner, and Michiko Ueno have been helpful in various ways. So have faculty members Glenn Cannon, Terence Knapp, and Richard Mason. The staff of the University's Hamilton Library has assisted as only selfless professionals can; particular thanks go to Patricia Polanski, Annabelle Takahashi, and Susan Thompson. Administration, faculty, and staff elsewhere in the University have been cooperative in many ways: they include Mustapha K. Benouis, Leon Edel, James D. Ellsworth, Judith Gething Hughes, Robert J. Littman, Walter H. Maurer, Lawrence A. Reid, Paul A. Roth, and Richard K. Seymour. The University of Hawaii Foundation provided a grant that was most helpful in the later stages of work on the Dictionary. Outside the University, at various times we have had help ranging from encouragement or advice through providing assistance with certain specialized entries. Such aid has been given by Dan Anderson, Bernard Beckerman, L. W. Conolly, Walter Craver, Donald Doyle, Mary Jane Evans, Gene Fitzgerald, Frank Fuller, Jr., Roger Alan Hall, Errol G. Hill, Francis B. Hodge, Richard Hosley, Ken Kanter,
