PRACTICING

My sisters, my brother, and I are busy this afternoon. We're staying after school, and we're practicing different things.

I'm practicing tennis. I practice tennis every day after school. My tennis coach tells me I'm an excellent tennis player, and my friends tell me I play tennis better than anyone else in the school. I want to be a professional tennis player when I grow up. That's why I practice every day.

My brother Jimmy is practicing football. He practices football every day after school. His football coach tells him he's an excellent football player, and his friends tell him he plays football better than anyone else in the school. Jimmy wants to be a professional football player when he grows up. That's why he practices every day.

My sister Susan is practicing the violin. She practices the violin every day after school. Her music teacher tells her she's an excellent violinist, and her friends tell her she plays the violin better than anyone else in the school. Susan wants to be a professional violinist when she grows up. That's why she practices every day.

My sisters Patty and Melissa are practicing ballet. They practice ballet every day after school. Their dance teacher tells them they're excellent ballet dancers, and their friends tell them they dance ballet better than anyone else in the school. Patty and Melissa want to be professional ballet dancers when they grow up. That's why they practice every day.
