The Aussie Nibbles Story

In 1996, Puffin developed the Aussie Bites series as a response to the need for short chapter books to bridge the reading gap between picture books and novels.

Our aim was to encourage confidence in young readers by providing them with well-written, relevant stories that were both easy to read and entertaining.

In 2000, due to popular demand, we expanded the series to include Aussie Nibbles, which are shorter stories aimed at younger readers who are tackling their very first chapter books.

The success of the Aussie Nibbles series has exceeded our wildest expectations. Nearly one million copies have been sold, and the books, which are produced entirely in Australia, are still in constant demand. Many of the titles have now been published internationally. Kids, parents and teachers love them, and they're easy to recognise by their trademark 'nibble' at the top of the book.

CHAPTER 1

A Disappearing Act

‘And now, the Amazing Fleadini will jump through not ONE, not TWO, but THREE hoops of fire!’ bellowed the Flea Circus master.

Matt gasped. He put on his magnifying glasses and peered down at the mini circus arena.

Climbing into a teeny tiny cannon, wearing a one-piece jumpsuit and a helmet the size of a very small corn kernel, was the Amazing Fleadini.

As Fleadini gave the thumbs up, the Flea Circus master lit the fuse. Fleadini shot out of the cannon, through the flaming hoops, and –

DISAPPEARED!

Matt thought it was the best show he'd ever seen.

But the Flea Circus

master was looking around wildly.

Where had Fleadini gone?

Disappearing like that was not part of the act!

CHAPTER 2

A Holiday

At home again, Matt scratched his head for the millionth time. He'd never been so itchy in his life.

Suddenly he stopped, mid-scratch. Was that a tiny voice in his ear?

Pulling the magnifying
glasses out of his pocket,
Matt raced to the bathroom.

Looking at his reflection,
he saw the Amazing
Fleadini waving at him!

‘Hi there,’ said Matt, as if it was the most natural thing in the world to have a flea in a helmet hopping about on his head.

Fleadini whispered in Matt’s ear.

‘You want to have a holiday here?’ Matt said.
‘Why? There’s no beach or pool or anything.’

Matt knew. He’d been living here for years, and so far it was the same old house. He’d kept asking his parents for a pool, but it hadn’t happened.

Fleadini hopped onto Matt’s hand, and spoke again in his tiny voice.
