主编者例言

- 一、这套读物主要供高等院校理工科各专业学生英语课外阅读之用,也可供自学英语的工程技术人员选用,以提高英语阅读与理解能力。
- 二、全套读物共分四级,按词汇量和语言难度分级。词汇量以 Thorndike 和 Lorge 所编 The Teacher's Wordbook of 30,000 为依据,但按我国具体教学情况作适当调整。每级读物分若干册。第一级到第三级为一般科普文章,包括科普知识、科学家传记和轶事、科技珍闻、科学幻想等。第四级读物中一部分为一般科普文章,亦即一、二、三级的继续;另一部分为分大类读物,如:机械动力、电子电工、土建水利、交通运输等。
- 三、全套读物都选自英美原文。在编选过程中力求选文题材新颖、内容有趣、语言生动。
- 四、每册内容包括选文、注释和理解练习三个部分。书后附有该册词汇总表和练习答案,可供查阅。

APPENDIX 2

VOCABULARY

1. MR., MRS., MISS, AND MS¹.

Almost everyone knows the meanings of Mr., Mrs., and Miss. Mr. is used before the names of men. Mrs. is for married women and Miss is for single women. But what is Ms.?

For some time, businessmen in the United States have used Ms. before a woman's name when they do not know whether the woman is married or not. Today, however, many women prefer to use Ms. rather than Mrs. or Miss². The word Mr. does not tell us whether or not a man is married. Many women think this is an advantage for men. They want to be equal to³ men in this way. These women feel that it is not important for people to know whether they are married or not.

There are some problems with Ms., however. Not all women like it. Some like the older ways of doing things. Some find it difficult to pronounce⁴. (Ms. sounds like "miz".)⁵ Generally, young women like it better than older women do. It is difficult to know whether or not Ms. will be used by more American women in the future. What do you think of this change?

(from A Reading Sampler)

1. Mr., Mrs., Miss, and Ms.: Mr. 是 mister (先生) 的缩写, 读作['mistə]; Mrs 是 mistress (夫人) 的缩写, 读作['misiz]; miss 小姐, 读作[mis]; Ms 代表 miss 或 Mrs, 读作[miz], 用在婚姻情况不明的女子姓名前。
 2. prefer to use Ms rather than Mrs. or Miss: 宁愿使用“女

士”而不使用“夫人”或“小姐”。“prefer to + V. + rather than ...”意为“宁愿…而不…”，如：I prefer to work rather than sit idle. 我愿意工作，而不愿闲着。

3. be equal to: 与…平等。
4. Some find it difficult to pronounce: 有些人认为发音不便。句中 it 为形式宾语，实际宾语为不定式 to pronounce.
5. Ms. Sounds like “miz”: Ms. 发音为[miz]。

Are these statements true or false according to the passage?

- _____ 1. The word Mrs. is used before the names of married women.
- _____ 2. Businessmen in the United States always use Ms. before women's names.
- _____ 3. Many women like Ms. because they want to be equal to men.
- _____ 4. All women like the new word Ms.
- _____ 5. The women who like Ms. feel it is important for people to know whether or not they are married.

2. THE FIRST STAMPS

Did you know that the first stick-on or adhesive stamps¹ in the world were issued in Great Britain in May 1840? They were the Penny Black and the Two-penny Blue².

The man responsible for these stamps³ was Sir Rowland Hill⁴, who is sometimes described as⁵ the inventor of the modern postage stamp. Before 1840 all letters had been paid for by the person who received them. The cost of a letter from a great distance was very heavy. Many people were too poor to accept their mail. Then in 1840 Sir Rowland Hill introduced the Penny Post⁶. This allowed people to send letters for one penny per half ounce, regardless of the distance⁷. Since the sender now had to pay the cost, something was needed to show that the cost had already been paid. Sir Rowland produced little 'labels' to stick on the envelopes for this purpose. These 'labels' were the first postage stamps.

The Penny Black from Great Britain appeared in 1840.

The Bull's Eye stamp from Brazil appeared in 1843.

The first airmail stamp appeared in the USA in 1918.

When the first stamps were introduced the mail was carried in mail coaches like this.

The Canton of Zurich⁸ in Switzerland⁹ followed

Britain's lead¹⁰ in March 1843. A few months later Brazil¹¹ issued the famous Bull's Eyes¹². Soon most countries of the world had their own stamps and postal service¹³ of a similar kind.

There have been other 'first' stamps since 1840. For example, Peru¹⁴ issued the world's first commemorative stamps in 1871 on the twentieth anniversary of the first railway in South America. The first specially designed airmail stamp was printed by the USA in 1918.

(from Did You Know?)

1. stick-on or adhesive stamps: 背面粘有胶水的邮票。
 2. the Penny Black and the Twopenny Blue: 黑色一便士的邮票和蓝色两便士的邮票。
 3. The man responsible for these stamps: 意义上相当于 The man who thought of issuing these stamps 想到发行这些邮票的人。responsible for ... 原意为“对…负责”,“担负”。
 4. Sir Rowland Hill(['rəʊlənd hil]): Rowland Hill 爵士。
 5. be described as (= be considered as): 被认为是…。
 6. the Penny Post: 用一便士邮寄一封信的(邮政)制度。
 7. to send letters for one penny per half ounce, regardless of the distance: 信件按每半两重贴一便士邮票投寄, 不管距离远近。regardless of ... 不管(顾)…。
 8. the Canton(['kæntən]) of Zurich(['zju:erik]): 苏黎士行政区(瑞士)。
 9. Switzerland(['switsələnd]): 瑞士。
 10. followed Britain's lead: = followed Britain's example 仿照英国。

 12. the famous Bull's Eyes: 著名的牛眼邮票。
 13. postal service: 邮政机构(部门)。
 14. Peru(['pe'ru:]): 秘鲁。

Are these statements true or false according to the passage?

- 1. With the introduction of the Penny Post, the receiver of a letter had to pay for it.
- 2. Postage stamps are used to show the sender has paid the cost of postage.
- 3. Bull's Eyes stamps were issued by Peru.
- 4. The idea of using little 'labels' on envelopes was Sir Rowland Hill's.
- 5. The first commemorative stamp was issued to mark the beginning of airmail.

3. HOW DID APRIL FOOL'S DAY¹ BEGIN?

The custom of playing tricks on² friends on April 1st is believed to have originated in³ France⁴ in the middle of the 6th century.

Before that time, one calendar was used throughout Europe. Under this calendar, each new year began on April 1st. On that day, people celebrated by exchanging gifts and visiting each other⁵.

Then in 1564, King Charles IX of France⁶ adopted a new calendar and decreed that each new year was to begin on January 1st⁷. However, while⁸ most people followed their king's decree, there were some who did not like the idea of the change and refused to accept the new New Year's Day.

These people soon became the butt of jokes and tricks⁹ by their friends and neighbors because they continued to observe April 1st as New Year's Day. These friends and neighbors sent mock gifts¹⁰, invited these people to fake parties¹¹, and played tricks on them because they were "April Fools", people who clung to their April New Year's Day¹².

(选自《广播节目报》1983年第10期)

1. April Fool's Day: 四月一日愚人节。
 2. play tricks on sb: 捉弄(戏弄)某人。
 3. originate in: 起源于…。
 4. France ([fra:ns]): 法国。

Choose the right answer according to the passage.

1. The origin of April Fool's Day
 - a) is known with certainty.
 - b) has probably been determined.
 - c) is only a legend.

- d) is completely unknown.
2. Some people didn't follow the new calendar because
- a) they didn't like their king.
 - b) they prefer old things.
 - c) they liked to be made fun of.
 - d) they liked mock gifts.

4. WHY DO BARBER SHOPS HAVE RED AND WHITE POLES?

Long, long ago, barbers did much more than cut people's hair¹. Barbers performed some minor operations on² people, especially blood-letting, or bleeding. This was believed to be a cure for some illnesses³ in which⁴ the "bad blood" was supposed to leave the body.

To perform the operations, barbers had their patients hold onto a pole standing in the shop⁵. Then the patient's blood was "let". When the pole was not being used by a patient, it stood in the barber's doorway with bandages wrapped around it⁶. This was an advertisement that the barber was a good "bleeder."

When people realized that it was unsanitary to use a pole that stood in a doorway, barbers painted red stripes around the poles as a continuing advertisement⁷. The red stripes were to remind the customers of⁸ blood-soaked bandages.

Red and white striped barber poles became so identified with⁹ barbers that the custom of having a pole outside a barber shop continues today.

(选自《广播节目报》1983年第10期)

1. did much more than cut people's hair: 远不止只是给人们理发。
 2. perform operations on sb.: 给某人做手术。
 3. a cure for some illnesses: 治疗某些疾病的方法。
 4. which: 指代 cure。
 5. barbers had their patients hold onto a pole standing in the shop: 理发师让病人抱住竖立在店堂里的柱子。“have + 宾语 + V”表示“使(叫, 让)…做”之意, 如: We can't have the motor run idle. 我们不能让马达空转。
 6. with bandages wrapped around it: 柱子上缠着绷带。这是“with + n. + V-ed₂”的结构, 这里表示伴随情况。
 7. barbers painted red stripes around the pole as a continuing advertisement: 理发师就在柱子四周漆上红色条纹, 继续作为一种广告。
 8. remind sb. of sth.: 使某人想起某事。
 9. be (become) identified with: 和…联系起来。

Choose the right answer according to the passage.

1. The red stripes of the barber's pole represent
 - a) blood running down the pole.
 - b) nothing, it is only for decoration.
 - c) the fact that the barber shop is open for business.
 - d) stripes of blood-stained cloth tied round the pole.
2. Barbers 'let' the blood of ordinary people because
 - a) they were cruel.
 - b) they were paid a lot of money to do so.
 - c) they were ignorant about blood.
 - d) they were doctors.

5. WHY DO MEN HAVE BUTTONS ON THEIR JACKET SLEEVES?

The buttons on the sleeves of men's jackets serve no real purpose today¹. But there are many stories explaining how they came to be there².

One story involves Frederick the Great, who was King of Prussia³ in the 18th century. Frederick's armies were involved in⁴ a great many wars, and he was often on the field of battle with his troops. One of his concerns, so the story goes, was the appearance of his men⁵. Once as he went about inspecting his soldiers⁶, he became quite upset at⁷ the dirty sleeves of their uniforms. When he asked why the sleeves were dirtier than the rest of the uniforms, he was told that the soldiers wiped the sweat from their faces on their sleeves.

Frederick refused to have this habit continue. So to stop it⁸, he ordered metal buttons sewn on the top side of⁹ all soldiers' sleeves. That way, if the men wiped their faces, using their sleeves as a towel, they would get badly scratched.

Eventually these buttons were put on civilians' jackets as well, but only as decoration. So if you notice buttons on your father's jacket sleeves, don't think that your mother put them there to stop him from using his jacket as a towel. The buttons are only for decoration!
