序 言

北京市大学生英语演讲比赛是北京市教育委员会委托项目，由对外经济贸易大学承办。英语演讲是一门研究如何运用英语语言说话的艺术，高规格的英语竞赛既能反映又能推动高校的英语演讲教学和学生的综合素质，为广大的英语学习者建立必要的导向和标准。

首先，英语演讲比赛不仅仅是语言水平、技巧的比赛，更应注重说什么和怎么说。而英语作为比赛应用的载体，更能够引导年轻的大学生们从思想和表达上与世界接轨，真正适应我国与世界未来的发展。

其次，英语演讲比赛对于高校开展相应的英语教学起到了重要的推动作用。通过比赛，高校可以更科学地对英语人才的培养方向进行定位，使英语课的教学不再仅限于一门语言学科，而成为培养学生全面能力与素质的综合型课程，彻底地完成从应试教育到素质教育的转变。

再次，对于参赛选手而言，演讲比赛留给他们的最宝贵的财富是帮助英语学习者树立正确的学习态度和分析经验的积累，让选手们终身受益。

对外经济贸易大学在 2009 年成功举办首届北京市大学生英语演讲比赛，截至目前已经成功举办了五届，涌现出了众多优秀演讲学生以及演讲稿件。随着我国经济的发展，特别是我国入世以后，我国与国际社会交流的机会越来越多，需要学生用英语交流的场合也越来越多，因此，有必要对我们的优秀演讲稿件进行整理出版，以便为更多的英语学习者及英语演讲者提供宝贵的材料。

Global Financial Crisis—Opportunity

Wang Xuan (Outstanding Winner University of International Business and Economics)

Good afternoon, Ladies and gentlemen. It was the best of times, it was the worst of times; it was the season of light, it was the season of darkness; we had everything before us, we had nothing before us. Such was the year 1775 depicted by Charles Dickens in A TALE OF TWO CITIES. Surprisingly our time is no different from 1775. We're in time of the worst crisis but it is also the best of times fraught with opportunities.

Now this is wrong. You might say. Last year a financial tsunami swept our world upside down, leaving our ears baffled by the on-going media reports, heart saddened by the blight of job market, and mind confused by the uncertainty of the road ahead. This is simply apocalyptic. Opportunity, to most people, is merely nothing but comfort acting like painkillers whose soothing effect disappears shortly afterwards. But ladies and gentlemen, before you jump into that conclusion, let me tell you a story.

Once upon a time a donkey fell into a pit and couldn't climb out. His master, the donkey driver was too sad to see the donkey struggling in the pit, so he decided to bury him. Every time the driver shoveled the dirt into the pit, the donkey dusted off the dirt and stepped onto it and eventually the dirt accumulated to the level of the ground and the donkey was saved. We're the donkey. The crisis is the dirt which seems to make matters worse, but if taken advantage of, can give us hope, salvation and opportunities.

Throughout history crisis has always been the cradle for breeding legends. In time of crisis, we have Bill Gates, Walt Disney, Robert Wood, Steve Jobs...The reason is when crisis is attacking our home, usually opportunity is already knocking on our door.

Then where is the opportunity of our current financial crisis?

First and foremost, the crisis has been a wakeup call to restructure our financial system and to reevaluate the trade-off between government intervention and free market mechanism. According to the essay "Finance is Not Virtual Economy" by the economist Yi Gang, the road to finding the truth is sure to encounter the obstacles, but that doesn't mean we should give up. What the crisis brings to us is not dismay in finance, but the motivation to refine the system so as to effectively serve its role in allocating resources, distributing risks, and saving costs in information search.

Second, the crisis strengthens global cooperation. September 25th saw the closing ceremony of the G20 summit in Pittsburg and the messages it presents to the world are worth contemplation. One of them is to hear the voices of the undeveloped and the developing countries that are often ostracized on the global stage, thus promoting the idea of multilateralism and creating a positive global environment.

Then, the crisis shifts our eyes from the past to the future, from underlying problems to possible solutions. Policymakers are beginning to turn their minds to the potentially more rewarding question of creating tomorrow's jobs, rather than trying to save yesterday's. The buzzwords in government circles are entrepreneurship, innovation and venture capital. On October 30th, China's first Growth Enterprise Market was initiated in Shenzhen, who knows how many "Microsoft" will pop out. Ironically, the crisis ignites entrepreneurship, who can say there is no opportunity?

Ladies and gentlemen, crisis may bankrupt us, may impoverish us, may devastate us, but as long as we learn to be the donkey taking advantage of the crisis, it can never stop us from rising to our feet once again.

In time of crisis, no panic, no ignorance. We march towards the future, head on!
