It is well-known that we exist in a dynamic world with various difficulties. When we are faced with them, nothing is more important than hope and self-confidence. With confidence, we can find sometimes the question is not as "huge" as we imagine.

Take most of us for example, the entrance exam to college seems to be a horrible monster. Accordingly, some people give up, some persist. In my eyes, with confidence, right assessment of the difficulties, as well as full preparation, try and exert your strength, and then we will overcome all problems and challenges.

On the whole, I believe we youngsters should face the difficulties in right manner. And nothing is impossible, brave it out and just do it!

Dear Jack,

I'm glad that you're interested in Qing Ming Festival. Qing Ming is a period to honour and to pay respect to one's ancestors and family members who passed away. This is one of the most important days of sacrifice.

As for the traditional activities during Qingming Festival, people will come to sweep tombs and offer sacrifices, including food, flowers and favourites of the dead. Then they will burn paper money to pay their respect to their ancestors.

In contrast to the sadness of the tomb sweepers, people have followed the custom of spring outings to feel the atmosphere of spring on this day. At this time tourists are seen everywhere.

To make the visit even more meaningful, some time, in my view, should be spent in reminding the younger members of the family of the lives and contributions of their ancestors.

Yours,
Li Ming

How to Make Tomato and Egg Soup

My grandmother is teaching me how to make tomato and egg soup. First, remove the skins of the tomatoes and then cut the tomatoes into thick slices. After that, we beat the eggs and stir them in a bowl.

Next, pour some water and the tomatoes into a pot and cook over a strong fire. When the water boils, stir the egg into the soup lightly with a soup spoon. At last, add some salt and the soup is ready to serve.

We can see in the picture a little boy standing in front of a mirror. He's letting his imagination fly. What he sees in the mirror is not his physical self but what he will be like in twenty years. Although he is small and short now, he believes he will grow up to be a tall and strong young man like Yao Ming, who he admires.

I think this picture tries to tell us that we should always look into the future with hope and confidence.

My grandpa is now a retired worker. When my grandpa was fourteen years old, he worked in a coal mine.

One day, when he and his two workmates were working in the tunnel, an unfortunate thing suddenly happened. A part of the tunnel fell down, and they were shut in it. They had no food to eat. When they were hungry, they only drank some water there. It was very cold in it. In order to keep warm they hugged one another.

In the darkness, they didn't know whether it was day or night, they only felt they had stayed there for a very long time. They were too hungry to speak or move, and thought they would die, but they never gave up their hope.

At last, the tunnel was dug through. They were saved. They had been there for fourteen days! My grandpa said whatever difficulties we may be faced with in life, we should never give up the hope and fight for the future!

During the Sichuan earthquake, a young mother, who was found dead, managed to protect her baby by bending her body over him at the risk of her own life. She only left a message to her baby. “Dear baby, if you are lucky to survive, please keep in mind that I love you.”

So many people were moved by the scene, and I am also one of them. In face of danger, the mother never felt scared but tried her best to give her baby a chance to survive. The story reminded me of my mother, who devotes herself to looking after me, giving me care and encouragement. Just like the mother in the story, she can do everything to make sure that I can grow up healthily and happily. I want to say, “I love you, dear Mum.”

When it comes to topic that how we can live a happy life, I hold the view that happiness is a kind of attitude.

You can take every opportunity to help others in trouble, because nothing is as popular as goodness. You can remind those precious memories when you're tired or in blue. It is also a kind of enjoyment. It can make you recover from unlucky reality, get confidence and encouragement to face challenges. You can just do what you're supposed to do, focus on your study, fight for your graceful dreams, etc. But definitely, everyone meets difficulties in achieving his goals. However, never give up! The minute you think of giving up, think of the reason why you hold on so long. Just enjoy the struggle, because it's meaningful to your life.

Learn to listen to our own voice from the inner heart, do what you're glad to do and always keep a positive attitude even in trouble, then you'll surprisingly find you're always surrounded by pleasure.

Dear Jack,

It's good to hear that you are coming to China this October. Though many cities are worth visiting, the one I strongly recommend is my hometown—Chongqing.

Places of interest in Chongqing are too numerous to mention. Three Gorges is a place you can't miss. The romantic cruise down the Yangtze River will impress you deeply. At Chao Tianmen, walking leisurely along the river at night, you can feast your eyes on breath-taking night views. At Jie Fangbei, looking up at the skyscrapers and watching the fashionable girls floating by, it feels as if you were at the Fifth Avenue in New York. Besides, varieties of delicious food, especially hot pot, will surely arouse your appetite. In short, you'll never regret your decision to visit Chongqing.

Don't hesitate to call me for help and I'm looking forward to seeing you.

What the material indicates is that people, especially children like to eat in fast food restaurants, which, I think, is not beneficial to people's health.

Admittedly, the fast food restaurants provide people with great convenience, because of which people can have their dinner anytime at a high speed. As a result, they can devote more time to their work and possibly earn more money. However, most of the fast foods, such as hamburgers, fried chickens, crisps etc. , lack nutrition or are high in fat. Thus people having too much such food will damage their health in the end.

Considering what has been mentioned above, I think it's about time that people should eat less fast food!

Everyone has his dreams, but not all these dreams can come true. In order to make your dream come true, there are several things that you can do.

First, dream big but be realistic. You can dream a lot of things but it only matters when you take real action to deal with your problems. Then you need to be brave. You need great courage when met with all kinds of difficulties. Finally, never give up. Unless you hold on to your dream, you will never make it real.

In brief, dreams come true only when you stick to it and take action to overcome all kinds of difficulties.

I quite agree with this saying. Whether a man is old or not is not decided only by his biological age, but also by what he is seeking. Some people should be very old when they give up every effort to try anything new although they are actually very young. On the contrary, some people still spare no effort to achieve their dreams while they are actually old. I think they are still very young and they would never regret when they get really old.

Much as technology facilitates our life, too much ready convenience on our fingertips may bring about a sloth of mind.

In my terms, such phenomenon as relying on the Internet should urge caution. Once students lose their originality, they are bound to fail to make any further advances. Meanwhile, heavy dependence always adds weakness and pessimism to students' characters, deterring them from overwhelming adversities.

In a nutshell, students ought to make a switch from reliance to independence as well as harness technology properly.

Dear Mike,

I'm happy to have received your letter. Since I went to high school, great changes have taken place in my life.

Everything seems new to me. I must admit that the whole environment is so amazing that it left a deep impression on me. Strict as my new teachers are, they possess a sense of humour. I promise you would love my classmates if you were here for they are friendly and enthusiastic.

Being a high school student, I have to study much harder than before. I usually begin a day of learning at 7:20 a. m. and come back home at 9:45 p. m. Busy schedule, isn't it?

Although my new life is full of pressure, I really enjoy it. I will always do my best in the future. Cheer for me!

Yours,

Li Hua

Listening and Speaking

I. Listen to Dialogue 1 and Dialogue 2 carefully and choose the best answers.

Dialogue 1

W: Have you got any idea what you'll buy for Mary's birthday?

M: Well, I'll get her a very new school bag. And I promised to take her to a film. What about you?

W: Oh, I haven't decided yet. I probably buy her a new music record as she likes it so much.

Dialogue 2

W: Don't forget to write to me, Jason.

M: I won't. But let me make sure I have the right address. Is it 42 Eastdrive Birmingham?

W: That's right. By the way, my office number has changed since I began to work at Morrison.

M: Has it? And tell me what it is, then.

II. Listen to Dialogue 3 carefully and choose the best answers.

Dialogue 3

W: John, do you realize that Christmas is only a month away? We've got to think about Christmas gifts.

M: Yes, and what a lot of things we have to think about!

W: Shall we decide what to send them all now?

M: All right. Let's make a list of names and then decide what to give them all.

W: The children first, I think. What about Anne?

M: She's getting too grown-up for toys. We can let her choose a book.

W: Very well. Now what about Dick? He thinks about nothing but space travel nowadays.

M: Oh, that makes it easy. Shall we give him one of those space travel suits the toyshop has? You know what I mean; there is a big round plastic thing that goes over the head.

W: That's an excellent idea. He'll be quite excited.

M: What about your father?

W: He's fond of music. Perhaps some records?

M: Sounds great.

III. Listen to the following passage and choose the best answers.

People used to say, "Behind every successful man there's a woman."

Some women still like making their husbands and sons successful. But some women want more for themselves. They want good jobs. When they work, they want to be paid equally as men. Today the best jobs are still given to men. Even when women do the same work, they are often paid less than men. Women want these things to be changed. The women's liberation movement was started by women who didn't want to stand behind successful men. They wanted to stand beside men, with the same chance for success. The movement is quite new, and some American women do not agree with its purpose. But it has already made several changes in women's lives, and men's lives, too.

Unit 2 Attitude to Life

Listening and Speaking

I. Listen to Dialogue 1 and Dialogue 2 carefully and choose the best answers.

Dialogue 1

M: Do I check in here for Eastern Flight 781 to Houston?

W: Do you already have your ticket?

Dialogue 2

M: Excuse me, is the 5:30 Flight from London on time?

W: No, Sir. It's been delayed for two hours due to bad weather.

II. Listen to Dialogue 3 carefully and choose the best answers.

Dialogue 3

W: What time is it now?

M: Let me look at my watch. Oh, it's nine thirty already.

W: Though today is Saturday, it's time for us to get up, or we'll have a real late breakfast.

M: We can have brunch in a Chinese restaurant for a change.

W: What is brunch?

M: It's a meal between breakfast and lunch. Many people prefer brunch on Saturdays.

W: All right. Come on. You don't have to wear that much. It's warm today, much warmer than yesterday.

M: How do you know?

W: I listened to the weather forecast on TV last night.

III. Listen to the following passage and choose the best answers.

Let me tell you about our worst experience. Back in 1982 we went to San Francisco for two weeks. We stayed at Fairmount for most of the trip, and then took a sight trip to visit my cousin in the Modesto. After our visit we decided not to sleep at his house but to find a place on our way back to San Francisco. We drove for a long time and finally stopped at a motel in the middle of the night. We got to our room to find the TV chained to the table and we had to get the manager to operate the TV for us. After he left, a short time later, there was a knock on the door. It was the manager with a roll of paper. I asked him what it was for and he said we could use it in the bathroom. We had to take a shower and dry off with the paper. The unused ones have to be brought back to the office. This was quite difficult to accept. We were used to the good service at Fairmount.

Unit 3 Festivals and Celebrations

Listening and Speaking

I. Listen to Dialogue 1 and Dialogue 2 carefully and choose the best answers.

Dialogue 1

M: Morning madam, what can I do for you?

W: I'd like to have two eggs.

M: Yes, two eggs. What would you like in your eggs? We have cabbage. Besides that, we also have tomatoes, ham, and carrots.

W: I would like some cabbage, carrots, and tomatoes, please! And put some hot sauce in there, too, if you don't mind.

Dialogue 2

M: Turn your head a little bit to the left and look straight ahead. Just relax. Yeah, you look great posing like that! I'm gonna press the button on the camera now...

W: Give me a second, will you? I wanna put on some lipstick.

II. Listen to Dialogue 3 carefully and choose the best answers.

Dialogue 3

W: Would you please give me a ride to the University town tomorrow morning?

M: My car is actually in the shop. Would you like to take the bus with me?

W: No, thanks. I'll just take the subway. By the way, when is the first subway to the University town?

M: Around 7:00 am. Oh, it has been put forward. You'd better set off half an hour earlier.

III. Listen to the following passage and choose the best answers.

Thanks for being here, everybody. I know you are from Harvard University, but many of you may know me from my environmental science classes here at Garfield High. I'm glad to see that many of you here are much younger than our students. And that brings me to my first point about why we need to protect the environment—it's for our kids, and our children's kids. Don't we want them to grow up with clean water to drink and healthy food to eat? Don't we want them to be able to walk outside without having to breathe dirty air? If the answer is yes, then we have to act fast. And what about problems like earthquakes and typhoons? Recent studies show that global warming is making these disasters more serious than they used to be, and they're happening more often as well. There's another reason to give Mother Nature a helping hand, and this should get the attention of governments around the world: if you don't make some big changes soon, the price of everything—from oil to corn to diamonds—is going to increase.

Unit 4 Food and Culture

Listening and Speaking

I. Listen to Dialogue 1 and Dialogue 2 carefully and choose the best answers.

Dialogue 1

M: So, before I give you the keys, I need you to sign a few papers. First, sign here to say that the apartment is in good condition, and that you take responsibility for any damage.

W: I'm sorry, sir. Before I can sign this, I'll need to inspect things a bit more closely.

Dialogue 2

W: All A's? You got all A's? Great job on your report card!

M: I was surprised, too. I think the classes were easier this time.

II. Listen to Dialogue 3 carefully and choose the best answers.

Dialogue 3

W: There's something I have to tell you.

M: Uh-oh. This sounds bad.

W: Yeah... So, you know how I said you could have my apartment as long as you needed it? Well, it looks like you're going to have to move back in with mom and dad now.

M: Why?

W: Well, I moved out of here to live with Joe. But we just broke up, so I need my place back.

M: It's OK, Sis. It's actually fine.

W: It is?

M: Yeah... Gosh, I don't know how to tell you this.

W: What? Just tell me. Nothing could possibly make my day worse.

M: OK, you see, Lucy and I decided to get married. So we're looking for a place of our own.

III. Listen to the following dialogue and choose the best answers.

W: Thanks for the agreeing to this interview.

M: Of course. I'm a big fan of your magazine.

W: How nice! I'm also a fan of yours. I bought your first album when I was 15.

M: That's great.

W: OK... So, my first question is, "when did you start playing music?"

M: When I was three, playing a toy drum.

W: How long did you play the drums?

M: Not long. When I was seven, my uncle gave me a used guitar, and he taught me how to play. I've been playing ever since.

W: When did you start singing and writing songs?

M: I've actually been doing that all along. I was the oldest of five kids, so I would often sing to my younger brothers and sisters to entertain them. I didn't know a lot of songs, so I would make up
