One day Mrs Wilson went shopping with Tracy and Ben. They went to the supermarket in the new shopping centre.

"Why do you buy things there?" Tracy wanted to know. "Because they are cheaper here than at the corner store near our home," Mrs Wilson said. "Help me check the prices, please."

The Wilsons were not rich and Mrs Wilson was always careful with her money. She looked carefully at the prices of things. She bought lots of things in the supermarket. When they got home, the children said, "We don't think you saved money by going to the supermarket."

"Of course I did," Mrs Wilson said. "Everything was cheaper there."

"We know," the children said, "but we came home by taxi because we had too much to carry. The taxi fare was more than the money that you saved!"

Mrs Wilson added everything up. Her children were right.

People's appearance(外貌) depends on things called genes(基因). Genes are found in the cells(细胞) of people's bodies, and they are passed on from parents to children. There are some facts about eyes.

Many Europeans and Americans can have blue, green or brown eyes. But a brown-eyed person, for example, may also carry genes for another colour in his/her body. So two brown-eyed or green-eyed parents may not have a child with the same colour eyes. If a child's father and mother both have brown eyes, the child will probably also have brown eyes, but this is not certain.

If one parent has blue eyes and one has brown eyes, their children may have either blue eyes or brown eyes, but most will probably have brown eyes. The gene for blue eyes is recessive(隐性的) and the gene for brown eyes is dominant(显性的). This means that if a child gets a gene for blue eyes and also a gene for brown eyes from its parents, brown will win, and the child's eyes will be brown, not blue.

Judge the following sentences True or False according to passage. (根据短文内容,判断下列句子正误。正确的写“T”,错误的写“F”。)

- () 1. Children look like their parents because they get genes from their parents.
- () 2. A brown-eyed person only carries the gene for brown eyes in his/her body.
- () 3. If a child has brown eyes, its parent may have other colour eyes.
- () 4. If a child's father and mother both have green eyes, the child's eyes must be green.
- () 5. If one parent has blue eyes and one has brown eyes, their child mostly has brown eyes.

(C)

It's hard to make friends if you stay home alone all time. Get out of the house and do things that will put you in touch with(接触) other people. It's easier to make friends when you have similar interests.

Don't be afraid to show people what you're really good at. Talk about the things you like and do best. People will be interested in you if there is something interesting about you.

Be a good listener. Let people talk about themselves before talking about "me, me, me". Ask lots of questions. Show an interest in their answers.

Try to make friends with the kind of people you really like, respect(尊敬), and admire(羡慕)——not just with those who are easy to meet. Be friendly with a lot of people. That way, you'll have a bigger group of people to choose from and have more chances for making friends.

Answer the following questions according to the passage. (根据短文内容,回答下列问题。)

- 1. How can we have more friends, get in touch with other people or stay at home?
- 2. When Jim talks to people, he always looks right, left, or at the floor. Do you think it's right? Why or why not?
- 3. Cindy always talks about herself when she talks to other people. What advice(建议) do you think she needs to follow?
- 4. What should you do if you want to have more chances for making friends?
- 5. What's the main idea of the passage?

The weather was fine last night. My friend named Steve and I decided to sleep in the open air. I found the sleeping bags under the bed in my room. I also packed some snacks(零食). We could hardly wait for it to get dark. We opened our sleeping bags and put them on the grass in front of my house. Steve and I played some games, talked about something interesting and had a snack. In the end it got dark. We were just falling asleep when we heard something unusual.

"Maybe it is just a small animal," I said. Steve said nothing, but I could feel he was frightened. After I looked around, I was sure it wasn't an animal. It was my little brother, Tommy.

"What are you doing here?" I asked. "You know, Tommy, you frightened us."

"Sorry, Bill," he said. "It's hot in the room. I want to sleep outside with you."

"Well, OK," I said. "Just come and lie down next to us."

"Good night, Bill and Steve," said Tommy. "And thanks."

People in different countries do things differently. For example, Australians put their shirt "tails" on the clothes - line after washing, because they usually put the shirt "tails" into their trousers. When the clothes pags leave marks on the clothes, other people will not see them.

That's why Australians also put the bottom of their socks on the clothes - line. If they put the top of their socks on the clothes - line, the marks left by the pegs may be seen by others.

Do you do some washing or others help you to do so? I believe you can do it by yourself and you will get much fun from it. Please have a try after this exam.
