Dear sir:

Thirty years ago, I walked into your bakery (面包店) and 36 some bread to sell. At the time I was twelve years old. A young lady was working that day. She gave me five loaves (条) and wished me 37.

I took the loaves and went out to sell them. It 38 me all day, but I sold every one. 39 of the day, I had 40 money than I'd ever had before. I was the happiest boy in the world as I walked home that evening.

The next day, I went to a bicycle shop. I paid a deposit on a brand new(崭新) bicycle. And then I started my next job - as a newspaper delivery(递送) boy. Soon I had 41 money to complete the payments, and the bike was mine. I was so 42 !

Today, I still work in the delivery business. I have a fleet of trucks (车队) which deliver 43 all over Europe. I live in a beautiful house, but I don't ride a bicycle these days. I drive a large and 44 car.

I do not know who that young lady was. But because of the start she gave, I have become a 45 man. I'd like to thank her from the bottom of my heart.

Yours sincerely,

George Jenkins

George Frederick Handel, a small boy of six, lived in Germany. He loved music most. But his father didn't let him play any music.

Then one day he waited until he was alone at home. Quickly he ran to his hiding place, and he and a friend carried a small piano into the house. He decided to put it in his hiding place. There no one could see it.

That night, when everyone else was asleep, he went to his hiding place. The moon was shining through a broken window.

He sat on a box and began to play the piano. At that moment he knew that he could only be happy by playing music.

He played on and on, and he filled his house with his music.

"George!" cried his father. "What are you doing? Stop that playing now!"

The music stopped. George cried. Then he turned to his father and said, "Father, you must understand. I love music. It is my whole life."

"Now listen to me, my dear son," said Mr Handel. "I want you to be a rich man. I want you to live a happy life. I don't want you to be a poor man all your life. You must leave music and become a doctor. Don't let me see you at the piano again."

But George didn't do as his father said. He still loved music very much.

Later a good teacher taught him well and helped him write his own music. George became famous when he was eleven years old. Now his music is played all over the world.

IV. 阅读理解 (20 分)

The world of work is changing fast. Old jobs are disappearing every day. For example, fewer secretaries are needed as people do their own word processing. Computerized systems mean that telephone companies need fewer telephone operators (接线员). The post offices are using fewer letter carriers since more people now use email.

On the other hand, some job fields are growing. People are starting to shop on the internet. This means that delivery services have to use lots of new workers. You can't deliver a package by email! More doctors and nurses are needed as people begin to live longer. Machines are making it possible for us to work fewer hours, so entertainment (娱乐) is becoming more important. There will probably be many more jobs for dancers, actors, and musicians in the future unless machines become our entertainers!

- () 46. In the future there will be more _____.
A. workers B. letter carries C. sports man D. musicians
- () 47. Fewer workers are needed in some fields because of _____.
A. new inventions B. more scientists C. fewer birth rate D. fewer jobs
- () 48. We need more and more doctors means that _____.
A. people become unhealthy B. people may look after themselves more carefully
C. fewer people want to be doctors D. people have fewer illnesses
- () 49. _____ will become entertainers.
A. Machines B. Dancers C. Doctors D. More people
- () 50. We can find in the passage that the world _____.
A. has fewer population B. changed everything
C. is becoming different from past D. become smaller

In many parts of the world, university students work in the summer. They need the money, and they can get some working experience. Traditionally, they get jobs as servers, cashiers, and lifeguards at swimming pools.

These days, however, more and more students are working at dotcoms. Dotcoms are Internet - base companies which offer goods and services online. Today's young people already know a lot about computers, and they can quickly learn more. The pay is also usually much better than at the traditional summer jobs.

There are other advantages (优点) besides the pay. Students see dotcom jobs as a good start on their future. In addition to good experience, the work is also enjoyable for most. On top of this, their coworkers treat them with respect(尊敬).

Dotcoms are new and need new ways of thinking. Imagination is more important than qualifications(资格). So some students are even leaving school to start their own dotcoms. A recent survey of dotcom executives(管理人员) finds that 2% of them are under 30 years old, and 12% never finished university.

- () 51. University students need _____ from work.
A. money B. experiences C. knowledge D. A and B
- () 52. More students work for _____ now.
A. doctors B. computers companies
C. swimming safeguard D. servers
