PREFACE

— The book reveals something little known on the project of the family planning association

Yunnan Family Planning Association (YFPA) is a mass organization assisting the People's Government of Yunnan Province doing the population and family planning work. Based on the overall working arrangements of Yunnan Population and Family Planning Commission, YFPA has, since its establishment, firmly taken Deng Xiaoping's theory and "Three-representatives" as the guiding principle, stuck to the view of scientific development, followed the regulations of the association, kept in mind the purpose of the association, executed its functions, given play to the advantages of mass organization, launched publicity and education, improved the service level, tapped the cooperative space, carried well the project work, played the role of bridge between the mass of people and the Party and government in building a well-off society in an all-round way and promoting the grand socialist modernization construction, shown its strong vitality and creativity and become a vital contingent in the population and family planning work of Yunnan province.

The currently recommended and adopted working pattern in the international community is to demonstrate the working intention, promote the working development and realize the working target by means of project operation. The project refers to the activities of economy, society, culture, science and technology, etc. launched by the relevant organization, institution and persons in a certain space (time and region) with the necessary fund and resource under the independent managerial system and operating procedure for a particular working target. The project carried out by YFPA belongs to social development project, which focuses on the population and family planning work to help women of childbearing age develop economy, get rid of poverty, take care of women's health and reproductive health, pay close attention to the issues of population safety and teenagers, health and growth, combine the work of the association with various social construction causes related to the interests of the masses of childbearing age. YFPA has composed a grand movement for its work in the new era and left a deep trace on the vast red land of Yunnan province.

Through the full summary and recall of the projects implemented by YFPA, the specific descriptions to each project site, the feeling and experience of the persons involved, and the real pictures taken on the site, the book shows the greater concerns of the Party and government at each level for the work of the family planning association; the help and support given by the population and family planning administrative departments to the work of the family planning association; The support and guide given by China Family Planning Association (CFPA), the happy project organization committee and the relevant provincial and municipal family planning associations, etc.; the pain efforts made by the experts and scholars of the relevant institutions of higher learning and research institutes for the smooth implementation and healthy development of the project; the persistent professional dedication of the family planning associations of province, prefecture (city), county (district), town and village to face the challenge; the explorative spirit of the family planning associations at each level to boldly tap and innovate in the implementation of the project; the ethos of the staff of the family planning associations at each level to work hard and diligently; the sincere aid permanently given by the relevant international organizations to the project work of YFPA. The process, outcome, cultivation, reap, result and enlightenment from the project implementation of YFPA in Yunnan province fully and truly demonstrate the whole process of the new working mechanism and pattern planned, organized and implemented by YFPA to extend the service area, innovate the working style and raise the service level with the project as carrier around the population and family planning work. The development of the project has made the staff of the family planning associations at each level realize the importance of the population and family planning work, stimulated their enthusiasm for the population and family planning work, enriched their professional knowledge and working skills to participate in international cooperative projects, improved the integrate qualities and capacities for their work, strengthened the organizations and forces of the family planning associations at each level, accumulated the working methods and experience for the project, perfected the working systems and regulations, let the masses of childbearing age feel more the concerns of the Party and government and the sweetness of getting richer with less birth and played a positive role in closely connecting cadres and masses as well as in building a harmonious society.

The time passes like an arrow with the sun and moon moving fast as shuttle. Over the decade from 1991 to 2006, the work of YFPA was highly concerned by the Provincial Committee and Government as well as the Party and governments at each level, guided by CFPA, supported by the population and family planning administrative departments at various levels, understood and assisted by the relevant international organizations and friendly personage. In order to keep the trace of the project work carried out by YFPA, we determined to compile this book. Now the explanation to the editing work is made as follows: I. Breaking the limit. The time of the contents recorded in the book is within 1991~2006, but in order to keep the integrity of the data and work, the time of a few contents might break through the upper and lower limits. II. Structure. It is divided into three chapters: the chapter of Summarizing comprehensively introduced YFPA and the brief situation of six sorts of projects organized and implemented by YFPA with the attachment of the records of major events of chronological style; in the chapter of Implementation a group of experts were invited to write, the situation of the implementation of six sorts of projects were illustrated and the experience and lessons were drawn; in the chapter of Experience 37 papers were collected to summarize the personal feelings of the project organizers, implementers and beneficiaries from different angles. III. Form. It is excellent in both pictures and language. Firstly the text is accompanied by pictures. Most pictures are related to the contents and words, but due to the shortage of the relevant data of pictures, a small number of pictures could be made only basically the same with the person, place, time and text in the pictures; secondly a batch of pictures were centrally arranged after each chapter, among which the comprehensive pictures were arranged for the chapter of Summarizing, the classified pictures of six sorts of projects were arranged for the chapter of Implementation and the pictures for the chapter of Experiencing were arranged in the order of 16 prefectures and cities.

The birth of this book will leave us with a precious historical trace, for which the hardship and gratification will be not only kept between the words and pictures, but also engraved on the mind of everybody of us-let's sincerely wish that the project work of the family planning associations would climb one storey higher; let's express our heartfelt thanks to those with high aspirations for participating in the planning and compiling of this book, especially to The Ford Foundation for its great financial aid in compiling and publishing this book.
