前 言

本书依据《高级中学英语学科课程标准》对高中二年级第二学期学生学习英语规定的教学目标和各项要求,采用“结构-功能法”的编写体系,按课本知识顺序,编写训练卷18份。全书侧重听力和读写能力的培养。每份训练卷均由听力和笔试两大部分组成。听力部分配有音带。

“新编高中英语结构-功能训练”丛书是新编高中英语教材的配套同步练习,除高一、高二、高三年级上下学期各配一本外,还配有《会考卷》、《高考卷》两本复习指导,全套共计八本书。

本套书紧扣教材,在面向“普高”的基础上,充分考虑到重点中学的教学要求。在新教材“深化语言知识,提高学生语言交际能力和自学能力”的要求下,具体落实训练,尽可能地加深学生对教学内容的理解和掌握。

本书可作为学生掌握听力和语音、语言知识的自我测试,也可作为教师对教学过程的检查和教学参考。

本书由尹福昌、翁正阳主编,参加编写的有赵国权、薛邦明、吴业杏、王竞和尹福昌。

由于时间仓促,书中难免有疏漏,恳请广大师生指正,以便再版时改进。

About a year ago, I went to stay at a Detroit hotel. I didn't want to 36 too much money with me, so I asked the desk clerk to put a hundred-dollar note in the safe for me.

The next morning when I asked for the money, the clerk said, "I really don't know what you are saying. You 37 the money to someone else." I didn't have any proof that I had given the man the money. There was clearly nothing left to do except 38 the nearest lawyer. The lawyer 39 me to return to the hotel with him and give another hundred-dollar note to the clerk. So we did. An hour later, I went 40 to the desk and asked for my money. Since I had the lawyer as an eyewitness (证人) to the second hundred-dollar note, the clerk could not say he 41 nothing about it.

Another hour later, I put the second part of the lawyer's plan into action. This time both the lawyer and I went to the hotel to ask for the hundred-dollar note once again, and when the clerk insisted he 42 it to me, I said it was not true. The lawyer said to him, "I saw this gentleman give you a hundred-dollar note. If you don't hand it in immediately, I'll be forced to call the 43 ." The clerk 44 he had been cheated, so he gave me back the first hundred-dollar note. "I don't know how to thank you enough 45 my money back," I said to the lawyer. And what do you suppose he answered? He said, "Oh, don't thank me. That will be one hundred dollars, please. "

三、阅读理解 阅读下列短文,然后根据短文内容,从各题的 A、B、C、D 四个答案中选择一个最佳答案。(本题共 15 分,每小题 1 分。)

It must have been about ten o'clock when I drove back home from work because it was very dark. As I came near to the gate I turned off the head lamps of the car so as to stop the beam(光束)from swinging in through the window and waking David, who shared the house with me. But I needn't have done so. I noticed that his light was still on, so he was awake anyway unless he had fallen asleep while reading. I put the car away and went upstairs. Then I opened the door quietly and went to David's room. He was in bed awake but he didn't even turn towards me.

"What's up, David?" I asked.

"For God's sake, don't make a noise," he said.

The way he spoke reminded me of someone in pain who is afraid to talk in case he does himself a serious injury.

"Take off your shoes, Bryan," David said.

I thought that he must be ill and that I had better humor (迁就) him to keep him happy. "There's a snake here," he explained. "It's asleep between the sheets. I was lying on my back reading when I saw it. I knew that moving was out of the question. I couldn't have moved even if I'd wanted to." I realized that he was serious. "I was relying on you to call a doctor as soon as you came home," David went on. "It hasn't bitten me yet but I daren't do anything to upset it. It might wake up and strike me," he said. "I took it for granted that you would have come home an hour ago."

There was no time to argue or apologize for being late. I looked at him as encouragingly as possible and went out to telephone the doctor.

- () 46. When he got home, Bryan found that _____.
A. David was reading in bed
B. David had fallen asleep while reading
C. David was going to answer the door
D. David's light wasn't turned off
- () 47. In this passage the underlined phrase out of the question means _____.
A. no problem
B. impossible
C. no doubt
D. without any difficulty
- () 48. Which of the following statements is not true?
A. Bryan and David lived in the same house.
B. Bryan thought that David had fallen ill.
C. Bryan didn't believe David was joking.
D. Bryan refused to argue or to make an apology for coming late.
- () 49. Bryan thought that David must be ill because David _____.
A. behaved strangely as if he was badly hurt
B. asked Bryan to take off his shoes
C. said in a low voice to show the sleeping snake
D. was afraid to upset the snake
- () 50. According to the passage, Bryan should have been home at _____.
A. 11 p. m. B. 10 p. m. C. 9 p. m. D. 8 p. m.

(B)

Here is a nightmare experience of an Italian who went on a holiday to Colombia. The only hotel in the small Caribbean (加勒比海) port was overbooked (预定满的).

The Italian was wandering round the streets, looking for a bed and breakfast place, when he was caught by the police for wandering. He told the judge that it was the hotel's fault. The judge was a best friend of the hotel — owner's, and of course, he didn't believe him. So he was sent to prison for a week. By the time he was set free, his return flight had left. Without enough money to buy a return ticket, he went to the Post Office to telephone home, asking for money. He was caught again before he could make the phone call. This time he was said to be against the law of "illegal (非法) immigration (移民)." It was explained that, having missed his return flight, he could no longer be called a traveler. He now needed a working permit, and he didn't have one. He was fined (罚款) $ 500 for this wrong doing, and a further $ 400 when he again blamed (指责) the hotel for overbooking. All his belongings were taken away by the police because he could not pay the fines. Down and out, he traveled by free rides all the way to the capital of Colombia, where the government finally sent him home.

- () 51. The reason for the Italian's being caught again was that _____.
 A. the hotel was full of people
 B. he was walking here and there for another hotel
 C. he overstayed in Colombia illegally
 D. the judge didn't believe him
- () 52. The traveler stayed longer than he was permitted, for which he had to pay _____.
 A. $ 400 B. $ 500 C. $ 900 D. all his belongings
- () 53. From the story, we may learn that _____.
 A. the traveler made a telephone call home to ask for money
 B. he paid $ 900 altogether to get free
 C. all his money and luggage were taken away by the police
 D. he lost his return ticket
- () 54. At last the traveler was able to go home _____.
 A. empty-handed
 B. by paying off the fines
 C. by taking free rides given by other kind drivers
 D. by the government in the small Caribbean port
- () 55. Having read the story, we can see that "nightmare" in the first line means _____.
 A. night dream B. day dream
 C. wonderful dream D. terrible dream

(C)

"Fingers were made before forks. "When a person gives up good manners, puts aside knife and fork, and dives into his food, someone is likely to repeat that saying.

The fork was an ancient agricultural tool, but for centuries no one thought of eating with it. The custom didn't reach Europe until the eleventh century, when a young lady from Constantinople(君士坦丁堡)brought her fork to Italy. By the fifteenth century the use of the fork was widespread in Italy. The English explanation was that Italians didn't like eating food touched with fingers. "It seems that all men's fingers are not clean." English travelers kept their friends laughing while describing this ridiculous(可笑的)Italian custom.

Anyone who used a fork to eat with was laughed at in England for the next hundred years. Men who used forks were thought to be sissies(娘娘腔的男子)and women who used them were called show-offs and overnice(过分讲究). Not until the late 1600's did using a fork become a common custom.
