INTRODUCTION

This workbook is one of a series of six prepared for students of English as a second language. The six workbooks contain drill and review material covering all the basic patterns of English.

The workbooks are self-teaching. The student knows immediately whether his answer to each question is right or wrong. He works by himself, with little or no outside assistance, and he can proceed rapidly through material he knows and more slowly through material which is difficult for him. The material in each book is divided into ten units.

These workbooks have been designed to be used independently by students of English, but they can also be used as supplements to the six textbooks in the same series, or with any other series of textbooks.

DIRECTIONS

Read item 1 below. Write in your answer. If you select "am", you are directed to item 6, as the arrow below shows. Here you are told that your answer to item 1 is right. So you go ahead and try item 6. From item 6 go to the number that appears next to the answer you have selected, and so on.

1. I _____ John Smith.
       am 6 is 10 are 8
