"Made in Dongguan" is a new word popular in industrial circle and well-known to the rest of the world.

Connecting history, reality and future, this is the place where China's modern history opened its first chapter. It is now a modern city famous for manufacturing industry, known as "the typically wonderful and vivid story of China's reform and opening up"....

Folk songs and popular music, ancient clan temples and modern wedding garment, farm land and factories, attics and villas....While contrasts between traditional enchantments and modern fashions are everywhere, charms are followed one after another....

This city may be a little far away from you, but it may draw you near.

This is Dongguan.

A modern city with deep-rooted history and culture, an influential international city, an industrialized city with its charms of farm land, a dynamic city where dreams come true, and an inclusive city with pioneering spirit.

This is a city that you may not like at first sight, but you can't help loving if you stay for a period of time....
