

QUALITY ASSURANCE
FOR TEXTILES
AND APPAREL
Second Edition

Sara J. Kadolph

Quality Assurance for Textiles & Apparel

SECOND EDITION

Sara J. Kadolph

IOWA STATE UNIVERSITY

FAIRCHILD PUBLICATIONS, INC.
New York

Director of Sales and Acquisitions: Dana Meltzer-Berkowitz
Executive Editor: Olga T. Kontzias
Senior Development Editor: Jennifer Crane
Art Director: Adam B. Bohannon
Production Manager: Ginger Hillman
Production Editor: Jessica Rozler
Cover Design: Kristina Berberich
Cover Art: © Historical Picture Archive/CORBIS
Text Design: Rachel Reiss

Second Printing, 2008
Second Edition, Copyright © 2007 Fairchild Publications, Inc.
Fairchild Publications, Inc.
A Division of Condé Nast Publications

First Edition, Copyright © 1998 Fairchild Publications, a division of ABC Media, Inc.

All rights reserved. No part of this book covered by the copyright hereon may be reproduced or used in any form or by any means—graphic, electronic, or mechanical, including photocopying, recording, taping, or information storage and retrieval systems—without written permission of the publisher.

Library of Congress Catalog Card Number: 2007923707

ISBN-13: 978-1-56367-554-6
GST R 133004424

Printed in the United States of America

TP13

Preface

My goals for the second edition of Quality Assurance were to update the information and reflect the changes in the textile industry complex, while maintaining an emphasis on incorporating product quality from merchandising and design stages through production, delivery, and retailing stages. Although this book will be useful to practicing professionals, its main objective is to present a holistic and theoretical perspective of textile product quality that will provide a foundation for future professionals in the industry.

Philosophy

The book integrates a traditional textile testing approach with a broader focus on the product and target market and several approaches to managing quality. The book is based on the premise that quality is developed into a product from the idea stage to its delivery to the consumer and reflects the best industry practices to provide products of an identified and consistent quality that meets the customer's needs.

The term quality is used differently by the consumer and the industry professional. The industry's concern with quality is based on a combination of three perspectives: identification of product standards and specifications that define in detail the desired appearance, characteristics, and performance of the finished product; consistency between identical products to minimize variations among products; and delivery of products that meet customer needs.

Within the industry, customers are businesses who buy products or materials from suppliers; consumers are the ultimate users of finished textile products. Consumers define quality from many different perspectives—excellence in construction, good performance at a reasonable price, exquisite materials with a good hand, high fashion, good fit and function, attractive or unique detailing, unusual trims, recognized brand, and other characteristics. Retailers, on the other hand, are concerned that the product is suitable for their target market (in terms of fashion, fit, price, performance, materials, and so on). Thus, quality means different things to the people and businesses involved.

However, there are several aspects of quality that are in agreement—product appeal and satisfactory product performance. Both influence consumer satisfaction with the product. If the product is not appealing, it will not sell; if it fails in some way, consumers will not be happy with it. Consumer satisfaction is an important issue and should be included in product development. Assessment of material interactions in a product is an example of testing that pertains to product development.

The emphasis here is on the product and the consumer and on the characteristics and interactions of the product. This book includes materials analysis as one stage in developing a textile product that meets identified standards and specs based on the needs and expectations of a known target market. This book expands beyond textile testing to include other textile and nontextile materials. It includes information for writing specs and standards for most materials used in apparel and furnishings and some industrial goods. It discusses such critical aspects of textile products as appearance, construction, workmanship, fit, function, size, zones, and material and styling interactions. It describes inspection types and sampling methods. It examines quality management from a textile industry perspective. And, it incorporates a discussion of statistical process control.

The reader should have a basic understanding of textiles, manufacturing techniques, identification and characterization of target markets, statistics, and fashion terminology. Students may need access to books and course materials from these classes to refresh their memories. Access to a product evaluation lab, equipment, and manuals is essential. Products cannot be evaluated without a laboratory. Although some educational institutions may have limited equipment, students should acquire experience with the basic elements involved in evaluating product quality.

The basic elements of materials assessment and inspection include fiber type (qualitative and quantitative), yarn structure, fabrication method, stage of coloration, fabric mass, grain (bow or skew), inspection for patent defects of materials, and selected performance measures (abrasion or strength, colorfastness to cleaning and some use dimensions, dimensional stability, hand or stiffness, and comfort elongation and recovery). Additional material assessments are ideal if time, space, and equipment allow. The basic elements of product assessment include size, appearance, construction, workmanship, interaction of materials (seams, interlinings and support materials, trims, closures) in cleaning and performance, and assessment of patent defects in the product by zone.

Students should work with sample products for an identified target market to gain experience in identifying specs and standards for a specific audience. Without that grounding and orientation, results of textile testing are difficult to comprehend and apply. Using several identical products will help students see firsthand the minor variations in identical products, gain experience in assessing product consistency of a small sample, and match product characteristics and performance to standards and specs.

Students find that developing standards and specs for products for a specific target market is a challenge, but this experience helps them focus on key elements of the product and the important features from the target market's perspectives. Once they have developed specs and standards, they better understand the results of testing and evaluation and are better able to discuss their product's success or failure.

This book requires the integration of a significant number of concepts and ideas presented in other classes. For this reason, the book is most appropriate for upper-level students who have had experience in the integration of ideas, application of concepts, critical thinking, and problem solving that are applied in quality assurance.

Organization and Features of the Text

The book is organized in four parts. Part I, Understanding Quality Assurance, consists of four chapters and includes a discussion of the perspectives of quality; connects products, quality, and consumers; defines and discusses standards and specifications; describes professional organizations; and introduces concepts related to testing of materials and products.

Part II, Materials Testing, focuses on materials and consists of five chapters. First, materials are specified in terms of characteristics, quality, and performance. Four of the chapters examine how materials are assessed and evaluated in a laboratory. Standard test methods and nonstandard industry techniques are discussed. Photographs of selected equipment are included so that students can relate the equipment to the performance or characteristic being assessed. These photos are included because many educational institutions do not have a complete range of equipment used in testing materials.

In Part III, Product Specifications and Analysis, the focus expands to consider the complete textile product. This part is the most unique component of the book. It consists of four chapters that integrate products with materials and consumers. It includes chapters on developing specs and standards for products, inspection processes, product testing, and taking samples.

In Part IV, Integration and Data Analysis, the two chapters apply quality management to the textile industry complex and discuss statistical process control using selected methods to present and analyze data.

Each chapter includes objectives, key words, review questions, references, tables, illustrations, and photographs. Where appropriate, sample problems provide students with practice calculating results. Appendices provide sample forms and assessment guides, lists of standard test methods, scientific notation and conversion from one measurement system to another (i.e., inches to centimeters), addresses for equipment manufacturers and testing laboratories, guidelines for ethical behavior for quality assurance professionals, lists of countries with active ISO units, and answers to chapter problems. An index and a glossary will make the book more useful to industry professionals.

Acknowledgments

An endeavor of this magnitude cannot be completed without the help of many people. I thank my colleagues at Iowa State University (faculty, staff, and students) for their support, encouragement, and assistance in refining the concepts. Ruth Glock and Hyun Sook Shin were especially helpful with this second edition. My experimental subjects (students in my TC 305 and 505 classes) helped clarify ideas and concepts from the first edition.

My family, friends, and support staff at home and Sampson, Clementine, and Silkie on the farm also deserve great thanks for encouraging me during the revision process and providing the distractions that kept me sane during the process.

Contents

EXTENDED CONTENTS	vii
PREFACE	xvii
ACKNOWLEDGMENTS	xxi
PART I: UNDERSTANDING QUALITY ASSURANCE	1
1 Introduction to Quality Assurance	3
2 Linking Products, Quality, and Customers	11
3 Understanding Standards and Specifications	39
4 Introduction to Testing	73
PART II: MATERIALS TESTING	101
5 Specifying and Evaluating Materials	103
6 Durability Testing	151
7 Evaluating Material Contributions to Comfort, Safety, and Health	185
8 Evaluating Care, Appearance Retention, Colorfastness, and Weather Resistance	233
9 Specifying and Evaluating Color Requirements	279
PART III: PRODUCT SPECIFICATIONS AND ANALYSIS	315
10 Developing Standards and Specifications for Products	317
11 Inspecting Products	363
12 Evaluating Products	383
13 Sampling a Lot and Developing Acceptance Levels	421
PART IV: INTEGRATION AND DATA ANALYSIS	441

14	Total Quality Management	443
15	Analytical Tools	463
APPENDICES		489
A	Selected ASTM and AATCC Procedures	489
B	Sample Documents and Record Keeping Forms	497
C	Assessment Guides	502
D	Addresses for Organizations	508
E	Sources for Equipment and Materials	509
F	The ASQ Code of Ethics	511
G	ASTM Recommended Specifications for Product Types	513
H	Units of Measure and Symbols	516
I	Conversion Factors	518
J	Countries with Active ISO Units	519
K	Answers to Chapter Problems	522
GLOSSARY		525
INDEX		557

Extended Contents

PREFACE	xvii
ACKNOWLEDGMENTS	xxi
PART I: UNDERSTANDING QUALITY ASSURANCE	1
1 Introduction to Quality Assurance	3
Objectives	3
Key Terms	3
The Textile Industry Complex	4
Textile Quality Assurance	6
The Model	6
Conclusions	8
Suggested Readings	8
Review Questions	9
Activities	9
2 Linking Products, Quality, and Customers	11
Objectives	11
Key Terms	11
Defining Quality	13
Definitions of Quality	13
Dimensions of Quality	19
Determining Product Markets	21
Identifying Target Markets	22
Relating Target Market to Product Attributes	24
Identifying Product Attributes	25
Customer Perceptions of Quality	30
Performance Expectations	30
Product Performance in Consumers' Hands	31
Consumer Satisfaction	32
Performance Measures for Companies	33
Product Quality	34
Product Development	34

Conclusions	35
Suggested Readings	35
Review Questions	36
Activities	37
3 Understanding Standards and Specifications		39
Objectives	39
Key Terms	39
Organizations	40
American Association of Textile Chemists and Colorists	40
American Society for Testing and Materials	41
American Society for Quality	42
American Apparel and Footwear Association	42
TC ²	43
American National Standards Institute	43
International Organization for Standardization	43
Others	44
Standards and Specifications	45
Standards	45
Specifications	51
Writing Standards and Specifications	63
Sources of Information for Specifications and Standards	63
Potential Problem Areas	65
Effects of Standards and Specifications on Cost	67
Conclusions	68
Suggested Readings	68
Review Questions	70
Activities	70
4 Introduction to Testing		73
Objectives	73
Key Terms	73
Ways of Testing	74
Laboratory Testing	74
Test Methods	78
Development of a Standard Test Method	78
Parts and Components	80
Pass/Fail Scales	82
Standard Conditions for Testing	83
Standardized Tests	84
Industry Procedures	84
Government Procedures	85
Company Procedures	85

Testing Applied to Product Development and Other Activities	86
Materials Testing	86
Product Testing	91
Wear Testing	91
Labels	93
Guarantees	94
Customer Complaints	94
Lawsuits	95
Generating and Working with Data	95
Manipulation, Organization, and Presentation of Data	95
Conclusions	97
Suggested Readings	97
Review Questions	98
Activities	99

PART II: MATERIALS TESTING 101

5 Specifying and Evaluating Materials 103

Objectives	103
Key Terms	103
Worth Street Textile Market Rules	104
Fabrics	105
Fibers	105
Yarns	112
Fabric Characteristics	118
Finishes	126
Fabric Quality	128
Other Materials	131
Closures	131
Thread	137
Elastics	138
Trims	139
Interlinings, Linings, and Other Support Materials	141
Other Materials	143
Labels	144
Packaging	145
Conclusions	145
Suggested Readings	145
Review Questions	147
Activities	148

6 Durability Testing 151

Objectives	151
------------	-----

Key Terms	151
Strength Testing	154
Tensile Strength (Breaking Force and Elongation)	156
Tearing Strength	160
Bursting Strength	162
Friction Testing	165
Abrasion Resistance	165
Pile Retention	171
Pilling Resistance	172
Snagging	175
Yarn Distortion Testing	176
Frosting	179
Durability Testing of Other Materials	179
Hook and Loop Fasteners	179
Snap Fasteners	180
Fusible Interlinings	180
Buttons	180
Zippers	181
Conclusions	181
Suggested Readings	182
Review Questions	182
Activities	183
7 Evaluating Material Contributions to Comfort, Safety, and Health	185
Objectives	185
Key Terms	185
Comfort Aspects	187
Elongation and Elasticity	188
Heat Retention/Conduction	192
Moisture Absorbency	195
Water Repellent, Water Resistant, and Waterproof Materials	197
Water Vapor Transmission	203
Thickness	203
Hand and Skin Contact	204
Stiffness	207
Drape	209
Air Permeability	212
Electrostatic Propensity	212
Light Reflectance, Transmittance, and Absorptance	215
Safety	215
Flammability	215
Thermal Protection	221

Chemical Resistance	222
Impact Resistance	223
Health Issues	223
Allergens and Irritants	223
Formaldehyde	224
Ultraviolet Protection	224
Biological Resistance	226
Material Specifications	227
Conclusions	227
Suggested Readings	228
Review Questions	230
Activities	232
8 Evaluating Care, Appearance Retention, Colorfastness, and Weather Resistance	233
Objectives	233
Key Terms	233
Developing and Evaluating Care Labels and Care Instructions	235
Rating Processes	236
Specimen Selection	242
Assessment of Care Procedures	242
Understanding the Cleaning Process	242
Test Method Perspectives	244
Washing	245
Dry Cleaning and Multiprocess Wet Cleaning	252
Soil and Stain Aspects	255
Bleaching	258
Appearance Retention	261
Whiteness	261
Wrinkle Recovery	261
Carpentering	262
Storage	262
Resistance to Insects	263
Resistance to Fungus and Bacteria	264
Resistance to Aging	264
Resistance to Dye Transfer	265
Colorfastness	266
Consumer Use	266
Heat	266
Acids and Alkalis	266
Frosting	267
Crocking	267
Perspiration	268

Water	268
Environmental Conditions	269
Light	270
Resistance to Weathering	272
Material Specifications	273
Conclusions	275
Suggested Readings	275
Review Questions	276
Activities	278
9 Specifying and Evaluating Color Requirements		279
Objectives	279
Key Terms	279
Color	281
Physics of Light and Color	281
Physiological Aspects of Color Perception	287
Color Theory	288
Understanding Color Dimensions	289
The International Commission on Illumination (CIE)	290
Additive Color Mixing	291
Subtractive Color Mixing	291
Color Mixing Applied to Materials	292
Standard Light Sources	293
Color Measurement	294
Theoretical Basis	295
Application	297
Color Matching	300
Shade Sorting	303
Standard Procedures	304
Industry Applications	306
Materials and Specifications	307
Conclusions	310
Suggested Readings	310
Review Questions	312
Activities	313
 PART III: PRODUCT SPECIFICATIONS AND ANALYSIS		 315
10 Developing Standards and Specifications for Products		317
Objectives	317
Key Terms	317

Standards and Specifications	318
Relationship to Material Standards and Specifications	320
Product	322
Design	322
Function	325
Appearance	327
Size	330
Fit	333
Construction	337
Finishing	337
Zoning for Defects and Appearance	353
Packaging	353
Specs and Standards Related to Product Cost and Quality	357
Conclusions	357
Suggested Readings	358
Review Questions	360
Activities	360

11 Inspecting Products 363

Objectives	363
Key Terms	363
Inspector Training	364
Inspection	365
Materials Inspection	366
Source Inspection	368
Incoming Inspection	369
In-Process Inspection	369
Types of In-Process Inspections	371
Vendor Inspection	373
Product Inspection	375
Vendor Certification and Supplier Partnerships	378
Conclusions	379
Suggested Readings	380
Review Questions	381
Activities	382

12 Evaluating Products 383

Objectives	383
Key Terms	383
Material Interactions	384
Components	386
Standard Test Methods	386
Nonstandard Procedures	391