100 GAA GREATS

John Scally works as a teacher in Dublin and was formerly a journalist and broadcaster. He is the author of over 20 books, including The GAA: An Oral History, Odd Shaped Balls and Legends of Irish Rugby.

*To Dermot Earley:
A hero on the pitch,
An absolute inspiration off it.*

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I am very honoured that the legendary Eddie Keher agreed to write the foreword for this book.

This book has been over 20 years in the making and draws heavily on interviews with many of the greats of both football and hurling whom I have had the good fortune to meet, including some who have passed on to their eternal reward, such as Jack Lynch, Seán Purcell, Enda Colleran, John Wilson and Eddie Boyle. There are too many to name individually, but I am really appreciative for all their insights. As always, I am very grateful to my good friends Seán Freyne and Peter Woods for their assistance.

My gratitude to Mick Bermingham, John Boyle, James Brennan, Iggy Clarke, John Murray, Seán Duggan, Ann Colleran, Pat Lindsay, Dermot Flanagan, Babs Keating, Máirín McAleenan, Karl McDonough, Willie McGee, Paddy Prendergast, Paddy Quirke, Jimmy Smyth and Henry Wills for help with photos.

Thanks to the wonderfully hospitable Kathryn Brennan of Castle Bookshop in Castlebar for her ongoing love affair with books.

Thanks to my good friend John Tiernan for his supply of amusing GAA stories.

My thanks to the great and generous Liam Horan for his practical assistance.

Thanks to Bill Campbell, Graeme Blaikie, Alex Hepworth and all at Mainstream for their help.
