Foreword to the Forty-third Edition

The 1989 PHYSICIANS' DESK REFERENCE® represents the 43rd edition of the publication. Product overviews for selected drugs have been included to give abbreviated information about the product's use. These appear immediately before the full product labeling. An explanation for pregnancy categories used in drug labeling is included, along with definitions for the various classes of controlled drug substances (see contents page). Information on inactive ingredients, educational materials (for you and your patients), bibliographies and phonetic spellings in the Product Information Section join to make the reference more valuable. Special features also include ... Guide to the Management of Drug Overdose and a listing of Regional Poison Control Centers.

PHYSICIANS' DESK REFERENCE® is published annually by Medical Economics Company Inc. with the cooperation of the manufacturers whose products appear in the Product Identification (Gray Section), the Product Information (White Section), and the Diagnostic Product Information (Green Section). Intended primarily for physicians, PDR's purpose is to make available essential information on major pharmaceutical and diagnostic products. In addition to this volume, three other editions of PHYSICIANS' DESK REFERENCE will be published in 1989: PDR - DRUG INTERACTIONS AND SIDE EFFECTS INDEX™, PDR FOR NONPRESCRIPTION DRUGS® and PDR FOR OPHTHALMOLOGY®.

This edition of PHYSICIANS' DESK REFERENCE® includes the latest available information on over 2000 products. During the year ahead as important new or revised information about these products becomes available to us, it will be published periodically in a PDR® Supplement. Retain the Supplement with PDR and before prescribing or administering any product described in PHYSICIANS' DESK REFERENCE, consult the latest PDR Supplement to determine if new information about the product has been published.

The function of the Publisher is the compilation, organization and distribution of this information. Product descriptions have been prepared by manufacturers, edited and approved by their medical department and/or medical consultant. Manufacturers suggest headings under which products should appear in the Product Category Index (Blue Section) and the Generic and Chemical Name Index (Yellow Section).

Under the federal Food, Drug & Cosmetic (FD&C) Act, a drug approved for marketing may be labeled, promoted, and advertised by the manufacturer only for those uses for which the drug's safety and effectiveness have been established. The Code of Federal Regulations 201.100 (d) (1) pertaining to labeling for prescription products require that for PDR content, "indications, effects, dosages, routes, methods, and frequency and duration of administration and any relevant warnings, hazards, contraindications, side effects, and precautions" must be the "same in language and emphasis" as the approved labeling for the product. FDA regards the words "same in language and emphasis" as requiring VERBATIM use of the approved labeling providing such information. Furthermore, information in the approved labeling that is emphasized by the use of type set in a box or in capitals, bold face, or italics must also be given the same emphasis in PDR.

The FDA has also announced that the FD&C Act "does not, however, limit the manner in which a physician may use an approved drug. Once a product has been approved for marketing, a physician may prescribe it for uses or in treatment regimens or patient populations that are not included in approved labeling." Thus the FDA states also that "accepted medical practice" often includes drug use that is not reflected in approved drug labeling.

For products which do not have official package circulars, the Publisher has emphasized to manufacturers the necessity of describing such products comprehensively so that physicians would have access to all information essential for intelligent and informed prescribing. In organizing and presenting the material in PHYSICIANS' DESK REFERENCE®, the Publisher is providing all the information made available to PDR® by manufacturers. In making this material available, it should be understood that the Publisher is not advocating the use of any product described herein. Additional information on any product may be obtained from the manufacturer.

Contents

MANUFACTURERS' INDEX	1
Section 1 (White) - Included are manufacturers who have provided prescribing information in this edition of PHYSICIANS' DESK REFERENCE®—their addresses, emergency phone numbers and a partial list of available products.
PRODUCT NAME INDEX	101
Section 2 (Pink) - An alphabetical listing of products available from participating manufacturers. Where a page number is included, additional information can be found in other sections of this edition.
PRODUCT CATEGORY INDEX	201
Section 3 - (Blue) - Products are listed according to the appropriate category, which has been determined by the Publisher in cooperation with each manufacturer. The opening pages contain the "Quick-Reference" to headings in this edition.
GENERIC AND CHEMICAL NAME INDEX	301
Section 4 - (Yellow) - In this section products are listed under generic and chemical name headings according to the principal ingredient(s). The headings have been determined by the Publisher with the cooperation of the individual manufacturers.
PRODUCT IDENTIFICATION SECTION	401
Section 5 - Under company headings capsules and tablets are shown in color as an aid to identification. An index of participating manufacturers appears on page 402.
CONVERSION TABLES	438
Metric doses with approximate apothecary equivalents, approximate household equivalents, temperature conversion table, milliequivalents per liter (mEq/L) and pounds-kilograms (kg) conversion.
PRODUCT INFORMATION SECTION	501
Section 6 (White) - An alphabetical arrangement by manufacturer of over 2,500 pharmaceuticals which are fully described as to indications and usage, dosage, administration, description, clinical pharmacology, supply, warnings, contraindications, adverse reactions, overdosage and precautions and other information concerning their use, including common names, generic compositions or chemical names.
DISCONTINUED PRODUCTS	2394
A list of products discontinued by manufacturers during the past year.
DIAGNOSTIC PRODUCT INFORMATION	2395
Section 7 (Green) - Diagnostic product descriptions, listed alphabetically by manufacturer, to aid the physician in their use.
KEY TO CONTROLLED SUBSTANCES CATEGORIES	2413
Drugs are categorized according to their potential for abuse. The greater the potential, the more severe the limitations on their prescription.
KEY TO FDA USE-IN-PREGNANCY RATINGS	2413
The Food and Drug Administration's Pregnancy Categories are based on the degree to which available information has ruled out risk to the fetus, balanced against the drug's potential benefits to the patient.
POISON CONTROL CENTERS	2414
A list of centers and emergency telephone numbers.
GUIDE TO MANAGEMENT OF DRUG OVERDOSE	2418
Information concerning drug overdosage compiled by Eric G. Comstock, M.D., Director of the Institute of Clinical Technology.

SECTION I

Manufacturers' Index

The manufacturers appearing in this index (white pages) have provided information concerning their pharmaceutical products in either the Product Information or Diagnostic Product Information Section. It is through their patronage that PHYSICIANS' DESK REFERENCE® is made available to you.

Included in this index are the names and addresses of manufacturers, individuals or departments to whom you may address inquiries, a partial list of products as well as emergency telephone numbers wherever available. The symbol ♦ indicates the product is shown in the Product Identification Section. The symbol □ indicates the product is described in PDR FOR NONPRESCRIPTION DRUGS®.

Italic page number indicates a brief listing.
