The Author

Prof. emeritus Dr Iur. Ilkka Saraviita (born 13 August 1940) studied law at the University of Helsinki in Finland (1960–1964) and acted as a solicitor 1966–1968. In 1965 the Appellate Court of Vasa gave him the degree Master of Laws trained on the bench. In 1972 the University of Helsinki granted him a Doctoral Decree for his thesis on the legislative processes in the Parliament of Finland (Constitutional Law). In 1995 he attended a special course on national defence at the Defence Academy.

In 1974 he was appointed Associate Professor of Public Law, at the University of Tampere and in 1977 Associate Professor of Constitutional Law at the University of Helsinki. In 1979 he was appointed Professor of Public Law at the Law Faculty at the University of Lapland.

Since 1972, Professor Saraviita has been a permanent advisor to the Constitutional Law Committee of the Parliament of Finland and to the Ministry of Justice of Finland and has acted as a legal advisor to the delegation of Finland to the United Nations. He was nominated a Jean Monet Professor at the University of Lapland in 1997. The President of the Republic nominated him a Knight, first class, in the Order of White Rose in 1990, Commander, Order of the Lion of Finland in 2004 and awarded him a Medal for unblemished service of thirty years.

Professor Saraviita has written several books and articles on Constitutional Law and on the Law of Treaties.
