Grigori TUNKIN

LAW

and =

FORCE

INTERNATIONAL SYSTEM

Progress Publishers
Moscow

Grigori TUNKIN

LAW and FORCE in the INTERNATIONAL SYSTEM

Progress
Publishers
Moscow

Translated from the Russian Designed by Yevgeny Aksyonov

Г. И. Тункин

ПРАВО И СИЛА В МЕЖДУНАРОДНОЙ СИСТЕМЕ

На английском языке

© «Международные отношения», 1983

English translation of the revised Russian text © Progress Publishers 1985

Printed in the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics  $T = \frac{1207000000-746}{014(01)-85} 83-85$

Contents

|   | Page |
|---|------|
| Foreword  | 8    |
| PARTI   |      |
| The International System and Interna-             |      |
| tional Law  | 11   |
|   |      |
| Chapter I   | 31.1 |
| The International System                          | 11   |
| 1. The Concept of "International Relations"       | 11   |
| 2. The Concept of "International Community".      | 20   |
| 3. A New Conception of the International System   | 24   |
| Chapter II  |      |
| Law Functioning in the International System .     | 43   |
| 1. International Law                              | 43   |
| 2. Modern International Law as a New Historical   |      |
| Type of International Law                         | 46   |
| 3. The Mechanism of Changing International Law.   |      |
| The Theory of the Coordination of the Wills       |      |
| of States   | 63   |
| 4. Fundamental Principles of Modern International |      |
| Law   | 76   |
| (1) The Principle of Peaceful Coexistence         | 77   |
| (2) The Principle of the Non-Use of Force or      |      |
| Threat of Force                                   | 81   |
| (3) The Principle of Territorial Integrity of     |      |
| States  |      |
| (4) The Principle of Inviolability of Boundaries  | 88   |

| (5) The Principle of Peaceful Settlement of In-     |        |
|---|--------|
| ternational Disputes                                | 89     |
| (6) The Principle of Disarmament                    | 90     |
| (7) The Principle of Sovereign Equality of States   | 96     |
| (8) The Principle of Non-Intervention               | 99     |
| (9) The Principle of Equal Rights and Self-         | 140.00 |
| Determination of Peoples                            | 103    |
| (10) The Principle of Co-operation Among States     | 106    |
| (11) The Principle of Respect for Human             | 100    |
| Rights  | 108    |
| (12) The Principle of Fulfilling in Good Faith      | 100    |
| International Obligations                           | 111    |
| 5. International Law and Subjects (Actors) of the   | 111    |
|   | 113    |
| International System                                | 113    |
| Chapter III   |        |
| International Law and Other Social Norms            |        |
| Functioning Within the International System         | 115    |
| 1. Recommendatory Resolutions of International      | =, 5   |
| Organisations                                       | 116    |
| 2. International Understandings                     | 129    |
| 3. International Law and Morality                   | 144    |
| 3. International Law and Moranty                    | TAX    |
| DADTII  |        |
| PART II   |        |
| Two Socio-Economic Systems—Two                      |        |
| Conceptual Models of the Global Inter-              |        |
| national System                                     | 156    |
|   |        |
| Chapter I V   |        |
| Law and Force in Today's Imperialist Concep-        |        |
| tual Model of the Global International System .     | 159    |
| 1. Force in the Imperialist Model of the Interna-   |        |
| tional System                                       | 159    |
| 2. International Law in the Imperialist Model of    |        |
| the International System                            | 171    |
| 3. The Theoretical Inconsistency of the Imperialist |        |
| Conceptual Model of the Global International        |        |
| System  | 191    |
| WARRY # 54777                                       | 1 1 1  |

| Chapter V   |     |
|---|-----|
| Law and Force in the Socialist Conceptual Model     |     |
| of the International System                         | 201 |
| 1. The Notion of a Socialist Conceptual Model of    |     |
| the Global International System                     | 201 |
| 2. The Socialist Concept of International Peace.    | 204 |
| 3. The Socialist Concept of Disarmament             | 210 |
| 4. The Socialist Conception of Peaceful Coexistence | 212 |
| 5. The Equal Rights and Self-Determination of       | 000 |
| Peoples   | 220 |
| 6. International Law in the Socialist Conceptual    | 005 |
| Model of the International System                   | 225 |
| 7. Force in the Socialist Conceptual Model of the   | 000 |
| International System                                | 230 |
| PART III  |     |
|   |     |
| The General Democratic Model of the                 |     |
| Global International System and the                 |     |
| Functioning of the International System             | 236 |
|   |     |
| Chapter VI  |     |
| Law and Force in the General Democratic Model       |     |
| of the Global International System                  | 236 |
| 1. The Notion of a General Democratic Model of      |     |
| the Global International System                     | 236 |
| 2. The General Democratic Character of Modern       |     |
|   | 240 |
| 3. The General Democratic Concept of Peace          | 242 |
| 4. The General Democratic Concept of Peaceful       |     |
| Coexistence of States with Different Social Sys-    |     |
| tems  | 246 |
| 5. The General Democratic Character of Universal    |     |
| International Organisations                         | 251 |
|   |     |
| Chapter VII   |     |
| Law and Force in the Functioning of the Inter-      |     |
| national System                                     | 255 |

| 1. | The Notion of a Normal Functioning of the              |                 |
|----|--|-----------------|
|    | International System                                   | 255             |
| 2. | Modern Power Politics and the Functioning of           |                 |
|    | the International System                               | 257             |
|    | (1) Orientation on Force and on an Arms Race           | 258             |
|    | (2) Hegemonism   | 267             |
|    | (3) Intervention in Internal Affairs                   | 272             |
|    | (4) Rejection of Peaceful Coexistence and              |                 |
|    | Orientation on Confrontation and Anti-                 |                 |
|    | Communism  | 276             |
|    | (5) Neo-Colonialism                                    | 285             |
| 3. | The Politics of Force and the Science of In-           |                 |
|    | ternational Law in the Capitalist Countries .          | 288             |
|    | (1) The Unsoundness of the Concept that Mod-           |                 |
|    | ern International Law Is "Classical" In-               |                 |
|    | ternational Law  | 289             |
|    | (2) The Concept that the Principle of the Non-         |                 |
|    | Use of Force or Threat of Force Does Not               | 000             |
|    | Exist, or Else Is Inoperative                          | 293             |
|    | (3) Neglecting the Principle of the Non-Use of         | 301             |
|    | Force and Threat of Force                              | 301             |
|    | The Policy of Peace and Peaceful Coexistence           |                 |
|    | and the Functioning of the International System        | 307             |
|    | (1) Ensuring International Peace and Security          | 200             |
|    | and Disarmament  | 309             |
|    | (a) The Struggle of the USSR for Peace and Disarmament | 309             |
|    | (b) The Growth of the Soviet Union's Mil-              | 505             |
|    | itary Might and International Law .                    | 312             |
|    | (c) The Principle of Equality and Equal                |                 |
|    | Security   | 317             |
|    | (d) Renouncing First Use of Nuclear Arms               | 320             |
|    | (2) Strengthening Fraternal Co-operation with          |                 |
|    | Other Socialist Countries                              | 321             |
|    | (3) The Policy of Peaceful Coexistence of States       | Table I Section |
|    | with Different Social Systems                          | 324             |
|    | (4) Supporting the Struggle of Peoples for Na-         | 0.07            |
|    | tional Liberation and Social Progress                  | 320             |

| (5)    | The   | Pol   | icy | of  | De | vel | opi | ng | M | lut | ual | ly | Ad | va | n-   |     |
|--------|-------|-------|-----|-----|----|-----|-----|----|---|-----|-----|----|----|----|------|-----|
|        | tageo |       |     |     |    |     |     |    |   |     |     |    |    |    |      |     |
|        | Law   |       |     | 19  | 9  | •   |     |    | * |     | ٠   | *  | ×  | *  | *    | 329 |
| Subjec | t Ind | lex . |     | :40 | ¥  | ě   |     | ě  | × | •   | ×   | ÷  | ×  | 8  | ٠    | 330 |
| Name   | Inde  | х.    | •   |     |    |     |     |    |   |     | •   |    |    | ٠  | (40) | 336 |
|        |       |       |     |     |    |     |     |    |   |     |     |    |    |    |      |     |
|        |       |       |     |     |    | Ε,  |     |    |   |     |     |    |    |    |      |     |

Grigori TUNKIN

LAW and FORCE in the INTERNATIONAL SYSTEM

Progress
Publishers
Moscow

Translated from the Russian Designed by Yevgeny Aksyonov

Г. И. Тункин

ПРАВО И СИЛА В МЕЖДУНАРОДНОЙ СИСТЕМЕ

На английском языке

© «Международные отношения», 1983

English translation of the revised Russian text

© Progress Publishers 1985

Printed in the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics  $T = \frac{1207000000-746}{014(01)-85} 83-85$

Contents

|   |     | Page     |
|---|-----|----------|
| Foreword  |     | 8        |
| PARTI   |     |          |
| The International System and Intern             | a-  |          |
| tional Law                                      |     | 11       |
| Chapter I                                       |     |          |
| The International System                        |     | 11       |
| 1. The Concept of "International Relations" .   |     | 11       |
| 2. The Concept of "International Community"     |     | 20       |
| 3. A New Conception of the International Syste  |     | 24       |
| Chapter II                                      |     |          |
| Law Functioning in the International System     |     | 43       |
| 1. International Law                            |     | 43       |
| 2. Modern International Law as a New Histori    |     |          |
| Type of International Law                       |     | 46       |
| 3. The Mechanism of Changing International La   |     |          |
| The Theory of the Coordination of the W         |     |          |
| of States                                       | E.  | 63       |
| 4. Fundamental Principles of Modern Internation |     |          |
| Law   |     | 76       |
| (1) The Principle of Peaceful Coexistence.      |     | 77       |
| (2) The Principle of the Non-Use of Force       |     | Contrast |
| Threat of Force                                 |     | 81       |
| (3) The Principle of Territorial Integrity      |     |          |
| States  | ies | 88       |
|   |     |          |

| (5) The Principle of Peaceful Settlement of In-   |       |
|---|-------|
| ternational Disputes  | 89    |
| (6) The Principle of Disarmament  | 90    |
| (7) The Principle of Sovereign Equality of States   | 96    |
| (8) The Principle of Non-Intervention   | 99    |
| (9) The Principle of Equal Rights and Self-   |       |
| Determination of Peoples  | 103   |
| (10) The Principle of Co-operation Among States   | 106   |
| (11) The Principle of Respect for Human   |       |
| Rights  | 108   |
| (12) The Principle of Fulfilling in Good Faith  |       |
| International Obligations   | 111   |
| 5. International Law and Subjects (Actors) of the   | 111   |
| International System  | 113   |
| 72J S 92 43 54  | 113   |
| Chapter III   |       |
| International Law and Other Social Norms  |       |
| Functioning Within the International System   | 115   |
| 1. Recommendatory Resolutions of International  |       |
| Organisations   | 116   |
| 2. International Understandings   | 129   |
| 3. International Law and Morality   | 144   |
|   |       |
| PART II   |       |
|   |       |
| Two Socio-Economic Systems—Two  |       |
| Conceptual Models of the Global Inter-  |       |
| national System   | 156   |
|   |       |
| Chapter IV  |       |
| Law and Force in Today's Imperialist Concep-  | 0 = 2 |
| tual Model of the Global International System .   | 159   |
| 1. Force in the Imperialist Model of the Interna-   |       |
| tional System   | 159   |
| 2. International Law in the Imperialist Model of  |       |
| the International System  | 171   |
| 3. The Theoretical Inconsistency of the Imperialist   |       |
| Conceptual Model of the Global International  |       |
| System  | 191   |
| MANAGEMENT OF A STATE | 22.2  |

| Chapter V   |      |
|---|------|
| Law and Force in the Socialist Conceptual Model     | 001  |
| of the International System                         | 201  |
| 1. The Notion of a Socialist Conceptual Model of    | 001  |
| the Global International System                     | 201  |
| 2. The Socialist Concept of International Peace.    | 204  |
| 3. The Socialist Concept of Disarmament             | 210  |
| 4. The Socialist Conception of Peaceful Coexistence | 212  |
| 5. The Equal Rights and Self-Determination of       | 000  |
| Peoples   | 220  |
| 6. International Law in the Socialist Conceptual    | 005  |
| Model of the International System                   | 225  |
| 7. Force in the Socialist Conceptual Model of the   | 000  |
| International System                                | 230  |
| PART III  |      |
|   |      |
| The General Democratic Model of the                 |      |
| Global International System and the                 |      |
| Functioning of the International System             | 236  |
|   |      |
| Chapter VI  |      |
| Law and Force in the General Democratic Model       |      |
| of the Global International System                  | 236  |
| 1. The Notion of a General Democratic Model of      |      |
|   | 026  |
| the Global International System                     | 236  |
| 2. The General Democratic Character of Modern       | 046  |
| General International Law                           |      |
| 3. The General Democratic Concept of Peace          | 242  |
| 4. The General Democratic Concept of Peaceful       |      |
| Coexistence of States with Different Social Sys-    | 046  |
| tems  | 240  |
| 5. The General Democratic Character of Universal    | 051  |
| International Organisations                         | 201  |
| Chanter VII   |      |
| Chapter VII   |      |
| Law and Force in the Functioning of the Inter-      | wa e |
| national System                                     | 255  |

| 1. | The Notion of a Normal Functioning of the  |        |
|----|--|--------|
|    | International System   | 255    |
| 2. | Modern Power Politics and the Functioning of                                       |        |
|    | the International System   | 257    |
|    | (1) Orientation on Force and on an Arms Race                                       | 258    |
|    | (2) Hegemonism   | 267    |
|    | (3) Intervention in Internal Affairs   | 272    |
|    | (4) Rejection of Peaceful Coexistence and  |        |
|    | Orientation on Confrontation and Anti-   |        |
|    | Communism  | 276    |
|    | (5) Neo-Colonialism  | 285    |
| 3. | The Politics of Force and the Science of In-                                       |        |
|    |  | 288    |
|    | (1) The Unsoundness of the Concept that Mod-                                       |        |
|    | ern International Law Is "Classical" In-   |        |
|    | ternational Law  | 289    |
|    | (2) The Concept that the Principle of the Non-                                     |        |
|    | Use of Force or Threat of Force Does Not   |        |
|    | Exist, or Else Is Inoperative  | 293    |
|    | (3) Neglecting the Principle of the Non-Use of                                     |        |
|    | Force and Threat of Force  | 301    |
| 4. | The Policy of Peace and Peaceful Coexistence                                       |        |
|    | and the Functioning of the International System                                    | 307    |
|    | (1) Ensuring International Peace and Security                                      |        |
|    | and Disarmament  | 309    |
|    | (a) The Struggle of the USSR for Peace   |        |
|    | and Disarmament  | 309    |
|    | (b) The Growth of the Soviet Union's Mil-  | 010    |
|    | itary Might and International Law .  | 312    |
|    | (c) The Principle of Equality and Equal  | 017    |
|    | Security   | 317    |
|    | (d) Renouncing First Use of Nuclear Arms   | 320    |
|    | (2) Strengthening Fraternal Co-operation with                                      | 201    |
|    | Other Socialist Countries  | 321    |
|    | (3) The Policy of Peaceful Coexistence of States                                   | 324    |
|    | with Different Social Systems  | 141    |
|    | (4) Supporting the Struggle of Peoples for National Liberation and Social Progress | 326    |
|    | Holiai Liberation and Bociai Hogress   | 1 60 W |

| (5) The Policytageous Co-cordance wi | ope | rat | ion | W | ith | A | 11 5 | Sta | tes | in | A  | C- |     |
|--|-----|-----|-----|---|-----|---|------|-----|-----|----|----|----|-----|
| Law  |     |     |     |   |     |   |      |     |     |    |    |    | 329 |
| Subject Index                                | ¥   | *   | ÷   |   | ×   | ٠ |      | ě   | •   | ×  | 9  |    | 330 |
| Name Index                                   | (*) |     | #: |   | *   |   | ď,   |     |     | ÷  | *: | w  | 336 |
|  |     |     |     |   |     |   |      |     |     |    |    |    |     |

Foreword

The age-long problem concerning the relationship of law and force in international relations has acquired special importance in the context of today's exacerbated international tensions and increased threat of war, when "the very existence of human civilisation and possibly life on Earth are at stake."

While that problem is being studied by many sciences, it concerns above all the science of international relations and of international law. Unfortunately, they are divided by a substantial gap. Specialists in international relations study the different factors that influence them, but generally exclude international law. For their part lawyers specialising in international law make insufficient use of the results achieved by the science of international relations.

Yet a need has now clearly emerged for a complex, integrative approach, particularly with regard to the cardinal problem concerning the relation of law and force. As Academician B. M. Kedrov has noted, "the differentiation of sciences is now becoming not only a condition for their integration but also a component element of this integration.... In short, in that particular context scientific progress currently represents an integral unity of opposite tendencies—differentiation and integration of scientific knowledge, each of these tendencies being only one side of the single process of development of scientific knowledge."<sup>2</sup>

&lt;sup>1</sup> "Appeal of the All-Union Conference of Scientists for Freeing Humankind from the Threat of a Nuclear War, for Disarmament, and Peace", Pravda, 20 May, 1983.

Knowledge of international life requires not only a growing number of disciplines that study its individual aspects and express a tendency towards science differentiation, but also an interdisciplinary, systems approach. Academician G. M. Gvishiani notes: "Expressing integrative tendencies in modern scientific knowledge, the systems approach orients special disciplines on achieving an integral, synthetic vision of complex objects studied." At the same time—and this is quite important—"without claiming the philosophical generality of its conclusions, the systems approach represents a connecting link between general philosophical methodology and the methodologies of special sciences."

The present work is an attempt to apply an integrative, systems approach to studying an impor-

&lt;sup>2</sup> B. M. Kedrov, Klassifikatsiya nauk (A Classification of Sciences), Vol. I, Moscow, 1961, p. 14.

<sup>3</sup> G. M. Gvishiani, "Teoretiko-metodologicheskiye

&lt;sup>3</sup> G. M. Gvishiani, "Teoretiko-metodologicheskiye osnovaniya sistemnykh issledovany i razrabotka problem globalnogo razvitiya" (Theoretico-Methodological Foundations of Systems Studies and the Elaboration of Problems of Global Development). In: Sistemniye issledovaniya. Metodologicheskiye problemy. Yezhegodnik (Systems Studies. Methodological Problems. Yearbook), Moscow, 1982, p. 13.

Ibid.