

Sexual Orientation and The Law

---

2013-2014 Edition
VOLUME 1

Karen Moulding
National Lawyers Guild

THOMSON REUTERS
WESTLAW

SEXUAL ORIENTATION AND THE LAW

by Karen Moulding

in conjunction with

National Lawyers Guild
Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual Rights Committee

Volume 1

THOMSON REUTERS™

For Customer Assistance Call 1-800-328-4880

Mat #41291644

© 2013 Thomson Reuters

This publication was created to provide you with accurate and authoritative information concerning the subject matter covered; however, this publication was not necessarily prepared by persons licensed to practice law in a particular jurisdiction. The publisher is not engaged in rendering legal or other professional advice and this publication is not a substitute for the advice of an attorney. If you require legal or other expert advice, you should seek the services of a competent attorney or other professional.

ISBN 978-0-31461-162-8

---

About the Editors

---

Karen Moulding (Editor since 1993, and Author of Chapter 1, Raising Children and the New Family Law; Chapter 2, Same-Sex Marriage, Civil Unions and Other Protections for Couples; Chapter 14, Criminal Justice; and Section 5:24, “The limits of sexual categories exposed,” 5:25, “When desire transcends ‘category,’ ” and 5:26, “The ‘bisexual exemption’ to Title VII liability” in Chapter 5, Employment Law) is a graduate of Columbia University School of Law. She served as Judicial Clerk for the New Jersey Supreme Court. She is former chair of the National Lawyers Guild Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual Rights Committee, and was Coordinating Attorney for the International Gay Games IV and Stonewall 25 in New York in 1994. Currently in private practice in New York, concentrating in matrimonial and family law, Moulding has worked as a public defender for the Legal Aid Society of New York, a volunteer attorney for ACT UP/New York, and in private practice with Adria S. Hillman. Also a writer, Moulding earned an MFA in Fiction from Columbia University in 2000, and is the author of several novels, including most recently “The Untrainable Heart.”

---

About the Contributors

---

Roberta Achtenberg (original Editor and creator of Sexual Orientation and the Law) serves as a Commissioner on the United States Commission on Civil Rights for the administration of President Barack Obama. She served as Assistant Secretary of the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development for the administration of President Bill Clinton, becoming the first openly lesbian or gay public official whose appointment to a federal position was confirmed by the United States Senate. She has served on the Board of Supervisors for the City and County of San Francisco. Active for many years as a civil rights attorney, Achtenberg is the former Directing Attorney for the National Center for Lesbian Rights, and former Dean of the New College of California School of Law.

Sharon Alexander (co-author of 2005 and 2007 updates to Chapter 7, Military and Veterans) is Counsel for Law & Policy at the Servicemembers Legal Defense Network (SLDN). She holds a J.D. and M.A. from the University of Colorado, and has published in the Georgetown Journal of Gender and Law, the Texas Forum on Civil Liberties and Civil Rights, and the Colorado Journal of International Environmental Law and Policy. She was McCleary Law Fellow for the Human Rights Campaign. She taught at American University's Washington College of Law, and serves on the board of directors for the Gay and Lesbian Attorneys of Washington. A U.S. Army veteran, she was commissioned a second lieutenant in 1993. Her awards and decorations include a Meritorious Service Medal, the Army Commendation Medal, and the Expert Field Medic Badge.

Monica Barrett (contributor to 1997 update to Chapter 5, Employment) has a B.A. from Wellesley College and a J.D.

CONTRIBUTORS

from the University of Michigan. She has practiced law in New York and New Jersey, and is Employment and Labor Counsel for Rutgers University. Monica is an active member of the NLG Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual Rights Committee.

Claudia Bernard (co-author of Chapter 16, HIV Testing) is a graduate of the University of California Hastings College of Law. She is a member of the Anti-Sexism Committee of the San Francisco Bay Area Chapter of the National Lawyers Guild and of Bay Area Lawyers for Individual Freedom. She served as a law clerk to a federal magistrate.

Joseph Best (co-author of 2007 update to Chapter 15, "Representing Clients with AIDS") is a law student and public interest scholar at Villanova Law School. Prior to law school, he was an AIDS activist and worked in advocacy, prevention and research administration for the Laboratory of Epidemiology at the New York Blood Center. He worked at the Gay Mens Health Crisis from 1992 to 1996. After law school, he plans to concentrate in asylum, immigration, and housing work.

Katherine A. Bourdonnay (author of Chapter 7, Military and Veterans) is an attorney in private practice in Seattle, specializing in military law. She is chairperson of the Draft Committee of the ACLU-Washington, and formerly served as Director of Military Counselling at the San Diego Gay Center.

Teresa Bright (co-author of Chapter 8, Immigration) is an attorney in private practice with the Law Offices of Marc Van Der Hout in San Francisco, specializing in immigration and naturalization law. She is active in the National Lawyers Guild Immigration Committee.

Kristine Burr (author of Chapter 6, State Initiatives) is an attorney in private practice in Portland, Oregon. Her practice emphasizes employment law, criminal defense and general civil litigation. She is a 1994 graduate of Lewis and Clark Law School of Northwestern University. She is Vice-Chair of the NLG Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual Rights Committee.

Patricia Cain (author of Chapter 3, Federal Tax, and Chapter 4, Death, Incapacity and Illness) is the Inez Mabie

SEXUAL ORIENTATION AND THE LAW

Distinguished Professor of Law at Santa Clara University and the Aliber Family Chair in Law, Emeritus, University of Iowa. She is a graduate of Vassar College (A.B.) and the University of Georgia (J.D.). A member of the American Law Institute (ALI), American College of Trust and Estate Counsel (ACTEC), and former board member of Lambda Legal Defense and Education Fund, she is a former co-president (with Jean Love) of the Society of American Law Teachers (SALT). She is currently serving as Treasurer of SALT. Professor Cain teaches courses in federal taxation, wills and estates, property, feminist legal theory, and sexuality and the law. She has published many articles, book chapters and books, including Rainbow Rights: The Role of Lawyers and Courts In the Lesbian and Gay Civil Rights Movement (Westview Press 2000) and Sexuality Law, Second Edition (with Arthur S. Leonard) (Carolina Academic Press 2009). She also authors a blog called Same Sex Tax Law at <http://law.scu.edu/blog/samesextax/>.

Elizabeth C. Callaway (author of Chapter 2, Property and Cohabitation Agreements) is an attorney in private practice in Oakland, California, specializing in the legal relations of cohabitants, protective documents for unmarried couples, and real property. She is Chairperson of the Board of Directors of Operation Concern, a lesbian and gay counselling program.

Matthew Coles (author of Chapter 8, Consumer Goods, Services and Accommodations) is a staff attorney with the ACLU Foundation of Northern California. He is a Visiting Lecturer at the University of California at Berkeley, Graduate School of Public Policy. He was the primary drafter of lesbian and gay rights ordinances in Berkeley, San Francisco, Oakland and Los Angeles.

Cathleen Connealy (author of updates to Chapter 3, Federal Taxes) practices law in Kansas City, Missouri, as a partner in the firm of Slough, Connealy, Irwin and Madden. She received her J.D. in 1976 and LL.M. in 1979 from the University of Missouri at Kansas City. Her practice is largely devoted to tax, and lesbians and gay men constitute a substantial part of her practice. She is on the board of Kansas City's Human Rights Project, and is a member of the National Lawyers Guild, and the NLG Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual Rights Committee.

Dayna F. Deck (author of 1992 update to Chapter 14) is the Director of Legal Services at St. Louis Effort For AIDS. She provides legal services to people who are HIV-positive and recruits and trains attorneys to provide pro bono legal services. She is also on the national board of the National Abortion Rights Action League and the Steering Committee of the Missouri Task Force for Lesbian and Gay Concerns.

Paul Devine (contributor to Chapter 13, Representing Clients with AIDS or HIV) received his J.D. degree from St. Louis University School of Law.

Robert DiPierro (contributor to 1993 update to Chapter 7, Immigration) is an attorney in private practice in New York City specializing in immigration law. He has served on the Bar Association for Human Rights and the Lesbian and Gay Law Association, as a Member of the Board of Directors, as Co-Chair of the Pro Bono Committee, and as Co-Chair of the Education Committee. He has worked with Lambda Legal Defense and Education Fund as a cooperating attorney on immigration matters, and has been a frequent contributor to its immigration law publications.

Mary D. Dorman (author of 1995 update to Chapter 5, Employment) is an attorney in private practice in New York City. Her areas of expertise include employment discrimination as well as civil rights in general. She is General Counsel and Board Member of the National Campaign for Freedom of Expression.

Mary Dunlap (author of Chapter 5, Employment, and co-author of Chapter 11, First Amendment) was co-founder of Equal Rights Advocates in San Francisco. She litigated numerous major lesbian-gay rights cases, including the "Gay Olympics" case before the U.S. Supreme Court. Beginning in 1996, she headed San Francisco's Office of Citizen Complaints. She taught law school courses on sex discrimination, lesbian and gay rights, and privacy at Golden Gate University Law School, Hastings College of Law, Stanford Law School, and the University of San Francisco Law School. An invaluable advocate for lesbian-gay-bisexual rights, and a beloved member of our community, she passed away in January 2003 at her home in San Francisco at the age of 54.

Paula Ettelbrick (author of 1993 update to Chapter 1, Family Law) is former Director of Public Policy for the National Center for Lesbian Rights, and former Legal Director of Lambda Defense and Education Fund. She has been involved in the litigation of numerous family law cases involving lesbian and gay parents.

Dee Farmer (contributor to §§ 14:26 to 14:29, Problems of Lesbian and Gay Prisoners) has been involved in the litigation of numerous prison issues, and writes about lesbian and gay issues, including AIDS and its effect on the prison system. She is a transsexual who has been confined in federal prison for over seven years.

Peter N. Fowler (contributing author on adult adoption to Chapter 1, Family Law) received his J.D. degree in 1984 from Golden Gate University School of Law. He is former National Co-Chair of the National Gay and Lesbian Task Force; adjunct faculty member and instructor at Golden Gate University School of Law, Hastings College of the Law, and California State University-Hayward; and partner in the law firm of Lilienthal and Fowler, San Francisco.

Teresa Lynn Friend (contributing author on employee fringe benefits to Chapter 5, Employment) received her J.D. degree in 1984 from Boalt Hall, University of California at Berkeley. She served as Legal Intern with the Lesbian Rights Project and co-authored, with Pamela Liberty, Recognizing Lesbian and Gay Families: Strategies for Extending Employment Benefit Coverage (1983).

Kathleen Gilberd (co-author of Chapter 8, Military and Veterans) is a legal worker in San Diego, working in the areas of military administrative law and discharge review. She is the Executive Director of the National Lawyers Guild's Military Law Task Force, Co-Editor of its military law newsletter, On Watch, and a member of the Board of Directors of the national GI Rights Network. With Marjorie Cohn, she is the author of Rules of Disengagement: The Politics and Honor of Military Dissent.

Rhonda B. Goldfein (co-author of 1995, 2007, 2008 and 2009 updates to Chapter 15, “Representing Clients with AIDS”) is Executive Director of the AIDS Law Project of Pennsylvania, the nation’s only independent public-interest law firm dedicated solely to helping people with AIDS and HIV. A nationally recognized advocate for people living with HIV/AIDS, Goldfein is a frequent lecturer and published author on legal issues facing people with HIV/AIDS. A graduate of the University of Miami, she holds a Juris Doctorate from the Shepard Broad Law Center of Nova Southeastern University in Fort Lauderdale, and is admitted to the Bars of Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New York. In 2005 she was voted a “Super Lawyer” in a poll of more than 36,000 Pennsylvania attorneys published by Law & Politics and Philadelphia Magazine. In 2006, she was honored by Philadelphia FIGHT’s Jonathan Lax Treatment Center for chairing FIGHT’s Institutional Review Board, and received a citation from the Pennsylvania House of Representatives noting “her exemplary record of service, in keeping with the highest ideals of this Commonwealth.” Goldfein is a vice president and member of the board of directors of the American Civil Liberties Union of Pennsylvania, and a member of the board of directors of the ACLU’s Philadelphia chapter. In 2007, she was named “Policymaker of the Year” by the Penn Center for AIDS Research, a joint project of the University of Pennsylvania, the Children’s Hospital of Philadelphia and the Wistar Institute.

Jose Gomez (co-author of Chapter 9, First Amendment) is Executive Director of La Raza Centro Legal. He is Co-Chair of the National Gay Task Force Board of Directors and is on the National Board of Directors of the ACLU. His article, “The Public Expression of Lesbian/Gay Personhood as Protected Expression,” was published in 1 Law and Inequality Journal 121 (1983).

Judy Greenspan (contributor to §§ 14:26 to 14:29, Problems of Lesbian and Gay Prisoners) is the former AIDS Information Coordinator of the National ACLU Prison Project. She now works with the Prison Issues Committee of ACT UP/ San Francisco.

Debra E. Guston (author of §§ 4:38 to 4:46, Dying Intestate) is an attorney in private practice in Bergen County, New Jersey. She is a 1988 graduate of Cardozo School of Law, New York City, having earned her B.A. cum laude from Mount Holyoke College and a M.A. from Emerson College. She has served as the President of the Board of Directors of the Bar Association for Human Rights of Greater New York, and is a member of the Board of Directors of the National Lesbian and Gay Law Association.

Margot G. Hagaman (author of Chapter 3, Federal Taxes, and contributing author on taxation aspects to Chapter 4, Death, Incapacity and Illness) has an L.L.M. degree in taxation and conducts a private law practice in San Francisco specializing in tax matters. She is a Member of the Board of the AIDS Fund of San Francisco.

Vivian V. Hammill (co-author of Chapter 17, Employment and AIDS) is a partner at the law firm of Hammill and Wolf, San Francisco, California, specializing in wrongful termination and personal injury litigation. She serves currently on the litigation committees of the National Center for Lesbian Rights and of National Gay Rights Advocates.

Catherine A. Hanssens (co-author of 1995 update to Chapter 15, Representing Clients with HIV/AIDS) is the AIDS Project Director at Lambda Legal Defense and Education Fund in New York. Prior to joining Lambda, she was an attorney with the AIDS Law Project for Pennsylvania, where she created and managed an on-site legal services project focusing on the needs of HIV-infected parents at area health care clinics and hospitals. Her prior experience includes seven years with the New Jersey Department of the Public Advocate, where she specialized in women's health and HIV/AIDS issues in prisons and jails. Her cases there included a successful state-wide challenge to the treatment of prisoners with HIV/AIDS and the only federal court decision recognizing the right of incarcerated women to funded elective abortions.

Susan Hawkins (author of Chapter 15, Representing Clients with AIDS) is supervising patients' rights attorney at the Mental Health Advocacy Project in San Jose, California, specializing in mental health law, and the rights of persons labelled mentally ill. She is primary author of AIDS Practice Manual: A Legal and Educational Guide published by the AIDS Network of the National Lawyers Guild in cooperation with National Gay Rights Advocates. As an “emotional support volunteer” with San Francisco’s Shanti Project, she counsels people with AIDS and their loved ones.

Leslie M. Hill (co-author of the 2005, 2007, and 2010 updates to Chapter 7, Military and Veterans) is a trial attorney with the U.S. Department of Justice and was previously an associate with Arnold & Porter LLP. She is graduate of the University of Maryland School of Law. Ms. Hill previously served in the U.S. Navy’s Civil Engineer Corps on active duty and in the Navy Reserve. The opinions expressed in this treatise are solely and expressly those of the author.

Donna J. Hitchens (author of Chapter 1, Family Law) is Presiding Judge of Juvenile Court in San Francisco, California. She formerly served as Staff Attorney of the ACLU of Northern California, Staff Attorney of Equal Rights Advocates, Directing Attorney of the Lesbian Rights Project, and a Member of the Board of Directors of Lambda Legal Defense and Education Fund. She is author of the Lesbian Mother Litigation Manual (1982) and editor of Lesbian Mothers and Their Children: An Annotated Bibliography of Legal and Psychological Materials (2d ed., 1983).

Rebecca Isaacs (co-author of Chapter 17, Employment and AIDS) received her J.D. degree in 1987 from Hastings College of Law. As a law clerk she helped produce Rights of Disabled Persons Handbook, published by the California Department of Justice. She is active in the Anti-Sexism Task Force of the National Lawyers Guild.

Michael T. Isbell (author of 1994 update to Chapter 17, Employment and AIDS) is director of public policy at Gay Men’s Health Crisis and former director of the AIDS project of Lambda Legal Defense and Education Fund. Isbell received his J.D. degree from Harvard University in 1985. He was formerly in private practice with the New York law firm of Hughes Hubbard & Reed, where he devoted substantial time to HIV-related pro bono litigation. His HIV-related legal work has concerned HIV-infected health care workers, discrimination in health care access, HIV-specific benefit caps and exclusions in self-funded health plans, needle exchange, mandatory HIV testing in the U.S. Job Corps, tuberculosis control, and family law.

SEXUAL ORIENTATION AND THE LAW

Alan J. Jacobs (author of §§ 1:13 to 1:20 on recognition of lesbian and gay families; contributing author to §§ 5:43 to 5:57 on same topic; author of 1991 update to Chapter 8, Immigration) has been associated with Sexual Orientation and the Law since its first publication by Clark Boardman Company. He is a cum laude graduate of New York Law School and a member of the New York and New Jersey Bars.

Courtney Joslin (author of 2002 update to §§ 1:9 and 1:10 in Chapter 1, Family Law) is a Staff Attorney at the National Center for Lesbian Rights, where she concentrates in family law and youth issues. She is a graduate of Harvard Law School and Brown University.

Joseph Creed Kelly (co-author of 2008 update to Chapter 2, “Cohabitation and Same-Sex Marriage”) is a union-side labor attorney in Washington, DC and sits on the Law Committee of the International Alliance of Theatrical and Stage Employees, Local 22. He graduated from the University of the District of Columbia David A. Clarke School of Law, where he served as President of the UDC National Lawyers Guild Chapter.

Jay Kohorn (author of Chapter 13, Criminal Defense) is an attorney in private practice in Los Angeles specializing in criminal defense and constitutional law. He authored the Executive Summary of the Report of the California Commission on Personal Privacy and was formerly editor of the Sexual Law Reporter. He is a member of the American Association for Personal Privacy.

Pamela Liberty (contributing author on employee fringe benefits to Chapter 5, Employment) received her J.D. degree in 1984 from Hastings College of Law. She served as Legal Intern with the Lesbian Rights Project and co-authored, with Teresa L. Friend, Recognizing Lesbian and Gay Families: Strategies for Extending Employment Benefit Coverage (1983).

Kay Madden (author of 1992 update to Chapters 1 and 2) practices law in Kansas City, Missouri, as a partner in the firm of Slough, Connealy, Irwin and Madden. She received her J.D. in 1983 from the University of Missouri at Kansas City. Her practice is largely devoted to family and probate law. She is a member of the National Lawyers Guild.

Noemi E. Masliah (author of 1995 update to Chapter 8, Immigration) is an immigration lawyer in New York City. She is Co-chair of the Board of Lambda Legal Defense and Education Fund.

Shannon Price Minter (Author of Chapter 10, “Representing Transsexual Clients,” and Co-Author of Chapter 2, “Same-Sex Marriage, Civil Unions and Other Protections for Couples” and Chapter 3, “Cohabitation and Property Ownership Agreements”) is the Legal Director of the National Center for Lesbian Rights (NCLR), one of the nation’s leading advocacy organizations for lesbian, gay, bisexual, and transgender (LGBT) people. Minter argued on behalf of same-sex couples in the California Supreme Court in In re Marriage Cases, which held that lesbians and gay men have a fundamental right to marry and that sexual orientation is a suspect classification under the California Constitution. He is the editor of Transgender Rights (Univ. of Minnesota Press, 2006) and co-author of Family Law for Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, and Transgender People (West, 2011). Minter has taught at Boalt, Stanford, Santa Clara, Golden Gate, the University of San Francisco, and Whittier law schools. In 2009, he was named one of California’s Lawyers of the Year by California Lawyer Magazine. In 2008, he was named among six Lawyers of the Year by Lawyers USA and among California’s Top 100 Lawyers by the legal publication The Daily Journal. Minter received his J.D. from Cornell Law School in 1993. He is originally from Texas.

Angela Perone (co-author of 2012 update to Chapter 2 “Same-Sex Marriage, Civil Unions and Other Protections for Couples”) is a staff attorney with the National Center for Lesbian Rights in San Francisco. Angela also serves on the San Francisco Human Rights Commission’s Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual and Transgender Advisory Committee.

Bonnie E. Rabin (author of 1994 update to Chapter 12, “Juveniles”) is a partner of the law firm Cohen, Rabin, Stine and Schumann, LLP in New York City, and former Deputy Attorney-in-Charge of the Juvenile Rights Division’s Manhattan Trial Office of the New York City Legal Aid Society. Ms. Rabin serves on the Board of Directors of Sanctuary for Families, the Juvenile Justice Committee of the Association of the Bar of the City of New York, and an advisory committee to establish legal services for gay and lesbian youth.

Fred Rosenberg (co-author of Chapter 8, Immigration) is an attorney in private practice in San Francisco specializing in immigration, naturalization, and criminal defense law, and is active in the National Lawyers Guild Immigration Committee.

Abby R. Rubinfeld (co-author of Chapter 16, HIV Testing) is in private practice in a small firm in Nashville, Tennessee, where she has a general practice with emphasis on lesbian and gay rights issues. She is Co-Chair of the National Lesbian and Gay Law Association and Co-Chair of the Tennessee Gay and Lesbian Alliance. She is on the governing council of the American Bar Association Section of Individual Rights and Responsibilities. She was the Legal Director of Lambda Legal Defense and Education Fund for five and one-half years. She has written extensively on AIDS issues, including editing a 1991 AIDS Benchbook produced by the National Judicial College. She graduated from Princeton University and Boston University School of Law.

Sarah Schalman-Bergen (co-author of 2009 update to Chapter 15, Representing Clients with HIV/AIDS) joined the AIDS Law Project of Pennsylvania in September, 2007. After working at the AIDS Law Project during her second summer of law school, she was awarded the Shestack Public Interest Fellowship by Wolf, Block, Schorr and Solis-Cohen LLP, a fellowship that allows her to spend half her time litigating at the AIDS Law Project. She is a graduate of Harvard Law School, where she advocated on behalf of HIV positive individuals and helped to organize AIDS Service Organizations on Medicaid and Medicare policy issues. She is the author of “CDC’s Call For Routine HIV Testing Raises Implementation Concerns,” an article published in the Journal of Law, Medicine and Ethics, 2007; 35 (1):223-7.

Mark Scherzer (author of Chapter 18, Insurance and AIDS) is an attorney in private practice in New York City. He holds a J.D. from Yale University. Since 1980, he has advocate to secure the rights to health, life and disability insurance benefits for policyholders and employees. As Legislative Counsel to New Yorkers for Accessible Health Coverage, he has drafted legislation and served on public commissions to implement insurance reforms. In 1992 he was awarded Lambda Legal Defense's Liberty Award and the Lesbian and Gay Law Association's Community Service Award for his work on groundbreaking insurance cases involving HIV/AIDS.

Heidi J. Schmid (author of the 2003 update to Chapter 3, Federal Taxes, and co-author of the 2003 update to Chapter 4, Death, Incapacity and Illness) is an Associate in the Employee Benefits Group at Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton & Garrison LLP in New York City. She holds a J.D. from Cardozo School of Law, where she served as Editor-in-Chief of the Cardozo Journal of International and Comparative Law. She also holds an L.L.M. in Taxation from Georgetown University, and served as a law clerk for the Joint Committee on Taxation in Washington, D.C. She clerked for Judge Walter E. Webster, Jr., at the Washington State Court of Appeals in Seattle in 2001.

Carole B. Shaffer (co-author of Chapter 12, Juveniles) is Staff Attorney of the Youth Law Center in San Francisco and specializes in juvenile law and federal civil rights practice. She is former Staff Attorney of the ACLU of Louisiana.

Arthur Simon (co-author of Chapter 8, Immigration) is an attorney in private practice in San Francisco. He specializes in immigration and naturalization matters, and in tax-exempt organization law. He is Chairperson of the Board of Directors of the Capp Street Foundation and is active in the National Lawyers Guild Immigration Committee.

Jena Simonds (co-author of the 2008 update to Chapter 15, "Representing Clients with AIDS") is a student at Temple University School of Law. Prior to attending law school she worked for the Association of Community Organizations for Reform Now (ACORN) and the Defenders Association of Philadelphia. Upon graduation, she plans to continue working in the public interest field.

Lavi S. Soloway (co-author of Chapter 8, Immigration) is an immigration lawyer in New York City. He is National Coordinator of the Lesbian and Gay Immigration Rights Task Force.

Janice Stone (author of Chapter 4, Death, Incapacity and Illness) is a Los Angeles attorney in private practice, specializing in decedents' estate administration, estate planning, conservatorships, and property agreements.

Michael K. Swirsky (author of 1994, 1998, 2006 and 2012 updates to Chapter 17, "HIV Testing") is an attorney in New York City. Swirsky has worked for many years in the Appeals and Litigation Unit of the New York State Division of Human Rights. A graduate of Columbia University and Brooklyn Law School, he is an AIDS activist who participated in the HIV Testing and Disclosure Issues Working Group of ACT-UP/New York in the 1990s. The views he expresses do not necessarily reflect those of his employer.

Mary Sylvester (co-author of the 2010 update to Chapter 7, Military and Veterans) is a law clerk for a U.S. District Judge for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania. Mary Sylvester was previously an associate with Arnold & Porter LLP. She is a graduate of the University of Maryland School of Law. The opinions expressed in this treatise are solely those of the author.

Amy Todd-Gher (author of the 2011 update to Chapter 5, Employment) specializes in employment litigation and has practiced with prestigious national law firms, including Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati ("WSGR") in its California and New York offices. In 2009, after Proposition 8 passed and eliminated the right of same-sex couples to marry in California, Amy joined the National Center for Lesbian Rights ("NCLR") as Senior Staff Attorney. NCLR is a prominent national legal advocacy organization that works to advance the civil and human rights of lesbian, gay, bisexual, and transgender people. During Amy's time with