Acknowledgments

The authors wish to acknowledge that in the writing of this casebook we have been assisted by many people. Of course, the errors are entirely our own.

Acknowledgments By Kimberly A. Moore

I would like to give special thanks to the support given to me by George Mason University School of Law in the preparation of these materials. In particular, I would like to recognize the contributions of Martin S. Sulsky and Maryann T. Puglielli, who performed extensive research and proofread this casebook. Finally, I would like to thank my spouse, Matthew J. Moore, a patent attorney at Howrey & Simon, for sharing in this endeavor with me. He contributed substantively to many of the chapters and has been my greatest resource in the completion of this text.

Acknowledgments By Ray Lupo

I wish to acknowledge several individuals at my law firm who provided great assistance to me in connection with my co-authoring activities. First, Wendy Weinburger performed extensive research and analysis and helped organize and draft several of the chapters. I also wish to acknowledge the considerable work done by Debbie Johnson who prepared the materials drafted by me. I also wish to thank Donna Tanguay, my partner and Co-Professor at George Washington University Law School, who generously shared her teaching materials for our Patent Enforcement course. Lastly, I wish to acknowledge the contributions of my partners, Jack Lever, Mark Davis and Brian Ferguson who also gave advice and contributed materials for consideration.
